Dulles Accused of Masterminding Plot on Nasser

Cairo Editorial Hurls Accusation

By UNITED PRESS

The Egyptian government newspaper Al Gomhuria today accused Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today of masterminding a plot to defeat President Gamal Abdel Nasser from within.

The bitter editorial in the Cairo newspaper followed strong diplomatic moves by Jordan and Saudi Arabia that involved Egypt's relations with other members of the Arab League toward the breaking point.

Threat by Jordan

Jordan threatened to close its embassy in Cairo in a step not far removed from rupture of diplomatic relations; and King Saud of Saudi Arabia threw his support to pro-Western Jordan and Lebanon.

At the same time Saudi Arabia, Jordan, Lebanon and Iraq drew closer together in an anti-Egyptian bloc.

The Egyptian press reacted angrily and Al Gomhuria today made what was its severest attack yet against young King Hussein of Jordan.

Said in Agreement

An editorial signed by editor-in-chief Anwar El-Sadat said Dulles advocated "an attack from inside" instead of one from the outside favored by Britain and France. It said Hussein was in agreement with Dulles.

"Dulles' plan is to start by isolating Egypt... and eventually, if possible, to deal a devastating blow to Egypt's revolution," the editorial said. The revolution referred to Nasser's overthrow of King Farouk and his assumption of power.

Nationalist China Indicts 41 in Riots

Taipei — Nationalist China has indicated 41 persons, including five former Communists, for inciting the anti-American riots that wrecked the U.S. embassy here May 24, Premier O. K. Yui announced today.

He told Parliament 70 other suspects have been released.

Yui presided at his government's first report on the trial of U.S. M. Sgt. Robert G. Reynolds and the violent riot which followed his release.

The premier said U. S. military authorities in Formosa were reluctant to press a court-martial case against the 42-year-old Coloma, Md., sergeant for the slaying of a Chinese "peeping tom."

He said it was only after pressure from the Nationalist government that Reynolds was tried.

The U.S. embassy refused to comment on Yui's statement.

Soviet Leaders Favor Exchange of Programs

Moscow — Two Soviet leaders said Thursday night they think an exchange of U.S. and Russian television programs would be a "good idea."

Trade Chief Anastas Mikoyan and former Premier Georgi Malenkov said they were basically in favor of the idea although they had not been informed officially of the proposal made by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

"If you want to make such a proposal, go ahead," Mikoyan told Western newsmen at a British Embassy party. "We are not afraid of competition in ideas."

Dulles told a news conference in Washington earlier this month he would like to see a regular monthly exchange of radio and TV programs in which American and Russian statesmen could explain their points of view.

GOP Congressmen Given Account Of Girard Case

Facts Expected To Still Public Clamor

Washington — The White House gave Republican congressmen today an account of the William S. Girard case which two of the lawmakers said afterwards would still public clamor once all the facts are made public.

President Eisenhower himself and later several of his aides discussed the case with the House members at a White House breakfast.

Would Change Minds

Rep. William E. Hess (R-Ohio), who previously had been dubious of the decision to let Japanese courts try Girard in the death of a Japanese woman, told a newsman after the White House talks:

"I think when all the facts come out the big majority of the people will change their minds on it."

Attorneys for Girard, an Army specialist 3-C are trying to get a federal court here to order Girard's return to this country.

Federal Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy gave them until today to file a brief in support of their claim that Girard should not be surrendered to the Japanese courts.

Earlier, U.S. Attorney Oliver Gasch had told the United Press "it wouldn't surprise me" if McGarraghy gave his ruling late today. He also predicted the judge would back up the government.

Backers of Foreign Aid Fight Against Cutbacks

Foreign Aid Bill 'Gigantic Hoax' Morse Declares

Oregon Democrat Sees 'Senseless Waste'

Washington — Sen. Wayne L. Morse assailed President Eisenhower's scaled-down foreign aid bill today as a "gigantic hoax" which would perpetuate the "senseless waste of millions of dollars."

The Oregon Democrat told the Senate that cuts made by the foreign relations committee in reducing aid spending authority to $3,637,000,000 were only "a spit in the ocean of foreign aid waste."

Others Also Critical

Sens. Russell B. Long (D-La.) and Herman E. Talmage (D-Ga.) also criticized the measure. Long said in some instances "a single unwise and inexcusable bureaucratic decision in Washington is costing this nation as much as $100 million each year."

But Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), second-ranking GOP member of the foreign relations group, defended the program as "an integral part of foreign policy and an extension of our responsibilities as the foremost free nation in the world."

Both Republican leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) and Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) have urged the senate to approve the program without further cuts.

The pending bill merely authorizes the size of the program for fiscal 1958. A more determined effort to trim it may be made when the appropriation measure providing the actual cash comes before the Senate.

Senate Leaders Concede Tests Might Be Close

Girard Case May Delay Final Action

Washington — The Senate rejected 49-40 the first attempt to cut President Eisenhower's $3,637,000,000 foreign aid bill for the coming year.

Washington — Senate foreign aid backers marshaled their forces today against a determined effort to make at least some cuts in President Eisenhower's aid program.

Leaders were quietly confident they could muster enough votes to beat down major cuts. But they conceded privately some of the tests might be close.

A new hazard to the aid program arose, meanwhile, in the House. Chairman Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill.) said the House Foreign Affairs Committee will delay final action on aid if necessary in order to investigate the case of G. William S. Girard.

The Senate resumed debate on the $3,637,000,000 aid measure with leaders hoping for final action tonight.

The first major showdown shaped up over an amendment by Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) to lop $300 million from the $1,600,000,000 approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for direct military help.

Long, one of the bill's leading critics, planned to follow up with a proposal for a $90 million slash in the $800 million recommended for "defense support" or indirect military aid.

Several other proposed amendments also were in the works.

The Senate agreed to limit debate and begin voting on the measure today after a day and a half of arguments. Although approval of the measure without major changes appeared likely, there were strong hints it faces a trimming when actual appropriations are considered later. The present bill only "authorizes" the program.

Army Overthrows Haiti Government

Fort Au Prince, Haiti — The army today overthrew the provisional government in a bloodless early morning coup and arrested President Daniel Fignole.

Army Chief of Staff Gen. Antonio Kebreau headed the coup. He was expected momentarily to announce plans for a new military regime.

Officers were reported to have surrounded Fignole's home sometime after midnight. They presumably took him into the fortress-like Les Casernes Desalines, an army barracks.

The city was in a turmoil but no violence was reported.

Quantico, Va. — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave U.S. defense chiefs a secret report on international problems today.

A vanguard of 19 Guardsmen from Company A and Headquarters company, 186th infantry regiment, Oregon National Guard, Medford, left Medford earlier this week in a motor vehicle convoy to prepare camp facilities for the main body of troops, who will arrive at Ft. Lewis about 6 p.m. Saturday.

The summer training period is scheduled from June 15 to 29. The units will return to Medford about noon Saturday, June 29, after two weeks of basic combat

Commission To Control Agreement Included in Plan

Control Posts for Observation Projected

London — Russia today formally proposed that all nuclear tests be halted for a period of two to three years and that an international commission be set up to control such an agreement.

Valerian Zorin, head of the Soviet disarmament delegation, placed the Russian proposal before the five-power United Nations disarmament subcommittee conference which resumed after a Whitsunday break today.

The Soviet proposal said an international commission should observe how the agreement was being carried out and should report on its findings to the U.N. Security Council and the U.N. General Assembly.

Russia also proposed that control posts, suitably equipped with scientific apparatus, be set up in the United States, Russia, Britain and the Pacific area.

These control posts would be set up for the observation of the projected agreement on the ending of nuclear tests.

Zorin tossed Russia's new plan into the disarmament conference after criticizing the slowness of Western consultations on the West's latest disarmament proposals.

Follows Hint

The plan followed a hint Thursday from Soviet Communist Party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev at a press conference in Helsinki that Russia would be prepared to agree to the establishment of control posts in the Soviet Union and in the West to observe implementation of the ban on tests.

First reaction from Western delegations to Zorin's plans pointed up its failure to include any commitment to halt production of fissionable materials for military purposes.

New Post Office Slated for Talent

Talent — Construction of a new and larger Talent post office was announced today by Postmaster Roger C. Smoot. Smoot was notified of approval for the new building by S. G. Schwartz, regional director, post office department, Portland.

Other modern features will assure more efficiency in handling mail and provide better working conditions for postal employees, according to Schwartz.
