Wheat Acreage Allotments Mailed

1958 wheat acreage allotments and marketing quotas were mailed to 165 wheat producing farms in Jackson county Friday.

There were 1,548 acres of allotment distributed to these farms based on past wheat history of each individual farm. Farmers receiving these notices will find their allotment has been increased approximately 13 per cent above the 1957 allotment. This is due to an increase in Jackson county's portion of the state allotment of 816,443 acres, it was explained. This acreage represents the state's share of the national 55 million acre allotment.

Since the state's allotment exceeds 25,000 acres, Oregon is included in the "commercial wheat area", to which marketing quotas and acreage allotments apply.
