

NORTH DAKOTA TORNADO KILLS 10

Communist General Flies Into Rage Over UN Decision

Military Buildup In South Korea Told

Panmunjom.—The U. N. Commandant told a story-faced Communist general today it was starting a major military buildup in the Republic of Korea to offset one carried out by the Reds in "flagrant violation" of the 1953 Korean armistice agreement.

Reaction as Expected

The reaction was immediate and exactly as expected. North Korean Maj. Gen. Jung Kook Bok flew into a rage and accused the U. N. forces of intending to turn South Korea into a "base for atomic war." He called it a first step to prepare for a "new war."

Today's decision nullifying a key provision of the armistice agreement meant the United States would send into South Korea fleets of its latest atomic bombers and fighters—some 700 miles closer to Red China and Siberia. Later there may be atomic cannon and guided missiles.

Reds Violate Flagrantly

But by doing so they were doing what the Communists already had done months ago. The North Korean air force, nonexistent at the end of the war, has been built up to nearly 1,000 modern jets. Its arsenal has been rebuilt and rearmed with Soviet equipment.

The entire buildup was in violation of a key paragraph in the armistice agreement which froze the armed forces of each side at its 1953 military strength. The U. N. said the Communist buildup was "flagrant, repeated and willful" violation of the agreement.

Read by Senior Member

The Allied decision was read out by U. S. Marine Corps Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzberg, senior member of the U. N. military armistice commission and leader of a Marine division in some of the bitterest fighting of the war.

It was received officially by Jung in the quietest hut conference room of this neutral zone village. Jung, short, heavy-set and raptly dressed, conferred in whispers with his aides during the six-minute reading. He was impassive throughout.

But at the end of a 30-minute recess his impassiveness was gone. He stormed back into the quiet hut, his well-tailored uniform quivering with rage, and accused the U. N. of trying to cover up its own armistice violations by accusing the Reds of violating the four-year-old truce.

Jung said he was lodging the "strongest protest with your side." He called for the "peaceful unification" of Korea and the withdrawal of all foreign troops.

The historic meeting lasted one hour and 15 minutes. It marked the end of another key provision of the armistice agreement—Sub Paragraph 13-d which said no new equipment could be introduced into Korea once the fighting ended.

It was the second major provision nullified by the Allies after the Communists had made it a "mockery." The first was the decision to exempt the so-called "neutral nations" truce supervisors, a decision taken after the Polish and Czech members made any form of inspection impossible.

County Budget Expected To Be Signed Today

The final Jackson county budget for 1957-58, totaling $3,112,696.27, was expected to be signed today, according to the county court.

Three members of the budget committee had signed the budget by noon today. The final budget is $37,269.15 higher than the original one published prior to the public hearing Monday.

14th Annual Rogue River Roundup Slated Aug. 9, 10

The 14th annual Rogue River Roundup featuring stock control by Don Miller, of French Gulch, will be held Aug. 9 and 10 at the posse grounds on Sage rd.

The Jackson County Mounted Sheriff's Posse is sponsoring the show, with Captain Red Martin in charge.

Total purse will be $800 plus entry fees in each of the six main events. Three special events are also scheduled. Miller has been working with the Rogue River show about four years. He contracts stock for only three such rodeos per year, and his stock is "plenty wild," according to Martin.

Buck Lambert is announcing the roundup this year, with Gary Gustafson in charge of grand-

Idaho Power Company Requests Cancellation of Tax Write-Off

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21 (AP)—The Senate today approved a bill to authorize construction of a "high" dam at Hells Canyon on the Snake river.

The vote was 45 to 38.

The bill still must be approved by the House Interior Committee and then passed by the House itself.

Washington.—The Office of Defense Mobilization today accepted Idaho Power Company's request that its application for fast tax write-off privileges on its Hells Canyon private power project be cancelled.

The company filed the application Thursday as the Senate debated a bill seeking to authorize a government high dam for public power, flood control and conservation to supplement Idaho Power's program.

Democratic senators charged then and again today that the company gave up the write-off in an attempt to swing congressional votes against the federal proposal.

ODM officials discussed the cancellation at a conference this morning. A spokesman said a telegram had been received from T. E. Roach, Idaho Power president, withdrawing the application.

Inquiry Promised

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of a Senate subcommittee which has been investigating the write-off, said the inquiry will continue. He sent Roach a telegram asking him to "wire immediately the names of officers of the executive branch of the government with whom he or other company officials discussed the cancellation."

