Ceremony In Eugene Weds Pair

Central Point—Of interest to friends of the Gebhard family is news of the wedding of Miss Lenore Carol King to Lt. Vernon LeRoy Gebhard, United States Air Force. The ceremony took place May 9 in University Street Church of Christ, Eugene, Ore., and the newlyweds will live in San Angelo, Tex., following the bride's graduation from Oregon State college this month.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard F. King, Eugene, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gebhard, Central Point.

The Rev. Leo Woodruff performed the double-ring ceremony. Soloist was Miss Betty Perrine and Miss Patricia McCoy played the organ.

The bride's gown was of white raw silk and Alencon lace embroidered with pearls and sequins. The bodice was fashioned with an Italian neckline and the skirt ended in a chapel length train. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle was held by a pearl tiara and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, valley lilies and Elfe roses.

Mrs. Lyle Defrees, matron-of-honor, wore a blue taffeta sheath frock with a cummerbund and back panel of Italian lace. Her flowers were valley lilies and pink carnations.

Other attendants were Mrs. Jon Roth, Mrs. Marvin Ringsdorf, Miss Lois Stittner and Mrs. Eugene Tenney. Their frocks of various shades of blue were styled similar to that worn by the honor attendant and they carried pink carnations and lily-of-the-valley.

The flower girl, Shalene Dwyer, wore a dress of white organdy over pink taffeta with a white lace hat. Bruce Tysell was ring bearer.

The Misses Alice Stiles and Carla Norman lighted the candles.

Lyle Defrees was best man and ushers were Norman McDonald, Salem; Roger King, brother of the bride from Eugene; Jerry Johnson, Pasadena, Calif.; Brent Fifer, Corvallis, and Loren and Kenneth Gebhard, brothers of the bridegroom from Central Point.

The reception was held in the church parlors. Pouring and assisting were Mrs. Roy Niederhiser, Mrs. Frank Caddy, Mrs. Vern Anibal, Miss Florence Stacy, Miss Barbara Cox, Miss Marjorie Metzger, Miss Marilyn Anibal, Miss Jan Attig, and Mrs. Robert Wright.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon on the Oregon coast and later Lieutenant Gebhard reported for duty at Goodfellow Air Base, San Angelo. He was graduated from Oregon State college in 1936.

Visitors Leaving For East Monday

Jacksonville — Mr. and Mrs. Burmeister, Jr. and daughters, Dorothy and Linda, expect to return by plane Monday to Bellmore, N.Y., after spending a week with Mr. Burmeister's parents in Jacksonville and with his sister, Mrs. Frank Mitchell, also Jacksonville.

Mr. Burmeister is a sales representative in New York of the Cramer Posture Chair company, Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Burmeister are former residents of Medford, where he was an insurance salesman eleven years ago. He is retiring July 1, and the Burmeisters will live on their farm in Pennsylvania.

The family enjoyed fishing while in southern Oregon. They reported the coincidence of the air line stewardess on their trip west also having the name of Burmeister.

Miss Isobel Carr Philip G Johnson To Marry in Fall

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Carr, 16 Florence avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Isobel, to Philip G. Johnson Jr., Oswego, Ore. He is a son of Mrs. Philip G. Johnson, Seattle, Wash., and the late Mr. Johnson.

Miss Carr was graduated from Medford schools and Southern Oregon college, Ashland, where she was active in campus affairs and a member of the student council. For the past school year she has been on the staff of the Lake Oswego, Ore., schools.

Mr. Johnson, a graduate of Seattle university, is an industrial engineer with Crown Zellerbach corporation at West Linn, Ore.

The wedding will take place September 21 in Sacred Heart church here.

Miss Carr's school will close June 14 and she will travel to Victoria, B.C., for a vacation, returning to Medford later to spend the summer with her family here. En route home she will be a guest of Mrs. Johnson in Seattle.

Travelers Return After Stay Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fairweather and daughter, Miss Chloe Fairweather, have returned to their home on Dark Hollow road after a stay in Europe.

Miss Fairweather was abroad for many months, spending most of her time in Italy. She at first enrolled for three months at the University for Foreigners in Perugia to study the Italian language, and then went to Rome.

There she attended Parioli, a language school, for a time, and coached Italians in the English language. Last fall Miss Fairweather enrolled in the University of Rome, taking all her courses in Italian. She studied in the school of arts and letters, taking languages, history, Italian literature and art.

The Fairweathers joined their daughter last winter, and after leaving Italy, traveled in England and Scotland to visit Mr. Fairweather's relatives. In London they met Lt. Robert Gray of Medford, currently on duty at Oxford, England, and spent several hours with the officer.

Mrs. Herbert Tilley Home From Trip East

Mrs. Herbert Tilley, 115 West Ninth street, Medford, has returned to her home after a trip south and east. She visited her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mason, and their daughter, Terry in Hawthorne, Calif. From there she visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Tilley, and son, Allen, in Pasadena, Calif., before leaving for New York City and Boston.

On her return trip she visited friends in Bloomington, Ill.
