

Eames Family, Skinner Capture Togas in State Ski Tourney

Lon Skinner, Medford, captured the men's slalom championship yesterday in opening day contention in the first annual Oregon Water Ski tournament at Gardiner lake east of Medford.

Skinner won out by two and three points, respectively over two Seattle entrants, Rod Sampson, and Frank Countner, in the American Water Ski association-sanctioned meet sponsored by Crater Lions club.

An Antioch, Calif., trio made the slalom a family triumph with victories in three of the classes. Al Eames, 1955 coast champ, took the veteran's toga, Mrs. Nina Eames copped the women's toga and Gary Eames the junior boys'. It was father, mother and son. Junior girls' titlist was Carol Van Wyk, Stockton, Calif. Novice winners were Marvin Woods, Ashland, in the men's, Mrs. Mary Edson, Seattle, in the women's and Art Gardner, Eagle Point, in the veterans'. It was the first sanctioned meet for the three.

Trick Championship

Three trick classes were run-off also yesterday with 10-year-old Martha Ann Williams, Long Beach, winning junior girls, Gary Eames taking his second title by grabbing the junior boys, and Mary Edson, also becoming a double champ with victory in women's novice.

The tournament will conclude today with trick and jump events at the small man-made lake in the Yankee creek district some 15 miles from Medford. Today's competition opens at 9 a.m. with veterans' tricks. Men's and women's trick contests will follow. There will be rivalry in jump divisions for boys, girls, men, women and veterans.

Only a nominal charge for admission will be made. To get to the site motorists turn east off Crater Lake highway on to Antelope rd. and follow that route and Yankee Creek rd. to the lake. Antelope rd. intersects Crater Lake highway in the Camp White district. Signs designating the route are placed at points along the way.

Two Perfect Runs

In the men's slalom Skinner was one of five to make two perfect runs over the two-gate, six-buoy course at speeds of 24-26 miles per hour and 28-30 mph. He picked up seven out of a possible 16 points for the third run over the course. Sampson got five and Countner four. Skinner barely missed the gate at the end of the 32 mph out-run which would have given him an eight for that speed. Sampson spilled on the sixth buoy on his 32 mph and Countner on his fifth.

John Godfrey, Vancouver, B. C., 17-18 Pacific coast men's champion, and Bill Wall, Medford, were the others with two perfect 16-point tops. Godfrey a Denver university ice hockey player, upset on his fourth buoy at 32 mph and got three points on the run. Wall picked up two points. A field of 12 started.

Al Eames in the vets' class was followed by Floyd Vance, Sacramento, Calif., 1956 coast titlist, and Dr. Lew West, Seattle, was third. It took five trips over the course to break the deadlock between Eames and Vance. Dr. West made three jumps.

Five In Contention
Elva Swoffer, Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Dee Black, Sacramento, were second and third behind Mrs. Eames in the women's slalom. The three, along with Mrs. Jane Van Wyk, Stockton, Calif., and Mrs. Gloria Abben, Sacramento, recorded perfect runs.

Randy Paragary, Sacramento, was runner-up and Dor Guteleben, Alameda, Calif., third among junior boys in the slalom. For girls Vicki Vance, Sacramento, was second and Martha Williams third.

Novice places included Carol Edson, Seattle, second, and Mrs.

Rambler Climb Set for July 4

A July 4 hill climb will be sponsored by the Rogue River Ramblers Motorcycle club of Medford on the usual slope about four miles west of Phoenix off Coleman Creek rd.

The event is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. It is American Motorcycle association-sanctioned and will be under AMA rules.

Ramblers have extended the hill until it is 300 feet in length. The climb is considered a natural for competition, with its two dips requiring the rider to combine skill with speed.

The meet will be run-off in a time limit system with two classes of contests. Trophies to go to winners in both divisions. A small admission price will be charged to view the club but there will be free parking. A refreshment stand will be operated.

