

Bartow Studs' Hurler For Camp White Tilt

Jerry Bartow is the probable pitcher for the Medford Cheney Studs Saturday night when they battle Camp White at 7:30 p.m. at the Veterans Administration domiciliary's Ricker field.

The ex-Washington State collegian joined the Studs this week. He is not stranger to Cheney players who have played against him in the now suspended Southern Oregon league. Bartow was in a Coos Bay-North Bend uniform last season and ranked as the No. 2 hurler in the SO circuit behind Medford's Derald Woolton. In 1953 Bartow was with the Drain Black Sox.

Bartow was a Northern division all-star for the championship WSC Coogars in 1956. He is the stepson of Carl Mays, Portland, ex-major league hurler. During the past year Bartow has been working for his master's degree. He is studied to be a teacher and coach.

Mound foe for the new Studs' tosser will be picked from among three VAD men, according to Keith Johnson, Camp White manager. The three are Ned Landers, ex-Medford high and Southern Oregon college; Fred Herrman, ex-Crater high, and Don Sanford, ex-Jacksonville.

There will be at least a couple of new faces in the Camp White line up with Dennis Conner, ex-Medford high, the likely shortstop and Dave Campbell, from Cave Junction, possibly playing third base. It'll be either Campbell or Kimura at third. Other probable starters are Dick Woolton, first base; Richie Price, second; and Dick Nix, Charles Rettman and Bob Serak or Bob Smith in the outfield.

Medford line-up may be Frank Roelandt, catcher; Jack Cooney, first base; Larry Perkins, second base; Frank Rector, third base; Ron Owings, shortstop; and Ed Reinking, John Kovenz and Jerry Droscher, outfielders.

Glendale is contending Saturday night in league play at Cave Junction. RVL games on Sunday are Cave Junction at Butte Falls and Talent at Glendale.

Names of four judges who will serve with Dr. Fred Landis, Chico, Calif., at the first annual Oregon State Water Ski championships have been announced by officials of Crater Lions club, sponsor of the meet.

The combined American Water Ski association competition and novice tournament will be held on Saturday and Sunday, June 29 and 30, at Gardener lake east of Medford.

Landis, west coast regional vice-president of the AWSA, will be chief judge. Others judging will be Dr. Lewis B. West, Seattle; Lon Skinner, Medford; Sam Paragary, Bakersfield, Calif.; and Floyd H. Vance, Sacramento, Calif. Skinner is tournament co-chairman along with Dr. Norm Capsey.

Some 30 experienced skiers from Pacific coast towns have made commitments to enter the AWSA portion of the meet. The list of novices from this area is mounting.

Novices Listed

Among the novices are Marvin Woods, Ashland, Dr. Capsey, Chuck Herman, Duke Anderson, Roger Fields and Chuck DeLorme, Medford, in the men's class; Myers Jones, Medford, in the veteran's class; Art Gardener, Eagle Point, in the boys' division and Mrs. Phyllis Skinner and Carol Tams, Medford, in women's competition.

Woods, Capsey and Gardener are said to be doing well in the Slalom and Gardener is good on the jump.

Meet events include tricks as well as the jump and slalom.

Entry blanks and tournament information are available at Big Y Food and Seed, Johnston Street, Rogue Sportsman, Medford Marine and Owen Boat works.

Skiers may practice at the lake after 5 p.m. today, on Saturday afternoon and all day on Sunday. They are asked to bring their own skis.

Collegians Threaten in Trans Miss.

Dallas, Tex. — Walker Cupper Rex Baxter Jr. headed a batch of college youngsters who made up exactly half of the field as the 54th annual Trans-Mississippi golf tournament hit the third round today.

Actually, with Baxter as the bellwether, the University of Houston's NCAA defending championship team seemed to be using this storied tournament as a warm-up for the National Collegiate championship next week at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Four other members of the Houston team were in the field of 16 which set out over the troublesome 6,706-yard Brook Hollow Golf course today in search of quarter-final berths.

In addition to the 21-year-old Baxter, from Amarillo, Tex., the Gulf Coast university also had Jim Hiskey of Pocatello, Idaho, in the top half of the draw and Bob Pratt of Seattle, Wash., Jacky Cupit of Gregton, Tex., and Frank Wharton of Dallas still in contention.

It fell Hiskey's lot to try and cut down defending champion Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City today as the tall, thin Oklahoman continued his search for a fifth Trans-Miss title. Coe has been named non-playing captain of the Walker Cup team which meets the British squad late this summer at Minneapolis.

