

Tom Hamlin, Pam Stacey in Semi-Final Round of OGA Junior Tourney Matches

Portland — Medallist Biff Lovett of Portland met Mike Sweet of Caldwell, Ida., and Tom Hamlin of Medford played Jerry Mowlds of Vancouver, Wash., in semi-final matches of the Oregon Junior Golf championships today.

Lovett edged Dick Smith of Portland 2 and 1 and Sweet took Jerry Smythe of Oswego 4 and 3 Wednesday. Hamlin defeated Bill Aubry of Corvallis 1 up in the day's hottest match while Mowlds ousted Jerry Forrester, the 1956 boys' champion, 4 and 2.

Hamlin and Sweet shot the hottest golf, each being two under par.

Yurri Needs 23

In the boys' division Lynn Yurri of Ontario defeated Fred Taylor of Portland on the 23rd hole; Doug Ragen of Oswego defeated Fred Heidt of Portland 6 and 4; Dave Munro, Portland, defeated Bing Powell of Salem 2 and 1; and Daryl Winn of Eugene downed Gary Bronkey of The Dalles 4 and 2. Yurri faced Winn and Ragen met Munro today.

Joy Rubenstine of Eugene upset Donna Horn of Neskowin 3 and 2 in the girl's division. She will meet Marcia Lessing of Portland who edged Maureen Devaney of La Grande 2-up. The other semi-final match pits June Robinson, the favorite

Ken Everett Has Rally in Trans Miss.

Dallas, Tex. — Ken Everett, a 39-year-old physical education teacher in a Denver elementary school, shared the spotlight with defending champion Charley Cox and title contender Rex Baxter Jr. today as the Trans-Mississippi Amateur golf tourney hit the second round.

Cox and Baxter are well-known in national and international golf circles and they came through as expected Wednesday as the first round of match play cut the field from 64 to 32 in the championship flight.

But the quiet Colorado school teacher, playing in his first Trans-Mississippi tourney—and that by invitation only since he is normally a public links player—wasn't supposed to win against a formidable foe, Jimmy Powell, a lean Dallas youngster who was a kinsman of the talented North Texas State golf team.

Five Down at Turn

And, it didn't look as if he would win. Everett was five down at the turn, and still four down with four holes to play, when his game caught fire and Powell's fell apart. Everett won the final four holes with two pars and two birdies, then promptly sent the highly-favored Powell to the sidelines with a birdie on the first extra hole.

Cox and Everett were among the so-called "old guard" who moved into today's second round along with more than a dozen college stars and a high school player or two.

Hardtoppers To Vie Again On Saturday

Hardtop auto drivers go into another night of auto racing at Valley View track Saturday with Wayne Lemley, Crook Hunter and Kay Asher ranking one, two three in the point standings.

A standard program of events is again slated with time trials at 7 p.m. and the first race at 8 p.m.

Lemley added another 44 counters to his total last week end and heads the point standings with a big 139. Hunter, 1956 champ, picked up 24 last Saturday and now has 100 even. Kay Asher made a big move up from sixth spot to third by increasing his total from 60 to 96.

Bob Wilcox kept his fourth position, now has 93 with Bob McGilvray upping from 70 to 91 but dropping to fifth spot. Rose is sixth with 87.

Meeting Friday

Others among the top 12 are Wally Cannon 82, Johnny Jones and Elmer Sisemore, each 61. Bob Jenkins and Honty Hall each 58 and Ray Brackman 56.

Saturday's encounters will include A and B trophy dashes, four heat races and semi-main and main races. In the time trials drivers will be out to beat Sisemore's track mark of 21.44. The fast time was established several weeks back but overlooked in reports on the Valley View speedway activities.

A meeting of Rogue Valley Racing association is planned for 8 p.m. Friday at the track. Association and track officials hope to smooth out some problems which have come up in connection with race operations.

Golfers Tee Off In Flint Open

Flint, Mich. — A field of more than 150, including all but a handful of the top money winners, teed off today in the open flint in size No. 4 or 5. Dragging (trolling) a Golden Demon or Bucktail Coachman behind a boat seems to work wonders in the early morning and late evening. This fly should be far back, 150 to 300 feet back seems to be the best.