KESSELING WINS
St. Catharines, Ont., — Gerry Kesselring of Toronto Saturday won the Ontario Open Golf championship for the fourth time with a 54-hole total of 207 at the St. Catharines Golf club.

Phyllis Skinner, Medford, third in women's, and Myers, Jones, Medford, and Gordon Dodge, Sacramento, third in vets.

Woods was the only men's novice to make a perfect run and won over 11 others. Robert W. DeYoung, Gresham, took the place position and Deane Abben, Sacramento, the show.

62 In Slalom

A total of 62 entrants participated in the slalom. In the trick riding Vicki Vance was second junior girl and Colleen Dodge, Sacramento, third. Randy Paragary and Donald Guteleben finished in that order behind Eames in junior

ROSEBURG LEGION CLUB DOWNS MEDFORD 13-4

Roseburg Lockwood Motors, capitalizing on its hitting power, bases on balls and rivals' miscues, piled up a huge lead in the early frames and bounced Medford 13 to 4 Friday night in an American Legion junior baseball conflict at the fair grounds.

The Umpqua valley contingent, which took third in the nation in 1956, displayed its greater depth and experience, as it piled up a 11 to 0 margin in the first three innings and confined the Medford scoring to one stanza.

Wayne Allen, Medford's starting thrower, bore the brunt of the Roseburg swatting as the Lockwood Ford gang obtained three runs with three hits in the opening panel and seven markers on four safeties in the second. Four bases on balls helped the Roseburg offense at this stage of the game but two errors either accounted for or paved the way for five of the counters in the second inning.

Huycke Wins OGA Crown; DeMoss Hurt
Oswego — Ad Huycke, playing on his home course, soundly defeated Don Kreiger 7 and 6 Saturday to take away the defending champ's Oregon Golf association crown.

Oswego, Ore. — Gracie DeMoss, Corvallis, was forced to halt her playoff with Carole Kabler, Sutherlin, for the state women's amateur golf title Saturday because of an injured side.

Miss DeMoss quit after three holes. She had injured her side Thursday and played Friday with it heavily taped.

It was believed that a playoff between Miss DeMoss and Miss Kabler for the title might be arranged for the first part of August.

Oswego — Defending champion Don Krieger, 24-year-old Portland insurance salesman, and Ad Huycke, Oswego, won semi-final matches Friday to gain the Saturday finals in the Oregon Golf association match play tournament.

Krieger Friday birdied the 37th hole to eliminate Dick Yost, a fellow member of Columbia Edgewater Country club. Huycke dumped young Tom Shaw, 9 and 8, to gain the finals.

In the women's division, defending titlist Gracie DeMoss, Corvallis, ousted Sue DeVoe, Medford, 4 and 2, and Carole Kabler, Sutherlin, defeated Mrs. R. L. Borst of Portland Golf club, 1-up in semi-finals.

Mounts Edge Beavers, 1-0

By DON THACKREY
The Vancouver Mounties, with stingy pitching by Morrie Martin and the help of the hard-hitting Los Angeles Angels, climbed to within one game of the pace setting San Francisco Seals Friday night in Pacific Coast league play.

Martin threw a four-hitter at the Portland Beavers while his mates squeezed across a lone tally in the sixth inning to give the visiting Mounties a 1-0 win.

At Los Angeles, 18-year-old Bill Prout found his PCY pitching debut anything but encouraging. The newest addition to the San Francisco mound staff yielded a three-run homer to Steve Bilko in the first inning and a two-run circuit clout to Tom Saffell in the next frame. That was all the Angels needed for their 3-4 win.

It was Bilko's 21st four-bagger of the season. He leads the league in that department.

Hollywood missed a chance to make the pennant chase tighter by dropping a 3-0 decision to Seattle on the Rainiers' field, and fast rising San Diego moved to within 3½ games of the Seals with a 6-1 victory at home over last place Sacramento.