You'll Save Haying Time and Work with a JOHN DEERE No. 8 FORAGE HARVESTER

Quite a statement, isn't it, saying you'll make more money with a John Deere No. 8 Forage Harvester and save time and labor to boot!

And that's just what you'll do, for the No. 8 has every feature you want and need to speed up work, make it easier, produce better feed at lower cost. The No. 8 gives you such things as three interchangeable harvesting units—mower bar, windrow pickup (shown above) and row-crop unit... six-knife "open-face" flywheel cutter... uniform-speed feed rolls... higher quality construction and a long list of other features.

We've never seen another forage harvester that can hold a candle to the No. 8. Come in and see for yourself.

MEDFORD TRIBUNE SPORTS

Fred E. Chez, ex-Medford high school athlete and a graduate of Stanford university, is the photographer who snapped the color picture which appears on the cover of the June 24 issue of Sports Illustrated.

The picture shows Bob Gutowski, Occidental college, clearing the bar for a new world pole vault record.

Fred, who gained his master of arts degree at Stanford last January and who will teach at a San Jose High school starting this fall, has a national reputation for his photos, a number of which have been used for covers on national magazines. His name has been in "Who's Who in Color Photography." In 1953 Chez was named the best college sports photographer in the United States.

ARMY OFFER

Chez's "Steps and Shadows" won the only honorable mention in an International Intercollegiate Photography contest. He has taken many pictures in Mexico and took numerous others in the Army in Europe which brought him the offer of an instructorship in the Army photography school. Seventy-five of his pictures were on display at the Stanford museum early this year.

Chez, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Chez, 812 Palm st., was married last Tuesday to the former Jonita Stiff, a graduate of Northwestern university and student at Stanford for Muskogee, Okla. His brother, Joe, was best man. Joe, an ex-Medford athlete and ex-Stanford baseball star, is with Prudential Life insurance company at Sacramento, Calif., is married and has two daughters.

Challenge Right To Be Hardtop Auto Feature

A special match race between Wayne Lemley in A-57 and Crook Hunter in 15-X will be an added feature this Saturday evening in hardtop auto races at the Valley View speedway.

The even probably will go for 10 laps and is planned for after the regular main event.

Current point leader at Valley View and the 1956 track champ will be matched in the race. Lemley is in front of drivers this year with a 139 total. Hunter, the defending champ, is in present second place 39 points behind. Lemley reportedly issued the challenge with Hunter eagerly accepting.

Both drivers have a good following at the Valley View oval and the challenge chase is expected to be a considerable attraction. The match developed out of last week's main event in which Hunter spun out and lost the lead. Contention arose that Lemley's car had had something to do with the spin. Lemley went on to win the race.

Saturday's program will include A and B trophy dashes, four heat races, a main and semi-main and the challenge run. Time trials are slated for 7 p.m. with the first race at 8 p.m.

A meeting of the Rogue Valley racing association is scheduled this evening at the track to discuss matters of race operation. It will be at 8 p.m.

Willie Mays Gets Many Star Votes

New York — Willie Mays, who batted .500 as a part-time performer in three previous All-Star games, apparently will be voted into the National League's starting lineup for the first time this year.

The New York Giants' brilliant center fielder is one of five National League players who have opened up huge leads in the voting for the starters in the annual midsummer classic at St. Louis, July 9.

The latest figures released by Commissioner Ford Frick's office today reveal that Mays has received 27,032 votes for center field compared to Brooklyn Dodger center-fielder Duke Snider's second-place total of 10,276.

First baseman Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals has attracted 32,766 votes for a 28,000-lead over Gil Hodges of the Dodgers, while left-fielder Frank Robinson of the Redlegs, right-fielder Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves and catcher Ed Bailey of the Redlegs also have leads of about 20,000 for their positions.

Schoendienst Ahead

Red Schoendienst of the Braves leads Johnny Temple of the Redlegs in the second-base balloting; Roy McMillan of the Cardinals leads Al Dark of the Cardinals for the shortstop berth, and Ed Mathews of the Braves tops Don Hoak of the Redlegs in the voting for third base.

The fan poll closes on June 27.

Sluggo Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox continues as the top vote-getter in the American league with 39,481 for left field. Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' triple crown winner, is the second top-vote-getter with 37,715 and second baseman Nelson Fox of the Chicago White Sox ranks third with 34,652. All have tremendous leads over their closest rivals.

Third base is furnishing the closest competition with Reno Bertoia of the Detroit Tigers showing the way with 14,124 votes. Gil McDougald of the Yankees is second with 11,750 and George Kell of the Baltimore Orioles is third with 11,087.