There are still some fish spawning but phase seems to be about over and the Go signal should be out for Diamond from now on.

No Luck at Bolin

It would seem that the laugh of the season concerns Bolin lake. This beautiful little lake which used to have such nice eastern brook was poisoned about three years ago, restocked, or was reported so, closed for an extra year and then opened. This was supposed to be the gala year but the anglers who braved the snows of early season to be first didn't have any luck.

There is still no luck in Bolin and now the story is out that someone was lost in the fog and instead of stocking Bolin they stocked Eanger which of course is in California. I suppose that this comes under the good neighbor policy. This could be worse for many southern Oregon anglers have California licenses and Sanger is reported to be very good. It is possible to take the same road leading to Bolin and continue on over the mountain to Sanger but be sure of the license first.

Joe Brown Hangs On To Lightweight Toga

Denver, Colo. — Lightweight champion Joe Brown, radiating confidence after Wednesday night's marathon technical knockout of Cuban challenger Orlando Zulueta, said today he would fight highly-regarded Kenny Lane within 90 days if the National Boxing association wanted him to.

Brown, starting slowly, rallied powerfully in the final three rounds at Denver coliseum to smash Zulueta helpless with 21 seconds remaining in the 15th round.

Lou Viscusi, Brown's manager, said the champ would take about a month's rest and then fight some overweight matches. He said he had offers to take Brown to Milwaukee and Houston.

Viscusi said Brown would meet Lane within 90 days and abide by any other requests from the National Boxing association.

Crowd Looked For Upset

The 28-year-old Zulueta made a good, smart fight of it until the 11th and was ahead on judge Joe Ullmer's card, to the delight of the small crowd of 5,000 who sensed an upset.

But in the 13th round the champion's punches picked up power. He floored Zulueta for a nine count with a left he brought up from below his knees.

Brown knocked Zulueta to the

Reservations Being Taken For Pro Mix

Portland — Oregon Sports Attractions is ready to accept mail order reservations for the professional football game between the Los Angeles Rams and Chicago Cardinals, it was announced by President Harry Glickman.

The Rams and Cardinals will play here at Multnomah Stadium Saturday night, August 31, in the only pro football game scheduled this year.

These teams are not strangers to the stadium, for the inaugural National Football league pre-season games in the Northwest back in 1952.

This game will mark the first real appearance locally for the greatest all-around player in the game today, Ollie Matson of the Cards. He appeared briefly on defense in the 1952 game, having just joined the team fresh from the Olympic games in Helsinki and the College All-Star game in Chicago.

Burned Up League

He was in the service the following two years, but since rejoining the Cards he has burned up and passed catching, punt and kickoff returns.

Glickman announced that reserved seats may be obtained by sending checks or money orders to Oregon Sports Attractions' new headquarters here in the Executive building.

As is customary, all applications will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Glickman cautioned out-of-town fans to order tickets early, because seats in the perimeter of the 50-yard line are usually disposed of a few days after being placed on sale.

Washington Digs Up Luck Charms

Washington — All of Washington will dig up good luck charms Friday night when the Senators' hard-luck left hander, Chuck Stobbs, will attempt to break his 16-game losing streak extending over two seasons, against the Cleveland Indians.

The whole thing started as a gag when the Washington publicity department decided to give out a rabbit's foot to each of the first 1,000 cash clients. Since then, the thing has snowballed until Stobbs is neck-deep in charms, amulets, voodoo drums, four-leaf clovers, lucky coins and medals.

Johnny Podres Pulls Tendon

Brooklyn — Johnny Podres' arm trouble was diagnosed today as a tendon pull near his elbow, but the Brooklyn Dodgers' southpaw was told that no surgery will be necessary.

Podres, who flew here from Cincinnati two days ago when X-rays showed an inflammation in his left arm, will remain in Brooklyn for heat treatments.

