

Yankees Mount League Lead Saturday; Dodgers, Phils, Pirates, Cubs Win in NL

By UNITED PRESS
Yogi Berra crashed a 13th-inning home run off relief pitcher Paul LaPalme Saturday to give the New York Yankees a 6-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox and enable them to take over first place in the American League.

Berra's blast, which followed earlier homers by Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron, rewarded Tommy Byrne with his second win of the season. Byrne, taking over in the fifth inning with the Yankees trailing, 5-2, shut out the White Sox on one hit for the last nine innings.

The victory was the Yankees' ninth in a row and their second straight in the four-game series with the White Sox. The teams conclude the series today with the White Sox needing a sweep to regain the lead.

A crowd of 33,130 saw Mantle hit his 20th homer in the first inning to put the Yankees in front, 2-0, only to have the Sox tie the score in the second and take a 3-2 lead in the third. Skowron's two-run homer cut the margin to one run in the sixth and the Yankees tied the score in the seventh when rookie Bobby Richardson scored from second base on an infield hit by Harry Simpson.

Detroit went 13 innings before edging Baltimore, 2-1, in the only scheduled night game. Paul Foytack, who had a no-hitter until the Orioles' Jim Busby led off the eighth inning with an inside-the-park homer, won his eighth game against four defeats although he needed help from Frank Lary. The Tigers broke a four-game losing streak when Al Kaline singled home Carlisle Maxwell with two out in the 13th inning.

Bob Lemon hurled his first complete game victory of the year as the Cleveland Indians whipped the Washington Senators, 7-1, and Mike Fornieles snapped his seven-game losing streak when the Boston Red Sox downed the Kansas City Athletics, 5-1, in other American League games.

Rookies Dick Brown and Larry Raines each hit a two-run single to help the Indians score six runs in the fourth inning and clinch the win. Lemon struck out four and walked two in winning his fifth game of the season.

The Red Sox clinched their victory with a four-run outburst in the third inning, featured by Frank Malzone's third homer. Arnold Portocarrero suffered his third loss for the Athletics whose only run came as a result of a homer by ex-Yankee Billy Martin.

The Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the first place St. Louis Cardinals, 6-4, the Philadelphia Phillies dropped the Milwaukee Braves into third place with a 4-2 victory, the Cincinnati Reds downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-3, and the Chicago Cubs

Find First At Inglewood

Inglewood, Calif. —P— Alfred G. Vandert's game old campaigner, Find, raced to a half-length victory Saturday in the $53,250 Inglewood Handicap at Hollywood Park, running down the favored Bobby Brocato on the backstretch and then maintaining his lead the rest of the way.

But Bobby Brocato faded to last in the five-horse field and Find fought off the challenge of little Eddie Schmidt in the run for the wire. Pit Boss was third and the Pie King fourth.

It was the fourth start for the seven-year-old Find at the meeting and his second victory along with two thirds for an outstanding record thus far.

Find raced the mile and a sixteenth in the fast time of 1:40 4-5 although well off Swaps' world mark of 1:39 set in the Inglewood Handicap last year.

Find was permitted to get away at 5-2 odds and he returned $7.10, 4.00 and 2.70 across the board. Eddie Schmidt paid $8.00 and 3.50 for place and show and Pit Boss returned $3.20 for show.

For a few fleeting moments it appeared that Bobby Brocato had returned to his form of last year when he won eight stakes and nearly $300,000 and pushed Swaps to several of his world records. But Bobby Brocato did not have it when the real racing began in the final half-mile and Find was there to take over.

clubbed out a 12-4 decision over the New York Giants in the National League game. The New York-Chicago game was cut to six innings by rain.

A double by Charley Neal and back to back triples by Peeewe Reese and Duke Snider provided the Dodgers with their winning runs in the ninth inning. Don Newcombe, who gave way to reliever Clem Labine in the ninth, picked up his seventh win of the year against six losses.

It also was his fourth victory of the season over the Cards. Rookie pitcher Jack Sanford registered his ninth win of the year against a lone defeat in setting down the Braves on six hits. Stan Lopata rammed a two-run homer in the fourth to spark the victory that moved the Phillies past the Braves into second place.

