

'Don't Fight Him--Join Him' Wife of Golf 'Pro' Advises

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Correspondent
New York — Hubby leaving you at the sink while he's on the links? "Don't fight him, join him," said Mrs. Jimmy Thomson, wife of the veteran golfer "pro."

Mrs. Thomson, 42, a native of Pasadena, Calif., said this not only will prevent golf widowhood, it will improve the feminine figure.

"Golf builds muscles, but only in the right places," she added. Mrs. Thomson concedes that at present she isn't following her own advice. She is a golf widow while her husband, who won several tournaments including the Melbourne Centenary, is in Toledo, Ohio, for the $30,000 National open.

She explained that two small children—Carol, 8, and Jimmy Jr., 4—keep her both off the tournament circuit and off the courses near the couple's home at Garden City, N.Y. But only until the children get a little older.

New Trend
Apparently more wives are following Mrs. Thomson's advice.

The National Golf Foundation, Chicago, said the number of women players has shown a "sizeable increase" in recent years. It estimated there are 650,000 women who play at least 10 times a year; probably 100,000 more who play less frequently.

But this is a small percentage of the estimated 5 million golfing devotees.

"I took up golf in self-defense" said the attractive Mrs. Thomson. "Jimmy gave me my first lessons. But one day when he lost his patience and shouted, 'Hit the bloody thing!' I changed my mind."

Her husband, 49, still plays professional golf, although he is not in the National Open, and travels the tournament circuit as a representative of Spaulding sports equipment.

Plenty of Caddies
Many wives accompany their husbands, even with their tots in tow, Mrs. Thomson said. Others do as she currently is doing—keeping busy with house and garden.

Mrs. Thomson said in the 11 years of her marriage, she has seen tournaments in most parts of the United States, in Canada and Hawaii. The travel is the pleasant part she said.

"And of course, seeing your husband move into that charmed circle... winning the money helps," she added.

Most difficult part of being married to a pro golfer: The food along the way.

"Golfers and wives have to have cast iron stomachs. I used to say I'd learned to eat everything including strings and buttons."

"So many roadside restaurants have Queen Anne fronts and Mary Ann backs."

Newlands Honored At Supper Party; To Leave Medford

Honoring the Robert Newlands, a no host patio supper was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Mansfield, 1615 Crater Lake avenue, last Friday evening. The Newlands are leaving Medford to reside in Eugene, where Mr. Newland will be vice principal of the new North Eugene High school. Present at the supper were Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn and Gary, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Gallant and Michael, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simcox, Karen, and Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, Terry, Kim and Annie, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wootton and David, Mr. and Mrs. John Mansfield and Dave, Norman Neathammer, Mr. and Mrs. Newland, Carol, Candy and Bobbie.

A gift of a chef's set for barbequeing was presented to the Newlands.

Governor Speaks For Girls' State; Delegates Named

Salem—Medford's three representatives to Oregon Girls' State, being held this week in Salem under the sponsorship of the American Legion auxiliary, heard Governor Robert D. Holmes speak today. Election of a Girls' State governor was slated for this morning at a meeting to be held in the House of Representatives, with the governor's talk to be part of her inaugural.

Medford's representatives are Miss Joan Laurila of 1263 South Peach street, and Miss Nancy Adams, 2917 Fairview place, both students at Medford Senior High school, and Miss Judy Hout, 324 North Front street, student at St. Mary's school.

Another speaker during the week long Girls' State program will be Justice William M. McAllister, formerly a Medford attorney. He will speak about the judicial branch of the state government.

Secretary of State Mark Hatfield will explain Oregon laws for women and Mrs. Joy Hill Gubser, assistant superintendent of public instruction, will talk on "What of Teaching?"

About 250 girls from all parts of Oregon are attending the mythical state this week. They assume the duties of citizens by electing their own city, county and state officials, also state senators and representatives in accordance with Oregon law. They set up their own city and county government, introduce, debate and pass bills in their own legislature and conduct court sessions.