Ashland Man Is Fined In District Court

Walter McVey, 54, of 595 Fordyce st., Ashland, was fined $50 and $5 court costs in district court Wednesday after pleading guilty to charges of assault and battery.

McVey, who was arrested Tuesday by Ashland police on a complaint by his wife, earlier pleaded innocent to hitting his wife on the head and face.

He was fined and given a five months county jail sentence and placed on parole by district court Judge James Main. McVey was confined to county jail in lieu of fine payment.

Jim McDonald to Take Part in News Conference

Jim McDonald, a junior at Southern Oregon college, Ashland, will be one of three panelists who will participate in a mock "college news conference" at a dinner July 4 at the National Education association centennial convention in Philadelphia, Pa.

McDonald is first vice president of the Student NEA. The dinner at which he will be panelist is a Student NEA and Future Teachers of America sponsored Notables dinner. Sen. Richard L. Neuberger of Oregon will participate in the mock news conference.

Guardsmen Killed By Lightning Bolts

Ft. Bragg, N. C. — Two bolts of lightning in the midst of a violent electrical storm struck Wednesday in a bivouac area, killing two North Carolina National Guardsmen and wounding 47 others.

The men, members of North Carolina's 30th Infantry Division, were preparing for supper at the time of the accident. The "Old Hickory" division, some 8,000 strong, had gone to the bivouac area Monday at the beginning of their second week of active duty training.

None of the injured men is in serious condition. They were expected to be released after treatment at the Army hospital here. Names of the men and their regiments were withheld pending notification of the next of kin.

OSC Ticket Applications Put in Mail

Oregon State College, Corvallis — Another football season is still months away for many followers of the fall sport, but not so for busy Jim Barratt and his State.

Thousands of ticket applications for 1957 home games went into the mails this week to OSC alumni, boosters and fans who have ordered tickets in the past and others who are on the department mailing lists.

Mail orders will now be accepted at Barratt's office in Coliseum 103, Corvallis, and prospective buyers are urged to send in their application as soon as possible. Oregon State will process ticket orders throughout the summer, and on Tuesday, September 3, will open ticket sales over the counter in various Willamette valley agencies — as well as at J. K. Gill's in Portland.

Ticket orders arriving through the mails will be delivered to the purchaser by September 1. Barratt anticipates one of the largest advance sales in OSC football history. This is based on the assumption that the defending Pacific Coast conference champions will field a better team than last fall.

300,000 Predicted

Athletic officials here predict that over 300,000 fans will watch the Beavers play in four home games and six road games next fall, which would be a new all-time record for regular season play. Last season, OSC played to 282,636, plus an additional 100,000 in the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena.

Season ticket "A" will cover games with USC in Portland on Saturday night, September 21, plus three games in Corvallis and the OSC-Oregon tilt in Eugene on November 23. The Beavers meet Idaho in the annual "Kiwaniis Kids Day" game here on October 12. WSC in the homecoming game on November 2 and Stanford at Corvallis on November 16. All Corvallis games start at 1:30 p.m.

Season ticket "B" includes three Corvallis games.

Road games include Kansas at Lawrence, September 28; Northwestern at Evanston, Oct. 5; UCLA at Los Angeles, Oct. 19; Washington at Seattle, Oct. 26; and California at Berkeley, Nov. 9.

Fanfare

Loren Christean, 1957 Medford high grad who blossomed in his senior year as a fine football player and key man on the track team, has joined the Marines. He left here Monday and will be a member of the Beaver platoon of all Oregon enlistees. He is to go from Portland to San Diego on Friday for boot camp. Christean reportedly placed third in the platoon in his written exam.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Christean, 808 Agate st., Christean was a powerful running fullback last fall for the state A-1 runner-up Black Tornado. He was a sprinter on the cinder squad, carrying Medford colors on the state title crew in the 100 and 220 dashes and the relay. In relay meets he also ran the 440-yarder and is a fine prospect as a quarter-miler.

Reports indicate that Christean will go on to college, possibly University of Oregon, when his two-year enlistment is up. As for sports in the Army he already is slated for a June 27 boxing bout. Christean was a standout miltman for the Police Athletic league.