In the Senate, meantime, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, (R-Utah), asserted the company's decision had deprived the Democrats of their best propaganda weapon in the current battle of public vs. private power. He said he would ask other private companies in the Pacific Northwest to follow Idaho Power's example.

Neuberger Sees 'Ruse'

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), branded the decision of Idaho Power Co. to give up its fast tax write-off privileges as a "ruse" to defeat the controversial Hells Canyon bill.

Neuberger and other public power advocates questioned the motives of the company in taking the step at a time when the Senate was nearing a vote on the Democratic-sponsored bill to have the government construct a single, high, power and flood control dam in the canyon.

Dams Authorized

The Eisenhower administration already has authorized Idaho Power to build three privately-owned low dams in the canyon on a stretch of the Snake river between Idaho and Oregon.

To help the company in the project, the administration also granted it the fast tax write-off privilege—a step which immediately created a heated controversy.

Ike's Alleged Anger At Earl Warren Denied

Washington.—The White House refused to "dignify" with comment today a published story that President Eisenhower is angry at Chief Justice Earl Warren because of recent Supreme Court decisions.

When the report was brought to the attention of White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, he said:

"I wouldn't even dignify the story with a comment."

Move May Abolish Un-American Committee

Washington.—Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.) told the House today a move is underway to abolish its Committee on Un-American Activities.

The committee is currently embroiled in controversy over its right to televise hearings.

Maneuver Seen Attempt To Swing Votes in Congress

ODM Officials Accept Request by Company

Washington.—The Office of Defense Mobilization today accepted Idaho Power Company's request that its application for fast tax write-off privileges on its Hells Canyon private power project be cancelled.

The company filed the application Thursday as the Senate debated a bill seeking to authorize a government high dam for public power, flood control and conservation to supplement Idaho Power's program.

Democratic senators charged then and again today that the company gave up the write-off in an attempt to swing congressional votes against the federal proposal.

ODM officials discussed the cancellation at a conference this morning. A spokesman said a telegram had been received from T. E. Roach, Idaho Power president, withdrawing the application.

Inquiry Promised

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of a Senate subcommittee which has been investigating the write-off, said the inquiry will continue. He sent Roach a telegram asking him to "wire immediately the names of officers of the executive branch of the government with whom he or other company officials discussed the cancellation."

In the Senate, meantime, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, (R-Utah), asserted the company's decision had deprived the Democrats of their best propaganda weapon in the current battle of public vs. private power. He said he would ask other private companies in the Pacific Northwest to follow Idaho Power's example.

Neuberger Sees 'Ruse'

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), branded the decision of Idaho Power Co. to give up its fast tax write-off privileges as a "ruse" to defeat the controversial Hells Canyon bill.

Neuberger and other public power advocates questioned the motives of the company in taking the step at a time when the Senate was nearing a vote on the Democratic-sponsored bill to have the government construct a single, high, power and flood control dam in the canyon.

Dams Authorized

The Eisenhower administration already has authorized Idaho Power to build three privately-owned low dams in the canyon on a stretch of the Snake river between Idaho and Oregon.

To help the company in the project, the administration also granted it the fast tax write-off privilege—a step which immediately created a heated controversy.

Ike's Alleged Anger At Earl Warren Denied

Washington.—The White House refused to "dignify" with comment today a published story that President Eisenhower is angry at Chief Justice Earl Warren because of recent Supreme Court decisions.

When the report was brought to the attention of White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, he said:

"I wouldn't even dignify the story with a comment."

Move May Abolish Un-American Committee

Washington.—Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.) told the House today a move is underway to abolish its Committee on Un-American Activities.

The committee is currently embroiled in controversy over its right to televise hearings.

Maneuver Seen Attempt To Swing Votes in Congress

ODM Officials Accept Request by Company

Washington.—The Office of Defense Mobilization today accepted Idaho Power Company's request that its application for fast tax write-off privileges on its Hells Canyon private power project be cancelled.

The company filed the application Thursday as the Senate debated a bill seeking to authorize a government high dam for public power, flood control and conservation to supplement Idaho Power's program.

Democratic senators charged then and again today that the company gave up the write-off in an attempt to swing congressional votes against the federal proposal.

ODM officials discussed the cancellation at a conference this morning. A spokesman said a telegram had been received from T. E. Roach, Idaho Power president, withdrawing the application.

Inquiry Promised

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of a Senate subcommittee which has been investigating the write-off, said the inquiry will continue. He sent Roach a telegram asking him to "wire immediately the names of officers of the executive branch of the government with whom he or other company officials discussed the cancellation."

