Camp Loze Echo to Hold Annual Open House Sunday

Open house will be held at the Girl Scout Camp Loze Echo at Lake of the Woods, Sunday, June 24 from 12 noon until 3 p.m.

This annual visitors day and tour of the Girl Scout camp is planned by the Established Camp committee and the staff members in charge during the camp season.

The day is set aside for the parents and friends of the campers and see the girls set aside for the different age levels. Visitors may see the improved waterfront and view on the spot demonstrations of safety and methods of the waterfront personnel for teaching campers of the three divisions: beginners, intermediates and advanced swimmers.

Visitors may view the dining lodge which is staffed by a dietitian and several cooks who will be getting ready for the camping season. Also included in the tour will be the infirmary where a registered nurse will be on duty, and the craft house.

Parents may become familiar with the daily routine of their daughter's activities.

Camp Director
The camp director, Miss Irene Knox, is returning from College Park, Md. for her third year as director. Miss Virginia McIntire of Long Beach, Calif., will be assistant camp director.

Counselors, unit leaders, and assistant counselors will be hostesses in 120 units they will be assigned to for the season. Nearly 40 staff members are available to instruct and help the campers this summer.

Camping officials report that a few vacancies remain for the camping season in the first session which is from July 7 through 14, the third session, July 28 through August 5, and the fourth session, August 6 to 16. The second session, July 15 to 25, is filled.

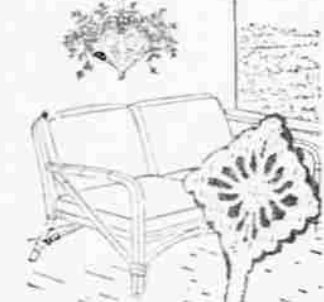

Girls interested in attending camp may call the Girl Scout office for information. They do not have to be a Girl Scout to attend the camp, officials said.

Garden Club Holds Annual Installation

Butte Falls—Mrs. Lee Shepard was installed as president of the Butte Falls Garden Club in a candle lighting ceremony held at her home, Mrs. R. T. Nuebel of Medford was installing officer.

Also installed were Mrs. Mattie Carson, vice-president; Mrs. William Edmondson, secretary; Mrs. Fred Kincaid, treasurer; and Mrs. Clay Conley, historian.

Tapers were set in an arrangement of sweetpeas, double mock orange, and English Broom for the ceremonies and were lighted in turn by each officer as she took her oath of office and received a corsage.

Mrs. Otto Nagel spoke on the fragrance of flowers. She stated that fragrance in the garden is an individual expression of the likes of the gardener. She added that to have fragrance it is necessary to plant for fragrance, and suggested several kinds of herbs and flowers for year-round planting.

She demonstrated the making of a potpourri and passed specimens of herbs from her garden among the members.

Roll call was answered by naming a flower in bloom in each member's garden. Four guests attended the meeting.

Hostesses were Mrs. Shepard and Mrs. Conley. The next meeting of the group will be at the Butte Falls Fish hatchery July 16 with the Eagle Point Garden club as guests.

Town in Quandary As Officials Reject Office

Eastville, Va.—This small town on the eastern shore of Virginia was in an uproar today over the results of a topsy-turvy election that swept the mayor and his six-man council out of office.

Elected on write-in votes were their wives and in one case the mother of a councilman.

The women, however, refuse to take office. They said the positions have been "made light of."

The men don't want their jobs back, either. They feel they've been made laughing stocks.

The trouble arose after the elections June 12 in which only 24 of the town's 110 registered voters turned out. The write-in votes which swung the election apparently were cast as a practical joke.

The women say they had nothing to do with the situation and have issued a statement declining to accept the voters' mandate.

Mrs. William R. Shannonhouse, who defeated her mayor husband by one vote, said the town's plight has been attracting a lot of attention elsewhere.

"We're getting calls to be on television shows," she said. "Magazines and newspapers are calling us—all because of a practical joke."

Mayor Shannonhouse said the Circuit Court of Appeals will have to decide what to do if the women remain steadfast against taking office. The present officials are scheduled to step out Sept. 1.

Corvallis Observes 100th Anniversary With Celebration

Corvallis — From a dusty little village at the confluence of the Mary's and Willamette rivers, Corvallis has grown to a bustling city of some 20,000 population.

This week it is observing its 100th birthday as a chartered city.

To commemorate the event the citizenry has planned three busy days of observance, highlighted by two parades, a stage show starring Hollywood star Dennis Day, and a square dance festival, all to be capped by a water pageant Sunday night.

Children's Parade
A charter night play and coronation of the Centennial queen and the Pioneer queen will get the celebration underway Thursday night. A children's parade will be the attraction Friday morning with various schools depicting different phases of the growth of the college city during its history. The Dennis Day show will be staged Friday night at Gill Coliseum on the Oregon State campus. It is the only feature of the celebration for which a charge will be made.

Saturday's parade, starting at 10 a.m., will have more than 225 entries. It is expected to be the largest parade ever held here. The square dance festival will be in the evening.

Also scheduled for Saturday are a water fight between the Corvallis and Monmouth fire departments, a picnic, a rose and flower show, horse show and micro-midget auto races.

YOUNG SWIMMER DROWNS
Long Beach, Wash. — Thomas Diederiks, 14, Seattle, drowned Saturday in the Pacific ocean five miles north of here while swimming in the surf, sheriff's deputies reported.

Accountants Slate Meet in Portland

A large delegation of southern Oregon public accountants will attend the convention of the Oregon Association of Public Accountants at Portland, Thursday through Friday, according to R. A. Brewer of Medford.

Brewer, one of the past presidents of the organization, will preside at some of the functions at the convention.

One of the principal speakers will be S. W. Horn, newly appointed member of the state tax commission who will be given an opportunity to outline publicly for the first time his views on state tax policy, Brewer said.

THE RIGHT ACTOR

Hollywood — After some initial difficulty, producer Jaime Del Valle has come up with someone he believes is the ideal person to portray the chief of the San Francisco fire chief in a television show. The "actor" is William Murray, fire chief of San Francisco.

ROBBERY NO. 6

Chicago — Sol Feuerstein, 47, an insurance collector, has a hard time keeping ahead in his work. He has been robbed six times in the past year, the last time Tuesday night.

PRACTICAL LEI — Sailing aboard the SS President Cleveland from San Francisco, Lois Cooper wears the latest fad in leis for June vacationers. It is complete with diary date book, pencil, balloons, matches miniature life rings, confetti and streamers. Lois, an advertising executive, is on her way to a convention in the Orient.

DOG'S OWNER LOST

Heidelberg, Germany — Army Lt. E. J. Gutwald, Aiken, S.C., is looking for his dog and for the Air Force owner of one shipped to him by mistake. Expecting his own dog, Gutwald received the strange animal by baggage. Now he's trying to trace the owner of the misplaced pooch, a Capt. J. R. Gentry, whose name is on the dog's collar.
