Washington—P—Back stairs at the White House.

A well-known broadcaster provoked some hearty laughs with a bit of ancient Scot law he unearthed and showed around the White House.

Porter To Give Major Address In Puerto Rico

Washington, D. C. — Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) announced this week that he will fly to the island of Puerto Rico tonight. He and his administrative assistant, Jack Billings, will be guests of the governor of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Luis Muñoz-Martin, over the week end, returning to the nation's capital on Sunday, June 9.

While in San Juan, Puerto Rican capital, Porter will deliver a major address before a meeting of the Puerto Rican Newspaper association Friday night and is also scheduled to appear at a rally of Dominican Republic exiles on Saturday. His trip to the island commonwealth is in connection with the current investigation by the congressman into the disappearance last December in the Dominican Republic of his constituent, Gerry Murphy of Eugene, The Dominican Republic is located on an island only a short distance from Puerto Rico.

Indirect Policy

The main theme of Porter's talks to Puerto Rico audiences will be that misdirected foreign policy of the United States in regard to the "two-bit dictatorships" of Latin America has led to a political climate in the Caribbean area in which the Murphy-Galindez case could occur. He will propose a change in this policy to the extent that the United States will continue proper and correct relations with dictatorial countries, but will not be unduly friendly with them nor offer them military or economic aid. The present policy, Porter claims, has led to a considerable loss of prestige for the United States among the democracies of Latin America. He maintains that in the global cold war the United States is "losing the battle for men's minds by our failure to adopt a high moral standard in dealing with tyranny in all forms, not just the form we know as Communism."

Porter also announced this week that he has an official invitation from the President of Costa Rica, Jose Figueres, to visit that country as a guest of President Figueres during the week end following the Puerto Rican trip. The congressman has cleared the invitation with the Department of State and has notified President Figueres of his acceptance.

course one recent afternoon, John Edwards of the American Broadcasting Company strolled into the White House lobby and displayed a 1699 edition of "Regiam Majestatem, the Auld Lawes and Constitutions of Scotland" by Sir John Skene.

In the ancient law book was this admonition for the Scots who, after all, invented the game of golf:

"No man should play at the golfe, nor at the futball under the paine of fifty shillings because they are esteemed to be unprofitable sports for the common gude of the realm and defence thereof."

Observed one White House staff member, "Sir John Skene lived too soon. He would have made a fine staff member for the Democratic Digest."

Commenting on last Monday's cold chicken and potato salad party at Capitol Hill for the President and 200 Republican House members, a sage political observer said, "The way to a man's vote is through his stomach."

Eisenhower obviously believes similarly. He plans to have all GOP members of the House and Senate to a series of early morning White House buffet breakfasts, beginning next week.

Persons unfamiliar with the ways of Washington might be somewhat surprised that a president would attempt to spread political joy and gospel at 8

Telephone Calls Save Man's Life

Palo Alto, Calif. — Two quick telephone calls from Pittsburgh were credited today with thwarting the suicide attempt of a young Lockheed aircraft worker separated from his wife.

Howard Beatty, 23, telephoned his friend Byron Painter, 30, of Pittsburgh, Wednesday to talk to him for the "last time."

Just before he hung up Beatty said he was going to commit suicide by slashing his wrists.

Painter immediately called Beatty's wife, Janice, in Los Angeles and learned that Beatty was staying at the Holiday Inn, about 50 miles south of San Francisco.

A second quick call to Mountain View police sent an emergency squad rushing to the inn. There, police found Beatty with his wrists slashed and they rushed him to Palo Alto hospital.

Dr. Alec S. MacKenzie said Beatty was "upset and needs psychiatric care."

"I think he cut his wrists to attract attention and sympathy from his estranged wife," MacKenzie said.

The doctor said Beatty had slashed his wrists the previous night "but didn't do much damage."

Naples, Italy — Naples movie houses, hit hard by the competition of television, have announced there would be no more showings on Wednesday.

Roosevelts Bruised In Plane Accident

Fort Scott, Kan. —P—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and his pilot brother, Elliott, were bruised Wednesday when their light plane hit a fence on takeoff from the Fort Scott Airport.

Neither was seriously injured. Elliott Roosevelt said the plane developed a brake drag and was slowed by a puddle of water on the wet runway. When he saw takeoff was impossible, he said, he cut the engine.

The Beechcraft Bonanza, a four-passenger plane, was damaged in the nose and wings. Two passengers, James Smith Jr., manager of Franklin Roosevelt's ranch near Poughquag, N.Y., and D. W. Chittenden, executive secretary of the American Polled Hereford association, were also unharmed.

Elliott is in the cattle business at Meeker, Colo.

The John Eisenhowers will continue to live in their Army quarters at nearby Fort Belvoir until the President's son goes on duty July 20 in a new assignment at the Pentagon.

This naturally has led to the question of whether the John Eisenhowers and their four children will move into the White House while the young major is on Pentagon duty. As far as residence in the executive mansion for an extended period of time is concerned, the answer seems to be no.

The young Eisenhowers are expected to find a house near the Pentagon, probably still in Virginia.