The waxed wrapper from a loaf of bread will do a good job of polishing nickel on kitchen ranges, said the Alabama Extension Service. It also will work on the tea kettle.

chapter plan to attend the state convention to be held at Salem June 20-22.

Portland Woman Contest Winner

New York — Mrs. William Bishop, an Oxnard, Calif., housewife and part time secretary who has been sewing for 20 years, today won the $25,000 top prize in the second annual Singer "Sew-Off."

Mrs. Bishop, a pretty brunette and mother of two small boys, promptly burst into tears and said she had "no idea" how she would spend the money. Earlier, she had said if she won the money would be "spent on the family for their happiness."

Second prize of $10,000 went to Mrs. Marguerite Rasmussen, 40, of Portland, Ore., who has been sewing for 26 years. She makes home decorations such as curtains, slip covers and clothes for herself, her husband and five-year old daughter, Linda Sue.

It is the second year a Portland seamstress has been in the big money. Mrs. J. Lorein Doss last year took the grand prize.

Placing third in the contests, which carries total prize money of $125,000, was Mrs. Harry Chooljian, of ew Rochelle, N.Y., who has been sewing at home for 10 years.

Tryouts Planned By Footlighters

Medford Footlighters will hold an open house party and begin tryouts for its annual summer show at the Fairgrounds theater Monday, June 17, beginning at 8 o'clock, according to Mrs. Max Wimmer, president. The general public, and all interested in acting or any other phase of theater production, are invited to attend and participate, she said.

The play, to be presented in the Fairgrounds Theater in July, will be "Mr. Angel," a three-act comedy-fantasy, by Harry Segall, author of "Heaven Can Wait" and other Broadway hits. It has a cast of 13, with 5 men, 8 women and a very precocious child of around 10 to 12, said Mrs. Wimmer.

Tryouts for the play will be concluded on Tuesday evening, also beginning at eight o'clock, and final selection of the cast will be made. Frank Buchter, long active in local civic theater work as well as Shakespearean drama, will direct the summer production.

CAP Cadets to Camp Out This Weekend

A group of 20 cadets and seniors from the local Civil Air Patrols squadron will spend this weekend in the mountains of the Lost Lake area.

The trip is the first of several planned in the summer ground rescue training program. H. A. Valentine, head of outside activities, will be in charge.

The squadron will leave Medford at 7 a.m. Saturday and return Sunday evening. When the program is completed in September, the group will be divided into teams available for search and rescue work in cooperation with local law enforcement agencies.

Making Trip
Making the Lost Lake trip will be cadets Bob Greer, Mike Hartley, Ken Baker, James Valentine, Max Goucher, Rod Hanley, Tom Dorsey, Jerry Kesterson, Mary Daniels, Ann McManama, Phyllis Hagle, Donna Dell, Sharon Miller, and Carmen Valentine; also seniors Frank Hanley, Bette Miller, Joyce Williams, Jane Daniels, Arnold Widner and H. A. Valentine. Miss Miller is the squadron first aid instructor.

At the last meeting of the squadron, June 10, a military inspection was held and Lt. Don Wilson was named new commanding officer pro-tem. Inspecting the group were Col. Charles Chick, wing commander from Portland, and Air Force officers Maj. Walter Lamb and M-Sgt Bert Marpaux, both of Portland.

Girl Scouts Give Dinner

Girl Scout Troop 13, fifth grade, entertained the parents and families with a program and a buffet patio dinner at the home of the leader, Mrs. W. H. Roberts, Saturday evening, June 8.

The flag ceremony was held, with orders being called by Mrs. Patrick W. Kilby, assistant leader. A skit was given by Wilda Bledsoe, Anne Isaccs, Maureen Kilby and Pamela Roberts to illustrate the Girl Scout laws. Group singing was held while the dinner was being prepared for the table.

The party was given by the troop as one of the requirements for completing and earning the second class badge.

Elizabeth Urged To Relax With Americans

London — A British newsman advised Queen Elizabeth to relax royal protocol and really get to know "those friendly Americans" on her visit to the United States next fall.