Little League Field Named for Oregonian
Honolulu — A Little League baseball field here will be named after Pat Blackwell, 10, of Valseit, Ore., who was killed while playing baseball near his home earlier this month.

The Navy will dedicate the field next Tuesday. Blackwell was killed June 6 when struck in the head by a ground ball.

Byron Baker was able to round the bases for an inside the park home run in the second inning. He whacked the ball fair into left field and it bounced deep and toward the wire fence back of the field line. Medford fielder Frank Peterson smashed into the fence trying to nab the ball. Four stitches were used to sew up the cut on his forehead and one on a cut below his nose. Peterson said he didn't see the fence.

Hits Recorded
Mike Hatfield, Larry Bissonette and Wes Young got the other hits of the inning and Bissonette, Ron Beamer and Lee McLarty all safeties in the opening inning.

Roseburg recorded a single run in the third inning on two errors, a base on balls, a double steal and a groundout. Beamer's triple, two bases on balls and an error were factors in two sixth inning scores.

Barr was effective on the mound except in the sixth when the hit and two walks loaded the sacks. He struck out five and walked three.

Bissonette got three hits, two of them bunts, in five turns at bat and Beamer hit two for four. In the seventh inning Bissonette got on base on one of his bunts. He stole second and headed on toward third when Catcher Bob Pond's throw went into the outfield. The runner was out on Centerfielder Perry's throw-in, however.

Krieger Friday birdied the 37th hole to eliminate Dick Yost, a fellow member of Columbia Edgewater Country club. Huycke dumped young Tom Shaw, 9 and 8, to gain the finals.

Daryl Spencer singled home Willie Mays from third base with one out in the 12th inning Saturday as the amazing New York Giants defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0, for their 14th victory in 18 games.

The Giants remained in sixth place despite their triumph but they are only six games behind the first-place Milwaukee Braves who walloped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 13-6, Saturday. The Cincinnati Redlegs beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-3, to replace the Cardinals in second place and the fifth-place Brooklyn Dodgers scored a 2-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

The Chicago White Sox and New York Yankees remained tied for the American League

Betsy Rawls Wins Women's Golf Open When Pung Is Disqualified

By STEVE SNIDER
Maharoneck, N. Y. — Betsy Rawls of Spartansburg, S.C., a 29-year-old pro who learned her golf in Texas, won the women's open golf championship for the third time Saturday when the Hawaiian-born Jackie Pung of San Francisco was disqualified for posting the wrong score after accepting congratulations as the apparent winner.

Forty-five minutes after Jackie finished her wind-lashed rounds of 73-72 for a total of 298, executive secretary Joe Dey of the U.S. golf association ruled she and Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., both had been disqualified for signing scorecards giving each a five on the par-four fourth hole.

Both, said Dey, had sixes. Ironically Jackie said she "thought" she had a six on the fourth hole but inadvertently signed a card recording five for that hole. Even the six would have given her the title with an official 298.

Mrs. Pung apparently was the victim of the excitement accompanying a victory she was sure was hers. It was an error of addition, her official card, the one she signed, contained the disastrous "five" but her total added up correctly to 72—the same total she'd have had if she had written down "six" for the fourth hole.

Miss Rawls, winner in 1951 and again in 1953 when she defeated Jackie in a playoff at Rochester, N.Y., led by three shots after a morning round of 75. She fought the high winds for a 76 in the afternoon for a 72 hole total of 299.

"It's always great to win, I guess," she said, "but I sure hate to do it this way. I feel sorry for Jackie. I know how I would have felt if it had happened to me."

Mrs. Pung, mother of two teen-aged daughters, came out of the hearing room with tears streaming down her face. One daughter, 15-year-old Barnette, tried to comfort her mother. She had played two magnificent rounds, one under par for the day, in a sometimes violent wind that came out of a secondary storm churned up by Hurricane Audrey. She knew she had to par the 72nd hole to win and confidently closed it out with a four-foot putt for a par four.