First baseman Vic Wertz, shortstop Harvey Kuenn, right-fielder Al Kaline and catcher Yogi Berra are the other leaders.

450 Athletes Gather For National AAU

Dayton, Ohio — Some 450 of the nation's top track and field athletes will toe the line tonight in the 67th National AAU championships.

The most impressive display of talent in the history of the event, has the cast including 11 Olympic champions and all but three winners of last week's NCAA championships plus dozens of more foreign stars.

Meet officials expect American and world records to fall in wholesale lots if the weather stays good.

Featured at the Dayton High school stadium track will be 21 events, with competition beginning at 7:30 tonight in eight of them, while the rest will be run off Saturday.

Olympic Champs

Olympic champions on deck are Charles Jenkins, Villanova, 400-meter dash; Tom Courtney, Army, 800-meter run; Parry O'Brien, Los Angeles AC, shotput; Al Oerter, Kansas, discus throw; Harold Connolly, Boston AA, hammer throw; Lee Calhoun, North Carolina college, high hurdles; Charley Dumas, LAAC, high jump; Glenn Davis, Ohio State, 400-meter hurdles; Rev. Bob Richards, LAAC, pole vault; Greg Bell, broad jump; and Milt Campbell, decathlon champ who will compete in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Bob Rosburg Paces Open

Flint, Mich. — Pudgy Bob Rosburg has come a long way from the time he had to make the decision whether to turn his talents to baseball or golf. Although he chose golf, he hasn't forgotten his baseball swing.

Rosburg took his unorthodox swing and a hot putter into the second round of the $37,000 Flint Open today. The 31-year-old San Franciscan carded a 6-under-par 33-32-65 Thursday to take a 2-stroke lead in the tourney.

Four Tied

Arnold Palmer, No. 2 money-winner on the circuit, was tied with Johnny Pott and Canadians Al Balding and Stan Leonard for second with 67.

It was like old home week for Rosburg and Palmer who have marked up some of their greatest successes in Michigan.

Rosburg last year won the Motor City Open at Detroit and Palmer grabbed the 1954 Amateur title. Palmer birdied three of his last four holes Thursday.

The wensel is the most blood thirsty killer of all North American animals.

Dick Smith Signing Told

Glide, Ore. — Dick Smith, $4,000 richer despite a broken ankle, prepared today for a baseball career which he hopes will eventually land him a place on the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Smith returned here from Los Angeles where he signed a contract with the Dodgers at a $4,000 bonus price. Although he started in high school as a pitcher, he was signed as an outfielder. He suffered the broken ankle while sliding at the tryout camp.

Smith has been a star athlete at Glide High school.

Cornell Has Favored Role In Regatta

Syracuse, N. Y. — Cornell's unbeaten varsity crew will enter Saturday's 55th Intercollegiate Rowing association regatta the strongest favorite in the six years the event has been rowed on Lake Onondaga.

Cornell's varsity crew, coached by Phil Gravin, have never been beaten in this blue ribbon crew classic. They won the freshman title three years ago, ran away with the varsity three-mile race the past two years and this year 11 other coaches say they can't be beaten unless their shells sink.

UCLA Seeks Break From Conference

Berkeley, Calif. — UCLA today sought to break out of the strict Pacific Coast conference and Cyril Nigg, Bruin alumni president, said he was "strongly hopeful" his school will get the green light.

"We're strongly hopeful that the board of regents will vote to let us move out of the conference," Nigg said on the eve of the meeting. "However, I can't say what will happen. We expect President Robert Gordon Sprout to make some kind of proposal but we don't know what it is."

The Bruins and the University of California, although worlds apart in football policies, belong to the same statewide institution which is governed by one board of regents.

Trouble Started

Threats of a bolt date back to last summer when the conference gridiron scandals broke and UCLA was among four member schools penalized for infractions in the Bruins' case, it included being barred from the Rose Bowl until July of 1959.

The latest drive for UCLA to clear out refused last month after the PCC started to allow penalized seniors to play half their games this autumn as was the case with last fall's four-year men. The Bruins also barely escaped being expelled from the conference, staying in by a vote of 5-4. Nigg proposed the secession which will be studied today.

In the meantime, California also is reported to want out, not because of strict athletic code, but because the austere Bears feel it is not rigid enough.

Lack of Action

Chancellor Clark Kerr of the mother campus recently said that Cal might leave the PCC since the conference had not taken any "constructive" action toward clearing up the reasons for past difficulties.

Kerr favors greater responsibility on the institutions, which would have to furnish athletes job records upon request, among other things.