The advice came from the London Daily Mail's New York correspondent Don Iddon, now home on vacation. His first dispatch after arriving from New York several days ago told his readers what a horrible place the United States is for a Briton to live in.

His story today was headlined: "U.S. Tour Must Not Be Muddled: The Barriers Should Be Let Down A Little." He said the Queen and Prince Philip are going to have to learn how casually friendly Americans are. They'll love it if their royal advisers will only relax the barriers and let them mix with the people, he said.

Medford Student Gets Longview Scholarship

Corvallis—Jerry R. Peterson, an Oregon State college student from Medford, has been awarded a $200 scholarship from the Longview Fibre company, Peterson, who will be a senior in chemical engineering next fall at OSC was one of six students to receive the award.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Peterson of 1440 Whitman ave. Medford, Peterson graduated from Medford High school in 1954.

Medical Center Pharmacy Sold

James L. Foster, 734 Garfield st., Medford, has purchased Heath's Medical Center Pharmacy, 33 North Central ave., from Howard J. and Oma M. McLain.

Foster, who has been manager of the pharmacy for the past four years, took over ownership on June 1. Heath's Medical Center Pharmacy is the oldest establishment of its kind in southern Oregon. It was established prior to 1910 at its former location on 7th st. (now Main st.).

Founder was the father of the late Fred Heath. Fred Heath was a city councilman in Medford for several years and died last month in Portland. The establishment originally was a general merchandise store. It became a professional store, dealing primarily with medical prescriptions in 1949, while under ownership of the McLains. The store was moved to its present location that year.

Foster came to Oregon from Illinois in 1951. He will be assisted in operating the establishment by Joe Sayre and Mrs. Vera Welch, who were employed there during the McLains' ownership. Foster said he had no immediate plans for changes in the store or stock.

Mr. and Mrs. McLain, who reside in Grants Pass, are former owners of McLain's Drug Center, 8 North Central ave., as well as McLain's Drug store in Grants Pass. They will retain ownership of the Grants Pass establishment, it was reported.

NEWSPAPERMAN DIES
Oakland, Calif. — Bruno A. Forester, 87, secretary-treasurer and general manager of the Oakland Tribune for nearly half a century, died Wednesday.

Queen Elizabeth Now Officially 31

London — Queen Elizabeth officially turned 31 years of age today with a brilliant state ceremony marking the end of her most momentous year on the throne.

Wearing a colonel's army uniform and sitting erect on her horse, Elizabeth paraded before an estimated 250,000 persons in the glorious "trooping of the colors." It was her last full-dress function before her visit this fall to the United States and Canada.

Hours before the colorful ceremony, thousands of persons crowded the sidewalks outside of Buckingham Palace along the mall to the Admiralty Arch and the Horse Guards parade grounds. Many were there before dawn, carrying huge picnic lunches.

It was a glorious summer day. The temperature was in the 70s and the skies cloudless.

The Queen actually turned 31 last April 21. But June is the month of good weather in London, so officially every ruler's birthday falls in June.

Britain and the commonwealth celebrated the Queen's birthday with a visible feeling the "young queen" is now very grown up. To Britains who were thinking about her at "Lilibet," the Little Princess, six years ago, it seemed almost a shock to realize she now is 31, a tested, seasoned ruler and happy mother.

Savings Bond Sales Show Increase Here

Sale of E and H savings bonds in Jackson County totaled $67,788, compared to $63,606 a year ago, according to George W. Minnaugh, state director. Total sales in Oregon of the two series last month were $3,085,531, up 9.4 per cent, Minnaugh said.

Sales of the bonds in the county for 1957 through May were $411,545, compared to $521,813 for last year, he noted.

According to Minnaugh, in most years since the end of World War II, bond sales in May have been less than in April, both in Oregon and the country at large. This year the pattern was reversed, he said. Interest rates in May increased from 3 per cent to 3 1/4 per cent, he added.
