

Studs, Butte Falls Collide Here Today

Don Vannice, who'll be no stranger to a number of baseballers in opposing uniforms, has been designated as pitcher for the Medford Cheney Studs for their Rogue Valley league battle this afternoon.

Butte Falls will be foe of the Cheney nine at 2 p.m. at the fairgrounds ball park here. Medford will be after a third straight loop triumph while the Loggers will aim for their second decision in three games.

Vannice, a grad this spring of Prospect high, was pitcher for the Cougar nine which won the Jackson County B league championship. In that circuit he faced a number of the players expected to be in the Butte Falls line-up today.

Mound foe for the Medford tosser likely will be John Tykeson, from Oregon technical institute.

Medford Hitting Hefty

Manager Frank Roelandt will handle the catching as usual for the Studs. Others in the line-up may be Jack Conney at first base, Larry Perkins at second, Frank Rector at third, Ron Owings shortstop and Jerry Droscher, right field, John Kovenz, center field, and Ed Reinke, left field.

A line-up by position for the Butte Falls nine was not available.

Medford so far has been the heavy slugging club of the league and its power with the bat could be the deciding issue of the game. Indication of the Stud offensive power is seen in its 28 runs in two games and in the fact that 23 of those runs have been batted in. Butte Falls has totaled 10 runs with six of them driven in by a batter.

The fairgrounds ruckus will give fans another chance to try the drive-in arrangement of the ball park. They may park behind the fences back of the base and outfield foul lines and watch the game from their cars. Seating in the grandstands, of course, is still available.

Removal of the old board fence and the installation of the wire fencing has made the park much more attractive.

The scoreboard, rebuilt back of left field, is in operation and will have the score by innings posted on it. It is also ready for night use.

Y Softball Tilts Billed

Four games are scheduled Monday in the YMCA Church Softball league with each being played at 6:15 p.m.

In scuffles at Hedrick Junior High school field First Baptist will oppose Medford Nazarene and St. Peter's Lutheran will play the Latter Day Saints.

Zion Lutheran meets Temple Baptist at McLoughlin Junior High school and First Methodist tussles Phoenix Presbyterian.

SPORTS

Motorcycle Riders Will Vie Today

Three meets in one actually are scheduled today when cyclists gather for the Rogue Valley Riders Motorcycle club's competition at the club grounds.

There will be a field meet which includes slow races, balloon busting, run and ride and teeter-totter events. A sportsman hill climb is on the program as is an English trial in which the cycles go over an obstacle course at low speed and riders are scored on a point system.

The rivalry will begin at 1 p.m. at the grounds in the Dodge bridge area. Signs from the Y at the north edge of Medford will mark the way to the site. Motorists are advised to drive out Crater Lake highway and to turn on to Highway 234.

They get to the grounds by crossing Dodge bridge and then turning on the first paved road to the right. The grounds are about one-half-mile from this point.

From 20 to 30 cyclists are expected to vie in the meet with Klamath Falls, Roseburg and Crescent City, Calif., among the communities to be represented.

Whether Bill Roberts will make a parachute jump as an added attraction was uncertain yesterday. At the last report, chutes had not arrived.

Hirsch, Bukich Sign With Rams

Los Angeles.—The Los Angeles Rams added a passing and catching combination to their 1957 roster Saturday as Elroy Hirsch and quarterback Rudy Bukich returned signed contracts to General Manager Pete Rozelle.

Apparently still at his performance peak, Hirsch in 1956 turned in his greatest season since the 1951 campaign when he established two National Football league receiving records. His 35 receptions were only one less than Ram leader Leon Clarke.

Bukich is one of the best long passers in the NFL. He shared quarterbacking duties with Norm Van Brocklin and Bill Wade last season.

Ski Tourney Practicing Offer Made

Water skiers interested in entering the novice class of the first annual Oregon State championships may have free practice ski tows over the jump and slalom course beginning Wednesday evening, June 19, at Gardner lake.

The lake, 15 miles from Medford and owned by the Victor Gardener family will be the scene of the state tournament on Saturday and Sunday, June 29 and 30. It will attract some of the top talent on the Pacific coast.