Look for official notice soon that Dick Smith, star Grid athlete, has signed a baseball contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers. That's the word he gave Bill Askwith, business manager of the Cheney Studs in a call from the airport yesterday. The ankle fracture he suffered at a Los Angeles tryout last Sunday reportedly is not serious and the ankle should be healed in a month. Smith is to join the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league when the ankle is healed. He was to have played this summer with the Cheney Studs.

Hunting and Fishing Southern Oregon

By MEL REES

The weather teamed up with the controllers of water levels in two lakes to give the fishermen a rough week. Four days of cold, stormy weather slowed the fishing in Upper Klamath lake to a walk but now that summer has shown up again the fishing is on the upswing.

Bob Sloan of Harriman's resort said in a telephone interview that in spite of adverse conditions Rod Hinman of Klamath Falls had snared a couple of trout weighing 4 1/2 and 5 1/2 pounds. John Overand of Ashland took one fish of 4 1/4 pounds and Frank Logan of La Mesa a rainbow of 4 1/4 pounds.

The weather is good again and the fishing was picking up rapidly so this week end should be another bumper one for this area.

Rogue Area Trout Luck Improving

Portland — The weekly report on fishing conditions prepared by the State Game Commission.

Southwest: Stocking of legal trout in progress in upper Umpqua district; fly fishing in North Umpqua good; few summer steelhead running in Umpqua; Winchester bay good for salmon.

Rogue area trout fishing improving; salmon success in Gold Beach area poor.

Central: East fork Hood river excellent; west fork fair; Kingsley reservoir fair; high lakes in Hood River county good; Pauline and East lakes good; Crane Prairie fair; Big Lava lake excellent; Deschutes below Bend is good; angling picking up at Diamond lake; Lake of the Woods excellent; Williams river good with fly or bait.

FISH LAKE LEVELING

Checking Lloyd Morris of the Fish Lake lodge brought up the news that the water in both Fish lake and Willow Creek reservoir was raised from 18 inches to 2 feet this past week and this really put the slowdown to fishing.

Things were leveling off by the first part of the week and prospects for the week end are good.

SALMON OUTSIDE CHETCO

Johnny Hewitt of Hewitt's Anchorage says that the salmon are playing around outside the mouth of the Chetco but the run is much smaller than it was a couple of weeks ago. He feels that it will be in the first part of July before too much excitement will occur over here.

The bottom fishing has been tops and perch fishing in the mouth is good. Most of the sportfishers are booked solid for the week ends in the Crescent City, Calif., and Brookings area.

DIAMOND READY

Finally it looks like Diamond is ready to pay off. The Diamond lake lodge reports that the fishing can be said to be good now with the fish averaging three pounds. The top lure seems to be a green flatfish in size No. 4 or 5. Dragging (trolling) a Golden Demon or Bucktail Coachman behind a boat seems to work wonders in the early morning and late evening. This fly should be far back, 150 to 300 feet back seems to be the best.

Corvallis Residents Count Days Until Grid Campaign

Oregon State College, Corvallis — At a time when most sports fans are talking about major league baseball races or a week at the beach on vacation, good citizens of this Willamette valley city are eating, talking and sleeping football.

It's been that way ever since Coach Tommy Prothro brought Oregon State out of the grid wilderness with a second place Pacific Coast conference finish in 1955 and an outright championship in 1956 and a shot at the Rose Bowl.

Over the coffee counter at Wagner's restaurant, traditional home of downtown coaches, the conversation isn't centered around Ted Williams' batting average or the herculean feats of Mickey Mantle. In Corvallis, they're counting off the days until football starts again.

The Beavers, of course, won't be eligible for the Rose Bowl next fall — along with UCLA, Southern California and Washington. They relinquished that right by appearing there last January 1. But Oregon State is very much eligible for the PCC crown again, and some of the so-called experts claim the Beavers will be a strong contender. Better First Team.

Prothro hasn't done much to discourage those raving about OSC chances. The sly southerner believes "we'll have a better
