

Deputy Sheriff Held Prisoner by Ex-Convict During 9-Hour Chase

Martinez, Calif. —A deputy sheriff, held prisoner by an ex-convict during a wild, nine-hour chase through the north central part of California, Saturday, slugged and then shot his drug-crazed ex-convict captor.

The dramatic climax to a grim game of cat-and-mouse, which saw 23 police cars trailing the ex-convict and his deputy sheriff captive, came to an end here shortly after 9 a.m. (p.d.t.) It had started shortly before midnight at Madera, Calif., nearly 200 miles south of here.

Critical Condition
Taken to Contra Costa County General hospital here in critical condition was James Franklin Goldman, the 38-year-old ex-convict who effected his escape from Deputy Sheriff Harry Haring in Madera late Friday night.

The escape came when Goldman pulled a concealed gun on Haring who had arrested Goldman for questioning in connection with a Fresno, Calif., drug store robbery and a subsequent escape from sheriff's deputies earlier in the week.

Yesterday morning's wild ride began when Goldman commanded the deputy's car and took him as hostage.

Then followed a cautious "track the cat" game, with both sheriff's and highway patrol radio cars trailing Goldman as he drove a zig-zag course from Madera to Martinez.

Radio To Pursuers
But with Goldman at the wheel of the car most of the time, Haring radioed repeatedly to pursuers:

"Call off the pursuit. Goldman's getting an itchy trigger finger."

And shortly before the end of the chase, after Goldman had ordered Haring into the driver's seat, the deputy dropped a note which read cryptically:

"Get off my tail. My life is in danger."

But the pursuing line of cars, which had grown to 23, held doggedly to the convict and his captive, although they allowed them to make a stop for gas in nearby Pittsburg, Calif., 15 minutes before Haring ended the chase by wresting the gun from Goldman and shooting him in the stomach.

As the weird caravan wound its way around the back streets of Martinez, seat of Contra Costa county and located 25 miles northeast of San Francisco, Haring told Goldman:

Turns Away
"Take a look and see what street we are on and then tell me where you want to turn."

"Then, when he turned away to look, I clobbered him with a right to the jaw and grabbed his gun and fired at his stomach."

Haring said that Goldman "wuffed down" pep pills all night. "He gave me a couple but I just mouthed them and later got rid of them," Haring said.

The deputy said they refueled twice, once at Dos Palos and again at Pittsburg.

"He sent me into a drive-in once to get some drinks and when the malt and sandwiches were ready I told the waitress:

"Don't look up, there's a guy out there who has got me cornered."

Asked if he had warned off the trailing officers, Haring answered:

"I sure was waving them back. He, Goldman, warned me what would happen if they didn't fall back. He was unemotional, cold and got excited only at the very last."

Haring said he originally arrested Goldman late Friday night for questioning regarding the Fresno robbery.

"I became suspicious when I spotted him near North Fork in the Sierra foothills east of Madera," he said. "He was walking along with no shoes, no shirt and was heavily tattooed on both arms."

He said that during the wild ride Goldman talked about his life in prison and his younger days in Butte, Mont.

Ashland Schedules Parade on Thursday

Ashland — Several float entries have already been submitted for the parade planned at Ashland at 10 a.m. Thursday, July 4.

Parade divisions will include youth groups, service clubs, commercial floats, eras of local history, churches and mounted entries. Individuals are also urged to participate in the parade, according to Don Lewis and Malcolm Blohn, co-chairmen.

Line of march will be from the junior high school, Lithia Way to Oak st., across to Main st. and back to the school grounds. Judges will be stationed at various points along the parade route.

The First National bank is offering a grand prize of $25 for the best entry. Ribbons will be presented to the first and second winners in each division. Presentation of awards will be made at the band concert, which will follow the parade.

Entry blanks may be obtained from Blohn at the First National bank or from Lewis at Southern Oregon college.

Racetrack Figure Pleads Innocent to Conspiracy

Portland — Thomas E. Maloney, Seattle and Spokane racetrack figure, pleaded innocent Friday to two conspiracy indictments returned during the vice probe here.

Discussion of trial dates was set over until Monday.

dark jewels

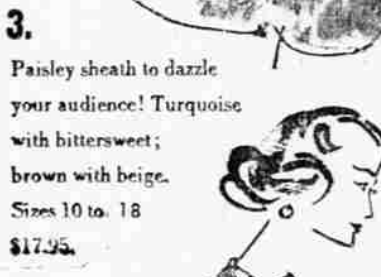

Come see our Complete new transitional collection by L'Aiglon on our famous fashion floor . . . the 2nd

2.
Tapestry print with serrated neck and sleeves. Black with brown; black with green; black with blue. Sizes 10 to 18. $19.95.

1.
Imported cotton print in two parts. Black with blue; black with blue; black with red. Sizes 10 to 18. $19.95.

3.
Paisley sheath to dazzle your audience! Turquoise with bittersweet; brown with beige. Sizes 10 to 18. $17.95.

L'Aiglon

the jewels of your wardrobe—and worth a queen's ransom in fashion! Six jewels by L'Aiglon in fine dark cotton, each a perfect setting for your social life from the first moment you think of Fall straight through the milder, winter weather. L'Aiglon does them beautifully, meticulously in dark city colors, brilliant country tones and in smart silhouettes for every figure.

4.
Plaid shirtdress with tabbed bodice. Blue with green; brown with royal blue; camel with red. Sizes 10 to 18. $19.95.

5.
Plaid for smart inter-season commuting. Brown, red or blue predominating. Sizes 10 to 18. $19.95.

Prettiest thing on two legs—

Archer Nylons

Archer has a particular talent for flattery. It begins with the sheerest of nylon, fashioned to cling to every contour. Next, the most heavenly shades to compliment your costume. And not ever to be passed over lightly is the exquisite quality of Archer stockings—a quality that guarantees more wearings and a retention of their first-day-on beauty.

For the final touch of perfection you've a choice of three precisely fashioned leg sizes: Trim for the Petite, Tween for the Average, and Taper for the Statly.

Archer

Stockings for Lovely Women

Mann's

medford

the coolest place in town . . . medford