In the Senate, meantime, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, (R-Utah), asserted the company's decision had deprived the Democrats of their best propaganda weapon in the current battle of public vs. private power. He said he would ask other private companies in the Pacific Northwest to follow Idaho Power's example.

Neuberger Sees 'Ruse'

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), branded the decision of Idaho Power Co. to give up its fast tax write-off privileges as a "ruse" to defeat the controversial Hells Canyon bill.

Neuberger and other public power advocates questioned the motives of the company in taking the step at a time when the Senate was nearing a vote on the Democratic-sponsored bill to have the government construct a single, high, power and flood control dam in the canyon.

Dams Authorized

The Eisenhower administration already has authorized Idaho Power to build three privately-owned low dams in the canyon on a stretch of the Snake river between Idaho and Oregon.

To help the company in the project, the administration also granted it the fast tax write-off privilege—a step which immediately created a heated controversy.

Ike's Alleged Anger At Earl Warren Denied

Washington.—The White House refused to "dignify" with comment today a published story that President Eisenhower is angry at Chief Justice Earl Warren because of recent Supreme Court decisions.

When the report was brought to the attention of White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, he said:

"I wouldn't even dignify the story with a comment."

Move May Abolish Un-American Committee

Washington.—Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.) told the House today a move is underway to abolish its Committee on Un-American Activities.

The committee is currently embroiled in controversy over its right to televise hearings.

Maneuver Seen Attempt To Swing Votes in Congress

ODM Officials Accept Request by Company

Washington.—The Office of Defense Mobilization today accepted Idaho Power Company's request that its application for fast tax write-off privileges on its Hells Canyon private power project be cancelled.

The company filed the application Thursday as the Senate debated a bill seeking to authorize a government high dam for public power, flood control and conservation to supplement Idaho Power's program.

Democratic senators charged then and again today that the company gave up the write-off in an attempt to swing congressional votes against the federal proposal.

ODM officials discussed the cancellation at a conference this morning. A spokesman said a telegram had been received from T. E. Roach, Idaho Power president, withdrawing the application.

Inquiry Promised

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of a Senate subcommittee which has been investigating the write-off, said the inquiry will continue. He sent Roach a telegram asking him to "wire immediately the names of officers of the executive branch of the government with whom he or other company officials discussed the cancellation."

In the Senate, meantime, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, (R-Utah), asserted the company's decision had deprived the Democrats of their best propaganda weapon in the current battle of public vs. private power. He said he would ask other private companies in the Pacific Northwest to follow Idaho Power's example.

Neuberger Sees 'Ruse'

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), branded the decision of Idaho Power Co. to give up its fast tax write-off privileges as a "ruse" to defeat the controversial Hells Canyon bill.

Neuberger and other public power advocates questioned the motives of the company in taking the step at a time when the Senate was nearing a vote on the Democratic-sponsored bill to have the government construct a single, high, power and flood control dam in the canyon.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21 (AP)—The Senate today approved a bill to authorize construction of a "high" dam at Hells Canyon on the Snake river.

The vote was 45 to 38.

The bill still must be approved by the House Interior Committee and then passed by the House itself.

Washington.—The Office of Defense Mobilization today accepted Idaho Power Company's request that its application for fast tax write-off privileges on its Hells Canyon private power project be cancelled.

The company filed the application Thursday as the Senate debated a bill seeking to authorize a government high dam for public power, flood control and conservation to supplement Idaho Power's program.

Democratic senators charged then and again today that the company gave up the write-off in an attempt to swing congressional votes against the federal proposal.

ODM officials discussed the cancellation at a conference this morning. A spokesman said a telegram had been received from T. E. Roach, Idaho Power president, withdrawing the application.

Inquiry Promised

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of a Senate subcommittee which has been investigating the write-off, said the inquiry will continue. He sent Roach a telegram asking him to "wire immediately the names of officers of the executive branch of the government with whom he or other company officials discussed the cancellation."

In the Senate, meantime, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, (R-Utah), asserted the company's decision had deprived the Democrats of their best propaganda weapon in the current battle of public vs. private power. He said he would ask other private companies in the Pacific Northwest to follow Idaho Power's example.

Neuberger Sees 'Ruse'

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), branded the decision of Idaho Power Co. to give up its fast tax write-off privileges as a "ruse" to defeat the controversial Hells Canyon bill.

Neuberger and other public power advocates questioned the motives of the company in taking the step at a time when the Senate was nearing a vote on the Democratic-sponsored bill to have the government construct a single, high, power and flood control dam in the canyon.

Dams Authorized

The Eisenhower administration already has authorized Idaho Power to build three privately-owned low dams in the canyon on a stretch of the Snake river between Idaho and Oregon.

