

Quotes From the News

By UNITED PRESS

Seattle—Teamsters President Dave Beck, denying reports that he has been under pressure to resign:
"You hear all kinds of rumors. Every now and then you hear rumors the world is coming to an end, but we don't believe them, do we?"

Quantico, Va.—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, hinting that military manpower will have to be cut if the armed forces are to stay within President Eisenhower's defense budget:
"It would be a mistake in my opinion to keep the same total number of men and not provide the kind of equipment they ought to have."

United Nations, N. Y.—K. W. Yoon, United Nations Nationalist Chinese press officer, on reports that Red Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung had admitted Communist purging of 800,000 persons:
"We believe that it is more like 20 million. But it is terrible, very terrible, even those that he has admitted."

Plymouth, Mass.—Crew-member Dick Brennan of London, on the reception given Mayflower II at Plymouth:
"It's bloody well brought tears to my eyes."

Miami Beach, Fla.—Lucille Doudy, 28, on her arrest for throwing a ham sandwich at a policeman from a moving automobile:
"It was worth it. I always wanted to throw something at a cop."

Dead Baby's Kidneys Given To Teen-Ager

Buenos Aires—The kidneys of a dead infant were transplanted into the body of an Argentine teen-ager in a last ditch effort by surgeons to cure his acute nephritis, it was reported Thursday night.

Skeleton of Giant In Philippines Denied

Manila—A Filipino anthropologist today labeled as "absurd" reports that skeletal remains of a 17½-foot tall giant had been discovered in Cagayan Province.

"It's absurd," Dr. Innocencio B. Maddela of the Philippine Anthropological Society told United Press. "I cannot swallow the story."

Maddela said he and other leading scientists here believe the bones found by a group of game hunters belonged to a dwarf species of elephant.

"That would amount to an important discovery at any rate," Maddela said. "It would tend to prove the theory that the Philippines was once part of the Asian mainland."

First White Student Enters Negro School

Greensboro, N.C.—A young engineering student began classes today as the first white student to enter a state-supported Negro college in the South.

Rodney Jaye Miller, 23, enrolled at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical College as a special summer student.

His enrollment ended several months of indecision after he first announced his intention of going to a Negro college.