Tourney Co-Chairman Lon Skinner and Norman Capsey said that the tow service would be offered from 5 p.m. until dark starting Wednesday. Tows also will be possible next Saturday afternoon and all day next Saturday. Prospective participants are asked to bring their own skis.

Entry Blanks Available

The competition will be a combined American Water Ski association and novice meet. Crater Lions of Medford is the sponsor. Entry blanks and tournament information are available free of charge at several boat shops. They are Big Y Feed and Seed store, Johnston stores, Rogue Sportsman, Medford Marine and Owen Boat works. A small entry fee will be charged.

AWSA has officially sanctioned the tourney and five judges appointed by that organization will officiate. Dr. Fred Landis, Chico, Calif., will be chief judge.

List of entries already includes Pacific coast champions, a national champ and a world record holder.

National Vets Champ

A veteran's class entrant will be Dr. Lew West, 35, Seattle. He was coast champ in 1951 and is one of the northwest's best known skiers. His wife, Florence, winner of many trophies, will enter the women's division.

From Antioch, Calif., will come 40-year-old Al Eames, veterans' national slalom champion in 1953. His wife and two sons and daughter are entrants.

Floyd Vance, 46, Sacramento, Calif., is the world jump record holder. He won the Pacific coast veterans overall and slalom and jump titles last year, setting the veterans mark with a 77-foot leap. His daughter, Vicki, 15, won second place in tricks and third in overall in the junior girls' class of the coast championships.

Another ladies' standout coming is Gloria Abben, 26, Sacramento, second in tricks and third in overall in women's coast championships last year.

Round Table Wins El Dorado Race

Inglewood, Calif.—Trav is M. Kerr's Round Table bred to an easy win by more than a half-dozen lengths Saturday in the $37,000 El Dorado handicap for 3-year-olds at Hollywood park to prove his mastery over the western crop of sophomores again.

Round Table, the colt which ran third in the Kentucky Derby and has improved in every start since then, toyed with his five rivals and won almost as his jockey, George Taniguchi, pleased. Joe Price was second and the longest shot Playtown was third in the small field.

Although he skipped the Belmont Stakes and a chance to run against Gallant Man and Bold Ruler, Round Table gained in national stature despite the ease of his win as he skipped the mile and a sixteenth in the fast time of 1:41 flat.

The big Saturday crowd of 48,000 racing fans installed Round Table the one to four favorite and he returned $2.50, 2.20 and 2.20 across the board. Joe Price paid $2.50 and 2.60 for place and show and Playtown returned $3.80 for show.

Gold Hill Slates Tennis Matches

Gold Hill — Five tennis players will appear in amateur exhibition matches at Hanby school on Wednesday evening, June 19.

Players include, Jerry Kalapus, Pacific university, state champ for Medford high in 1955; Jim Gordon, district singles for Medford high this year; Tod Tibbutt, Medford, veteran of tournament play in southern Oregon; Howard Dugan, Sams Valley; and Ogden Kellogg, who has played for Cal Aggies.

They are playing at the invitation of Jose Corona, net instructor here. Purpose is to help the youngsters in the area gain a better understanding of the game.

First match will be at 6:40 p.m.

HURLS PERFECT GAME

Eugene, Ore. — Vern Kindsfather, former Seattle Rainer, pitched a perfect game Saturday night as Salem defeated Eugene, 3-0, in the seven inning opener of a Northwest league double header.

Kindsfather, 30, a righthander, fanned five in notching his eighth win of the season against four defeats.

Players Fined for Parts In Major League Brawls

By FRED DOWN

United Press Sports Writer

American league President Will Harridge fined three New York Yankees and two members of the Chicago White Sox $100 to $150 apiece for their parts in the wild, free-swinging brawl during Thursday's game.

The fines assessed were: Larry Doby, White Sox outfielder, $150; Enos Slaughter, Yankees outfielder, $150; Walt Dropo, White Sox first baseman, $100; Billy Martin, Yankee infielder, $150; Art Ditmar, Yankee pitcher, $100.

Harridge commented for each man fined as follows:

Doby: "He threw the initial punch which started the trouble."

Off The Bench

Slaughter: "He was not in the lineup but came off the bench and engaged in a fight with Dropo."