To help the company in the project, the administration also granted it the fast tax write-off privilege—a step which immediately created a heated controversy.

Ike's Alleged Anger At Earl Warren Denied

Washington.—The White House refused to "dignify" with comment today a published story that President Eisenhower is angry at Chief Justice Earl Warren because of recent Supreme Court decisions.

When the report was brought to the attention of White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, he said:

"I wouldn't even dignify the story with a comment."

Move May Abolish Un-American Committee

Washington.—Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.) told the House today a move is underway to abolish its Committee on Un-American Activities.

The committee is currently embroiled in controversy over its right to televise hearings.

Maneuver Seen Attempt To Swing Votes in Congress

ODM Officials Accept Request by Company

Washington.—The Office of Defense Mobilization today accepted Idaho Power Company's request that its application for fast tax write-off privileges on its Hells Canyon private power project be cancelled.

The company filed the application Thursday as the Senate debated a bill seeking to authorize a government high dam for public power, flood control and conservation to supplement Idaho Power's program.

Democratic senators charged then and again today that the company gave up the write-off in an attempt to swing congressional votes against the federal proposal.

ODM officials discussed the cancellation at a conference this morning. A spokesman said a telegram had been received from T. E. Roach, Idaho Power president, withdrawing the application.

Inquiry Promised

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of a Senate subcommittee which has been investigating the write-off, said the inquiry will continue. He sent Roach a telegram asking him to "wire immediately the names of officers of the executive branch of the government with whom he or other company officials discussed the cancellation."

In the Senate, meantime, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, (R-Utah), asserted the company's decision had deprived the Democrats of their best propaganda weapon in the current battle of public vs. private power. He said he would ask other private companies in the Pacific Northwest to follow Idaho Power's example.

Neuberger Sees 'Ruse'

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), branded the decision of Idaho Power Co. to give up its fast tax write-off privileges as a "ruse" to defeat the controversial Hells Canyon bill.

Neuberger and other public power advocates questioned the motives of the company in taking the step at a time when the Senate was nearing a vote on the Democratic-sponsored bill to have the government construct a single, high, power and flood control dam in the canyon.

Dams Authorized

The Eisenhower administration already has authorized Idaho Power to build three privately-owned low dams in the canyon on a stretch of the Snake river between Idaho and Oregon.

To help the company in the project, the administration also granted it the fast tax write-off privilege—a step which immediately created a heated controversy.

Ike's Alleged Anger At Earl Warren Denied

Washington.—The White House refused to "dignify" with comment today a published story that President Eisenhower is angry at Chief Justice Earl Warren because of recent Supreme Court decisions.

When the report was brought to the attention of White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, he said:

"I wouldn't even dignify the story with a comment."

Move May Abolish Un-American Committee

Washington.—Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.) told the House today a move is underway to abolish its Committee on Un-American Activities.

The committee is currently embroiled in controversy over its right to televise hearings.

Maneuver Seen Attempt To Swing Votes in Congress

ODM Officials Accept Request by Company

Washington.—The Office of Defense Mobilization today accepted Idaho Power Company's request that its application for fast tax write-off privileges on its Hells Canyon private power project be cancelled.

The company filed the application Thursday as the Senate debated a bill seeking to authorize a government high dam for public power, flood control and conservation to supplement Idaho Power's program.

Democratic senators charged then and again today that the company gave up the write-off in an attempt to swing congressional votes against the federal proposal.

ODM officials discussed the cancellation at a conference this morning. A spokesman said a telegram had been received from T. E. Roach, Idaho Power president, withdrawing the application.

Inquiry Promised

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of a Senate subcommittee which has been investigating the write-off, said the inquiry will continue. He sent Roach a telegram asking him to "wire immediately the names of officers of the executive branch of the government with whom he or other company officials discussed the cancellation."

In the Senate, meantime, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, (R-Utah), asserted the company's decision had deprived the Democrats of their best propaganda weapon in the current battle of public vs. private power. He said he would ask other private companies in the Pacific Northwest to follow Idaho Power's example.

Neuberger Sees 'Ruse'

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), branded the decision of Idaho Power Co. to give up its fast tax write-off privileges as a "ruse" to defeat the controversial Hells Canyon bill.

Neuberger and other public power advocates questioned the motives of the company in taking the step at a time when the Senate was nearing a vote on the Democratic-sponsored bill to have the government construct a single, high, power and flood control dam in the canyon.

Dams Authorized

The Eisenhower administration already has authorized Idaho Power to build three privately-owned low dams in the canyon on a stretch of the Snake river between Idaho and Oregon.