Chief Players Shift To Salem

Salem —P— The Salem Senators of the Northwest League will get five players from the Wenatchee Chiefs in a player shuffle brought about by Wenatchee getting several players from the defunct Clovis team of the Southwestern League.

The newcomers to the Senators will be pitchers Jim Jones, Tom Gibson and Chuck Lybeck, infielder Cal Bauer and outfielder Larry Segovia.

Manager Bill Brenner indicated that pitcher Sam Roim, outfielder Ted Rhodes and infielder Gene Laursen would be dropped from the Salem team when the newcomers arrive.

Mantle Most Popular Now

New York —P—Mickey Mantle of the Yankees replaced Ted Williams of the Red Sox Saturday as the nation's most popular choice for any position on the 1937 major league all-star team.

Mantle, who led both leagues in batting with a .381 average and was tied with Hank Aaron of the Braves for the home run leadership at 19 at the conclusion of Friday night's games, has attracted a total of 50,591 center field votes from the fans.

Williams, who had been the No. 1 vote-getter since the start of the nationwide poll, is now running second to Mantle with 49,942 votes for the left field berth.

The closest contention for any position on either team was at third base in the American League, where Reno Bertoia of the Tigers maintained a slim margin over both Gil McDougald of the Yankees and George Kell of the Orioles, who was last year's starter. Bertoia has 17,028 votes to 16,019 for McDougald and 15,503 for Kell.

Cornell Crew Wins Regatta

Syracuse, N.Y. —P— Cornell's varsity crew, tabbed the greatest aggregation of oarsmen assembled in this generation, swept majestically Saturday to its third straight three-mile college rowing championship on choppy Lake Onondaga.

Pulling steadily in the long sweeping stroke so characteristic of Coach Stork Sanford's crews, the powerful Big Red overhauled a sprinting Pennsylvania crew which had surprised everyone by jumping to a big early lead.

Edging in front at the two-mile mark, Cornell raced home two full lengths ahead of the Quakers with Stanford another length and one-half farther back in third place.

Cornell's excellent time of 15:26.2 was 18 seconds off the course record set by Navy's Olympic champions in 1952, the first year the IRA Regatta moved here. A brisk 15-mile-an-hour wind pushed the Big Red home.

Pennsylvania was timed in 15:32.6, and Stanford was clocked in 15:39.5. Princeton and Syracuse, expected with Stanford to give Cornell its greatest trouble, closed fast to grab fourth and fifth places in that order.

Far back and out of contention came Navy, Dartmouth, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Wisconsin and Columbia in that order.

Brantly Wins Southern Am Golf Crown

Miami Beach, Fla. —P— Young Ed Brantly of Chattanooga, Tenn., threw a steady string of pars at defending champion Arnold Blum of Macon, Ga., Saturday to win the Southern Amateur Golf championship with an upset 3 and 2 victory.

At the start of the 36-hole final, the 22-year-old Brantly, who never had survived the second round in three previous starts, was given little chance to deny Blum his third Southern title.

But the slight, Memphis State Teacher's college senior proved the coolest of the two and wielded an unerring putter that made his unspectacular down-the-middle golf shots pay off. Brantly dropped in a birdie-three to win the 34th hole and capture the title. He was one stroke under par for the distance over the difficult La Gorce country club course that presents 90 deep traps around the green for erring golfers.

Fanfare

It's the opinion of this writer that residents of the Rogue river valley who turn out to watch water skiers in the first annual Oregon State tournament next Saturday and Sunday are in for a real treat. The art was demonstrated to this writer and to Bob Vroman, Mail Tribune photographer, by Mr. and Mrs. Lon Skinner recently on Gardener lake, which will be scene of the tournament. Both gave demonstrations of the slalom which requires considerable skill on the part of the skier to round six buoys, by swinging back and forth across the course as the tow boat follows a straight route over the water.

The Skinners explained that contestants are rated on a point system for the buoys they round and that eliminations also are made by increasing speeds over the course. If that fails to produce a winner, then the tow rope is shortened making it more difficult to round the buoys.

The two skiers assured us, however, that the real thrill for spectators is in watching the jumps.

Gardener lake is a half-mile in diameter, private man-made reservoir. Skinner points out that it is ideal for a ski meet and provides good vantage points for spectators.

