Scout Camp Help Asked

An urgent appeal for volunteer help in preparing the Girl Scout camp, Low Echo, at Lake of the Woods, for the coming camping season was made today from Girl Scout headquarters.

Each year parents and friends of Girl Scouts help put the camp in readiness for the season, and it was stated today that unless many adults work this week end, the camp will not be in order for the first group.

Workers are needed Friday, Saturday and Sunday, it was stated. The camp is located on the south end, east side of the lake, which is about 55 miles from Medford by way of Ashland. The camp committee will provide food for lone workers, but families going up are asked to take a picnic luncheon. Coffee will be furnished.

Those able to help with the camp work are asked to call the Girl Scout office, SP 2-5912, Friday. The scout office is closed Saturday.

Training sessions for the staff will begin at the camp June 30, and the camp will open for girls July 7.

Designer Says Monroe Figure Has Limitations

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Correspondent
New York — Marilyn Monroe's dress designer said today that:

He doesn't think his client is pregnant; the actress still isn't wearing anything under those glove-tight evening gowns; and she does have "figure limitations."

Designer John Moore, a sandy-haired young man who has made most of Miss Monroe's special occasion gowns for the last two years, hastily explained the limitations did not refer to flaws in what is generally considered flawless construction.

But he said the blonde star can't always wear current fashion trends. If a season calls for a flat look, she's out of style. "She rarely can wear a ready-made dress," said the designer, who also has a wholesale line.

Oh, for limitations! "But I guess most girls sigh for such limitations," he added. "She has good clothes sense."

"She rarely can wear a ready-made dress," said the designer, who also has a wholesale line.

He designed the champagne-colored dress for her marriage to playwright Arthur Miller.

His latest creation, which she wore last week for the New York premier of her new movie with Sir Laurence Olivier, is a floor-length dress in the same champagne-colored silk satin.

The dress hugged the figure to the knees, and ended in a circular flounce.

"Twenty yards of satin in the dress . . . and just about all of it in the flounce," said Moore with pride.

"She still doesn't wear anything underneath . . . except the dress lining. We fit them so tight she can't." Just how Miss Monroe holds up her stockings the designer wasn't prepared to say.

Moore, the son of a lumberman, was born 29 years ago in Alice, Tex., near the Mexican border. He attended the University of Texas, Northwestern University, and graduated from the Parsons School of Design, New York.

Moore sees the Marilyn Monroe influence throughout fall and winter fashions. "Lots of sexy clothes," said Moore. "Every woman thinks she's a siren."

League Advisor Pays Visit Here; Work Outlined

Mrs. Victor Logan, Corvallis, state advisor for the Medford League of Women Voters, met Thursday and Friday with board members and committees of the local league. She was a house guest of Mrs. Hugh Collins, league president.

Approximately 40 women met with Mrs. Logan Thursday to discuss plans and purposes of various committees, including those concerned with voters service, membership, and study items of the group for the current year.

A board training session was held Friday at the home of Mrs. Dunbar Carpenter. The advisor explained functions of board members and relationships between local leagues and the state and national organizations.

Special emphasis was given the local study item adopted by the Medford league this year, which will deal with county government.

Plans are being made to study thoroughly the departments of county government and to culminate the project with a "Know Your County" booklet explaining Jackson county's government set-up.

Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. John Outerhout, Eagle Point, head the committee.

Other study items undertaken this year include water conservation and civil liberties both adopted by the national group for study for all local leagues.

Examination of the state constitution relative to county government is covered in the study item adopted by all leagues in Oregon.

The Medford group's annual membership luncheon has been set for July 10 at noon at the lake home of Mrs. John Day on Gold Ray road. All women interested in attending are welcome. Mrs. Collins emphasized.

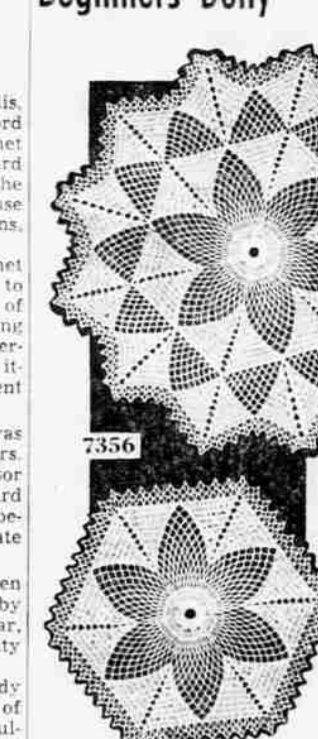

Reservations and further information are available by calling Mrs. Homer Marx, SP 2-6845.

Actor To Appeal Assault Sentence

Hollywood — Actor Anthony Franciosa today planned to appeal a 10-day jail sentence handed him by a municipal judge for assaulting a newspaper photographer.

Judge Mark Brandler Wednesday sentenced the actor, recently married to actress Shelley Winters, to 90 days in jail but suspended the sentence on condition that the defendant spend 10 days in jail, pay a $250 fine in addition to paying for the repair of the photographer's camera.

Franciosa had pleaded guilty to knocking down and kicking photographer Bill Walker last April 19. The attack occurred when Walker attempted to take a picture of Franciosa as he left the courthouse with Miss Winters.

Measles Intentionally Given To Children

Maidenhead, England — "Darling," said Dr. Charles Stevens to his wife, "let's give the children German measles."

"Fine," said Mrs. Betty Stevens. "Shall we schedule it for their summer vacations?"

So the Stevens made plans to give their nine children—four boys and five girls—the German measles this summer so they would not have worse attacks later.

"It's much better for our five girls to have German measles while they're young," Dr. Stevens said. "They won't catch it when they are pregnant—which could be dangerous."