To help the company in the project, the administration also granted it the fast tax write-off privilege—a step which immediately created a heated controversy.

Ike's Alleged Anger At Earl Warren Denied

Washington.—The White House refused to "dignify" with comment today a published story that President Eisenhower is angry at Chief Justice Earl Warren because of recent Supreme Court decisions.

When the report was brought to the attention of White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, he said:

"I wouldn't even dignify the story with a comment."

Move May Abolish Un-American Committee

Washington.—Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.) told the House today a move is underway to abolish its Committee on Un-American Activities.

The committee is currently embroiled in controversy over its right to televise hearings.

Maneuver Seen Attempt To Swing Votes in Congress

ODM Officials Accept Request by Company

Washington.—The Office of Defense Mobilization today accepted Idaho Power Company's request that its application for fast tax write-off privileges on its Hells Canyon private power project be cancelled.

The company filed the application Thursday as the Senate debated a bill seeking to authorize a government high dam for public power, flood control and conservation to supplement Idaho Power's program.

Democratic senators charged then and again today that the company gave up the write-off in an attempt to swing congressional votes against the federal proposal.

ODM officials discussed the cancellation at a conference this morning. A spokesman said a telegram had been received from T. E. Roach, Idaho Power president, withdrawing the application.

Inquiry Promised

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of a Senate subcommittee which has been investigating the write-off, said the inquiry will continue. He sent Roach a telegram asking him to "wire immediately the names of officers of the executive branch of the government with whom he or other company officials discussed the cancellation."

In the Senate, meantime, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, (R-Utah), asserted the company's decision had deprived the Democrats of their best propaganda weapon in the current battle of public vs. private power. He said he would ask other private companies in the Pacific Northwest to follow Idaho Power's example.

Neuberger Sees 'Ruse'

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), branded the decision of Idaho Power Co. to give up its fast tax write-off privileges as a "ruse" to defeat the controversial Hells Canyon bill.

Neuberger and other public power advocates questioned the motives of the company in taking the step at a time when the Senate was nearing a vote on the Democratic-sponsored bill to have the government construct a single, high, power and flood control dam in the canyon.

LIONS PRESIDENT—Stanley Jones, left, president of the Medford city council and acting mayor, greets John L. Stickle, president of Lions International from Charlotte, N.C., as he arrives at the Medford airport yesterday. Stickle will speak at a district governor's banquet starting at 7 p.m. today at Hedrick Junior High school. —(Kenn Knackstedt photo)

Lions International President to Speak At Banquet Tonight

John L. Stickle, Charlotte, N.C., president of Lions International, will speak at a district governor's banquet at 7 p.m. today at Hedrick Junior High school.

Stickle arrived in Medford yesterday with his wife and daughter, Nancy, for the 33rd annual state convention of Lions clubs and auxiliaries.

Registration for the three-day convention was held yesterday at the Jackson hotel. About 850 men and women have registered for the convention. The first business session was held this morning at the Craterian theater, and another business meeting, at which time officers will be elected, will be held tomorrow morning.

A golf tournament was scheduled at Rogue Valley Country club this afternoon. Plane trips over Crater Lake National park and other sightseeing trips were planned.

Scheduled tomorrow are a breakfast at Hedrick Junior High honoring club presidents and secretaries, an award luncheon at Hedrick honoring new district governors and their wives, and a variety show at Hedrick at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Following the variety show, the district governor's ball will be held starting at 9:30 p.m.

The Vancouver, B.C., Lions club's 25-girl bagpipe band, which is en route to San Francisco for the International convention, will make a public appearance on the street near the Craterian theater about noon Saturday. The band, which is expected to arrive in Medford late this afternoon, will be in the downtown area late today. The band will play on downtown streets most of Saturday afternoon, Lions club officials said.

Prineville Road Block Nabs Holdup Suspects

Prineville.—A Berkeley, Calif., youth and his 16-year-old girl companion from Happy Camp, Calif., were arrested at a roadblock here today and accused of the armed robbery of a service station at Vida, Ore.

George Larson, 62, operator of the station, told police he was called out of his home at 11:10 p.m. by a man identified as Marvin Kenneth Arnold, 21, of Berkeley and asked for gas. As he was servicing the car, Larson said Arnold pulled a gun and demanded his money on threat of death.

Larson said the couple took about $97 in cash.

Gloomy Skies Seen As Summer Arrives

By UNITED PRESS

The weather man greeted summer in Oregon today with a forecast of gloomy skies.

In a five