As she later described the fourth hole, she said she had "six" as other observers recorded—hitting her third shot into a tree, reaching the green in four and two puttings. But both she and Miss Jameson, who wound up with an 85 for 314, each recorded a five inadvertently on the official scorecard.

The U.S.G.A. unanimously adopted the disqualification rule for a wrong score last year after the men's open. In that tournament, Jackie Burke and Gil Cavanaugh were penalized two strokes for a wrong score after a special ruling by the U.S.G.A. Disqualification, however, was made mandatory for all future cases in a later ruling by the U.S.G.A.

"The player," explained Dey, "has been made solely responsible for turning in the correct score."

Fatty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., with a 73-75 for 305 finished second with 305. Betty Hicks of Long Beach, Calif., and ladies P.G.A. champion Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., tied for third at 308. Miss Hicks had 76-80 and Miss Suggs 75-76 on the final two rounds.

Betty Dodd of Louisville, Ky., followed with 310 and then came the Bauer sisters in a three-way tie at 311 with Jo Anne Prentice of Birmingham, Ala. Alice Bauer of Palos Park, Ill., the leader at the end of 36 holes, faded to an 87 in the morning and then had a 19. Marlene Bauer Hagg of Dallas had 81-77 and Miss Prentice 84-74.

Barbara McIntire, Toledo, O., amateur who lost a playoff to Mrs. Kathy Cornelius of Dayton, O., last year, led the amateur field with 82-76 for 313. Mrs. Cornelius was far back with 328.

lead when they picked on their favorite cousins, The White Sox downed the Washington Senators, 7-1, for their ninth win over them in 19 games, and the Yankees whipped their Kansas City "farm club," 7-6, in 10 innings. The Boston Red Sox beat the Detroit Tigers, 12-4, in the other American league daylight game.

Stu Miller and Sam (Toothpick) Jones matched 11 shutout innings at St. Louis before Mays opened the 12th with a triple. Willie held third as Bobby Thomson went out on a short fly and scored when Spencer singled to shortstop Alvin Dark's right. Hoyt Wilhelm, who took over for Jones at the start of the 12th, suffered the defeat while Miller, aided by Marv Grissom in the 12th, picked up his third triumph.

Hank Aaron blasted a three-run homer that snapped a 6-6 tie in the sixth inning and Ed Mathews followed with another homer that boosted the Braves' lead to 10-6. The Braves added three more runs in the seventh and relief pitcher Juan Pizarro shut out the Pirates in the last three innings to gain credit for his fourth victory.

Tom Acker went the distance for the first time this season and picked up his ninth win when the Redlegs kayoed Robin Roberts with a five-run outburst in the eighth inning. Two-run doubles by Gus Bell and Smokey Burgess highlighted the frame which dealt Roberts his 10th defeat.

Erskine Now Recovered
Carl Erskine, apparently fully recovered from the sore arm that bothered him since last season, picked up his second win of the year with relief assistance from Clem Labine on the strength of Roy Campanella's two-run homer in the fifth. It was the Dodgers' sixth straight victory over the Cubs this year.

Al Cicotte picked up his first major league victory when Joe Collins doubled home Yogi Berra with the winning run in the 10th inning. Little Bobby Shantz, seeking his 10th victory, was the Yankee starter but was routed as the A's scored four times in the fourth inning to take a 6-1 lead. Wally Burnette suffered his second loss in two days for Kansas City.

The White Sox exploded for four runs in the seventh to break up a mound duel between Jack Harshman and John Heise. Heise, a 24-year-old righthander making his first start since being brought up from Midland, Tex., of the Class B southwestern league, pitched good ball but was tagged with the defeat. Harshman yielded but six hits as he brought his season's record to 6-3.

Rookie Frank Malzone drove in six runs, including his first major league grand slam homer, as Boston jumped on four Tiger pitchers for 14 hits. Ted Lepcio and Jackie Jensen also hit for the distance as the Sox won their third straight and their 10th in 13 games on the current home stand.
