Director of Oregon Chest Gives Pointers to UMC Publicity Group

G. R. Durham, executive director of the Oregon Chest, Salem, made several suggestions for strengthening United Medford Crusade promotion last week when he appeared as a guest at a UMC publicity committee meeting.

He arranged to take special pictures of many Oregon Chest agencies, showing children being cared for at homes and hospitals. These pictures will be shown on television programs here this fall to help acquaint local people with agency services.

Larry Horton, UMC publicity committee chairman, said arrangements have been outlined for newspaper, television, radio and poster coverage. Adam Richter will promote television shows; Dave Doran, outside advertising; and Tom Tubbs, radio programs and newspaper sponsored advertising. Other appointments covering UMC Sunday observance and other special events, are expected to be made soon.

Russ Jamison, assistant to Larry Horton, has helped obtain services of several professional men in public relations work or advertising, who have volunteered services.

John C. Anicker Jr., deputy district attorney, is chairman for the special events committee to promote fund raising activities for the UMC through service clubs and other organizations.

Thirty-five people attended a meeting of local UMC agency representatives and publicity committee members on June 12 at the Medford YMCA. It was decided that "happiness" would be the theme for the campaign, and pictures and stories would be presented in keeping with this theme.

Glenn Jennings, speaker's bureau chairman, said he is preparing a film strip of Medford scenes, most of them involving agency activities, which will be used in speaking engagements to be arranged in August and September. Bob Johnson, UMC campaign chairman, presented a supply of cards to each agency, showing the UMC symbol with the lettering, "This Agency is a Member of the United Medford Crusade."

Dave Irving, assistant campaign chairman, concluded the meeting by emphasizing importance of individual campaign workers.

Road Work Bids Are Called by Commission

Portland—The state highway commission will receive bids Thursday, June 27, in Portland on grading and paving of a 2.35 mile stretch of the Ross lane-Jacksonville section of the Crater Lake highway-Jacksonville rd.

Bids will be received at 9 a.m. in the Queens room of the Imperial hotel.

The project requires approximately 27,700 cubic yards of excavation; 18 cubic yards of concrete in curbs and end basins; 18,800 cubic yards of granite topping; 17,800 cubic yards crushed base materials; 46 tons of RC-3 asphalt; 6,200 tons asphaltic concrete pavement; and 6 tons RS-1 asphalt.

The wagon train will pass over part of the old Applegate trail in Oregon. A four-unit train will leave Springfield, Ore., June 23, bound for the Corvallis Centennial celebration.

Headed by "Buck" Brown and "Pop" Brabham, both of Creswell, the group will be dressed in pioneer garb and will camp beside the trail at night. Thirty persons will make the trip. The train will pass through Eugene, Junction City and Monroe and will get to Corvallis in time for the Centennial parade June 29.

Al Tate, Pasadena, Calif., Nall Stylist, was a guest of Cook's Beauty clinic Wednesday, when he gave hair styling instructions to several local beauticians.