Dropo: "For his part in the fight with Slaughter."

Martin: "After the umpires had gotten the situation well in hand, he attempted to start a fresh fight with Doby and caused a new disturbance."

Ditmar: "I believe the umpires exercised proper judgment in permitting Ditmar to remain in the game. He was not the aggressor, but, as a participant in a fight which precipitated a regrettable brawl, he is fined along with the other players."

Philadelphia — Johnny Logan of the Milwaukee Braves was hopping mad Saturday over the fact he was fined $100 for his part in Thursday's "Battle of Brooklyn," while Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale got off with a $40 assessment.

Admittedly surprised over the $60 difference in fines levied by National league President Warren Giles, Logan snapped "It's an injustice . . . it's not even settlement."

Accuses Drysdale

"Why, he (Drysdale) started the fight," the Braves' shortstop added. "He threw at me. I was only trying to protect myself."

In the second inning of Thursday's Brooklyn-Milwaukee game at Ebbets field, Drysdale struck Logan in the back with a pitch. They exchanged words and later punches in a wild melee that involved several members of each team.

Durrelle Draws With Anthony

Detroit — Yvon Durrelle headed back to Canada and his fish nets today, hopeful that his draw Friday night with top-ranked light-heavyweight contender Tony Anthony will boost him into the 175-pound title picture.

Durrelle thought he won the nationally-televised 10-rounder, but nevertheless he was pleased with the outcome because he entered the ring a 4-1 underdog.

Anthony was anything but pleased with the decision because it put a serious crimp in his hopes for an early shot at Archie Moore's light-heavyweight crown.

Throw Everything

Durrelle, who comes from Canada's fightingest family, had Anthony on the ropes at the finish after throwing everything but the referee at his opponent.

The referee, Lou Handler, scored the round 5-1 in Durrelle's favor. Under Michigan's "five-point must" scoring system, the winner of the round gets five points and the loser a lesser number.

Both boxers wound up with 41 points on Handler's card. Judge Barney Plotnik gave Anthony the fight, 43-39, but judge Malcolm House saw Durrelle the winner, 40-39, thus creating a draw.

Ibbotson Runs 3:58.4 Mile

Glasgow, Scotland — Lean, blond-haired Derek Ibbotson of England ran the second-fastest mile in history Saturday, a 3:58.4 which missed John Landy's world record by only four-tenths of a second.

Running in the Glasgow Police sports meet, Ibbotson far outclassed his field as he became the third man in track history to break the four-minute "barrier" more than once. He had done 3:59.4 at London last Aug. 8.

"If I had had a pace-maker at the bell I'm sure I would have beaten Landy's record," the 24-year-old electrical engineer said after the race.

Ibbotson's intermediate times were: quarter mile 57.2 secs; half-mile 1 min. 58 secs; three-quarter mile 2:59.8; mile 3:58.4.

Gallant Man Wins Belmont

By RAY AYRES

United Press Sports Writer

New York — Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man cut loose with a dazzling burst of speed in the stretch at Belmont park Saturday to smash the American record for a mile and one-half as he won the 89th running of the $133,350 Belmont stakes by an ever-increasing margin of eight lengths.

The little Irish colt started to run as he pounded down the back stretch under jockey Willie Shoemaker. On the turn into the home stretch the son of Mingo pulled even with Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler, who had set the pace from the start in the third of the triple crown classics.

For the rest of the journey around the bend into the lane leading to the finish line, these two arch rivals raced head and head.

Then Gallant Man, who had Bold Ruler softened up by his staminate Bold Nero in the early running, really started to move.

The crowd of 36,095 howled with amazement as Gallant Man steadily pulled away from the other five three-year-olds and streaked under the finish wire in 2:26 3-5 over a lightning-fast track.

The time lowered the American record of 2:27 3-5 set by Bolingbroke at Belmont park in the 1942 running of the Manhattan handicap. And it easily smashed the Belmont stakes record set by mighty Count Fleet in 1943 and later equaled by the great Citation in 1948.

Shoemaker, who blew a Kentucky Derby victory when he misjudged the finish line as Gallant Man lost to Iron Liege by a nose, never let up on his mount