Nigg's resolution was scheduled to be discussed by the regents' Education Policy Committee Thursday before it was submitted to the full board today. The session was cloaked in secrecy and Sprout unavailable for comment.

Last Ditch Effort For Jim Norris

New York — Defense attorneys were making a last-ditch fight today to prevent Jim Norris and partner Arthur Wirtz from being forced out of Madison Square Garden.

In the final session of the boxing-monopoly hearing, they were trying to change the mind of Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan, who apparently believes the remedy to the monopoly is to make Norris and Wirtz dispose of their stock in the Garden Corp.

Kenneth C. Royall, former secretary of war and now head of the defense lawyers, claims such a divestiture would be a "cruel, retroactive punishment" for businessmen who thought their conduct of boxing strictly legal until Ryan found them guilty of monopoly in March. The monopoly verdict applied only to their conduct of title fights.

Must Be Divorce

At Friday's session the judge indicated he would force Norris and Wirtz, controlling stockholders, to dispose of their Garden holdings "because I personally feel there must be a divorce" of Norris, Wirtz and Madison Square Garden.

Norris is president of the Garden Corp.; Wirtz, a director. The Garden Corp. owns the International Boxing Club of New York. Norris and Wirtz also control the Chicago Stadium and its IBC of Illinois.

USED WARDEN'S NAME

Marquette, Mich. — Someone registered at a Flint, Mich., hotel under the name of Raymond Buckhoe, warden of Marquette Prison, and ran up a $104 bill without paying. Buckhoe wondered if the impersonator was one of his former prisoners.

Tom Hamlin, Pam Stacey Lose In OGA Junior Champ Matches

Portland — Biff Lovett of Portland met Jerry Mowlds of Vancouver, Wash., today for the Oregon Junior Golf championship.

Lovett advanced to the finals Thursday by defeating Mike Sweet of Caldwell, Ida., 6 and 4.

Mowlds had it tougher against Medford's Tom Hamlin, winning 1-up as he hit the flag with a nine-iron shot at the 18th hole.

David Munro of Portland took a 3 and 2 decision from Doug

Francis Guidry, Dale Thompson and Don Wendt each collected two hits for Crater Lake. Weatherford struck out 11 batters, walked one and hit one. Only two Courtesy men got on base in the five turns to bat.

Halcorn had 14 strikeouts. He hit two of the Maids with pitches and issued four bases on balls, three walks going to Shirley Hansen. There were two M and W miscues and a fielder's choice as nine Dairy Maids got on base. The girls had the bases loaded with two out in the final inning.

Rogue Valley drew much applause from the crowd for its efforts against the men and for a number of fine fielding plays.

Ragin of Oswego to advance to the Boys' final against Lynn Yturri of Okatari. Yturri won from Daryl Winn of Eugene, 2 and 1.

The finals went 36 holes. June Robinson of Tillamook and Joy Rubenstein met in the 18-hole Girls' division final. Miss Robinson downed Pam Stacey of Medford 6 and 4, while Miss Rubenstein won over Marcia Lessing of Portland 7 and 5.

Larry Berg, Medford, was playing today in the pee wee second flight finals of the Oregon Golf association junior tournament in Portland. Stan Downson, Medford, was eliminated in the sixth flight semi-finals of the boys' division yesterday.

CL Motors, M and W Gain No-Hit Victories in JC Softball League

Jackson County Softball association's two games last night had a couple of similarities. Each was a no-hit, no-run encounter and each ended 12 to 0.

Ron Weatherford hurled the verdict for Crater Lake Motors over Courtesy Chevrolet and Chuck Halcorn tossed the decision for M and W Chains Saw over the popular Rogue Valley Dairy Maids.

Crater Lake stretched its unmarred lead in the circuit with its third victory. It was the first setback for Courtesy which has played two games. M and W also in its second long fray, recorded its first win.

The CLM-Courtesy tangle was over in 4 1/2 innings since the Ford club had the required lead of seven runs or more after the Chevy's fifth batting turn. Dairy Maids made the Chain Saw club go the full route. M and W led only 3 to 0 after six innings, then powered for seven runs in the seventh.

Lou Schell had two home runs and a single against the girls. Jim House homered once and two-baggered twice and Mel Amaro got a roundtripper, double and single.

Salern, N.H. — Fourteen-year-old Bob Blodgett's homemade automobile has 63 speeds—56 forward and 7 in reverse. Bob paid $10 for the parts at a used car lot and devoted eight months to assembling them into a strange contraption that will go 50 m.p.h. on the highway and also serves as a tractor around his father's farm.
