

Edward E. Gore, 116 Geneva street, whose family includes three daughters and two grandsons, celebrated his 88th birthday June 5. A native of Jackson county, Mr. Gore was born on the Gore ranch near Voorhies crossing, a son of Emerson E. and Mary Gore. He was in business in Medford for many years in the firm of Warner, Wartman and Gore, Inc., and with his brothers, Walter, William and John, made up a quartet which sang at countless ceremonies and functions for 25 years.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond W. McNair and their three sons were delighted when the fourth child, born last Sunday, was a girl. Dr. McNair is shown here with nine-year-old George as they left the family home at 229 Valley View drive to visit Mrs. McNair and Sarah Martha at the hospital. Bill, 7, and Charles, known as Chuck, were away on visits last week. Dr. McNair, an orthodontist, was born in Bandon, Ore., and practiced in Klamath Falls before moving to Medford. He is a Rotarian and the family attends St. Mark's Episcopal church.

James P. Rowan, 828 Minnesota avenue, was named Father of the Year by Jackson County Cow Belles, and the women of the group will present the Rowans a roast of beef for his Father's day dinner. Mr. Rowan was nominated by the Camp Fire Girls. Mr. Rowan, investment broker, is shown here with his children, James Jr., 10, at left; Rebecca, 13, holding her 7-months-old baby sister, Mary, and John, 7½. They are seated around the carrom board, a game at which the two boys excel. Mr. Rowan is on the camp committee and board of the YMCA, is a deacon of First Presbyterian church, a member of Rogue council, Camp Fire Girls, and a member of Founders' Service organization of Rogue Valley Memorial hospital.

Carl M. Brophy, Medford attorney, and two of his three sons paid a visit to Sacred Heart hospital last week in order that the boys might see their new baby sister. Mr. Brophy holds Patrick, 2, while Tim, 5, has a big smile for sister Kathleen, born June 6. Baby Kathleen, shown in the arms of Mrs. William Driscoll, couldn't go home with Mrs. Brophy because her older brother, Mike, 7, came down with the measles. The Brophys, who live at 1517 Terrace drive, attend Sacred Heart church and Mr. Brophy is vice-president of the YMCA board of directors and a member of the Jackson County Bar association, the Elks lodge and the University club.

Here's to Father

Oliver P. Taylor and his family are away on a camping vacation and will spend Father's day boating on one of the nearby lakes. The Taylors planned to spend part of their time at Shasta lake and then go on to Lake of the Woods or another of the Oregon vacation spots where boating is available. Pictured just before leaving their home on the Jacksonville highway are Janice, 10; Mrs. Taylor and Gregory, 3; Mr. Taylor and Dennis, aged 10. Bathing suits and water skis were packed along with other clothing and equipment for outdoor fun. Mr. Taylor, an accountant, and his family are active members of First Methodist church and he is a member of the Crater Lions club and on the advisory board of Medford Salvation Army.