MOVIE STAR'S SON-IN-LAW

The son-in-law of Irene Dunn, famed movie actress, is a member of the Army's San Francisco Presidio baseball team which will face the Medford Cheney Studs at the fairgrounds here on Tuesday night June 2. He is Dick Shinnick, top pitcher for the Army nine. He's a Pittsburgh Pirate farmhand owned by Lincoln of the Class A Western League. Field manager and part-time third baseman for the Presidio, he had played in the California State League and the Arizona-New Mexico circuit. He is a brother of Don Shinnick, UCLA football player.

The Presidio club also includes an accomplished bull-fighter on its roster. He is Raoul Rios catcher-utility man a 5-7, 155-pounder who has experience in the Cuban and Puerto Rican pro leagues.

STRONG FLAVOR OF DUCK

University of Oregon flavor is strong on the roster of the Drain Black Sox who play the Cheney Studs here on Saturday night and Sunday afternoon June 29 and 30. Three ex-Ducks are Manager Ray Stratton, Pat Wholers and Norv Ritchey. Current Webfooters are Dan Luby and Stan Dmochowski, varsity men, and Jerry Phlug, who played Frosh ball last spring. Wholers has opposed the Medford nine before in a Drain uniform. Stratton has played for Bandon and Drain against the Studs. Luby and Dmochowski were members of the Bend club which completed with Medford and Drain last year in the Southern Oregon league.

MADDOX REAL PROSPECT

Terry Maddox, who signed with the Salem Senators of the Northwest league after three fine years as a University of Oregon baseball player, is considered a real professional prospect. According to a report picked up from Dick Strite, Eugene Register-Guard sport editor, Solon Manager Bill Brenner says that Maddox does three things "real well" — run, throw, and hit. Strite tells Brenner's opinion that Maddox can learn to field well in time. He does not come in or go out well on balls at the present time, the manager has stated.

Strite shows Maddox's records for three seasons of play in the Northern division. In that time he hit .370 for the Ducks, and totalled 33 runs, 39 runs batted in and five home runs. His best batting year was 1936 with .423 average and 28 RBIs. Maddox's fielding average for the three seasons was .967. Strite's figures show.

The Register-Guard writer says that Hugh Luby, manager of the Eugene Emeralds had hoped to sign Maddox but could not promise him as a regular. Salem gave Maddox $50 more per month than Eugene offered. Maddox's contract calls for him to receive 25 per cent of his sale price if sold.

Bert Weaver Takes Lead In Open

Flint, Mich. —P— Bert Weaver, a 25-year-old golfing unknown from Beaumont, Tex., fired a three-under par 68 Saturday to grab a slim one-stroke lead at the three-quarter mark of the $37,000 Flint Open.

Weaver, who lost his car but escaped injury when he was caught in last month's tornado at Kansas City, fired seven birdies and had four bogeys to take a one-stroke lead over Arnold Palmer, the second leading money winner from Latrobe, Pa., and Paul Harney, Bolton, Mass.

Bob Rosburg, San Francisco, who carried a four-stroke lead into the third round of the 72-hole tournament, had a disastrous six-over-par on the front nine and wound up with a 77 to fall five strokes off the pace.

Palmer, who turned pro shortly after he won the U. S. Amateur title at Grosse Point, Mich. in 1954, had a 66 in his third round after an opening 67 and a second-round 74. Harney, one of golf's young rising stars, had a 68 after earlier rounds of 70 and 69.

Gardner Dickinson Jr., Panama City, Fla., fired a 68 to grab fourth place with a total of 208 and defending champion Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., carded a 67 and was only three strokes behind Weaver at 209.

FISH LIFE CONSIDERED

Application being made to the federal government for planning assistance for Bear creek waterfowl protection and flood objectives in the application by the Rogue soil conservation district. Jackson County chapter of the Isaac Walton league and other agencies includes maintaining water high in the watershed and thus spreading run-off over a longer period. This would maintain late season stream flows and increase productive potential for salmon and trout.

The increased flows would benefit fish life by lowering water temperatures. By keeping flows in the natural banks of the river, loss of fish through stranding would be prevented.
