Are you 65 years of age and therefore at the retirement age? You really should be just a young fellow. Or, so claim the longevity experts. An animal should live six times the period he becomes full grown. Therefore it is said a man should live to be 360. At 65 he should have 85 years of life to come. It is improbable that you can reach the age of 120 though some of your grandchildren may. You can add quite a few years to your life, according to the aforementioned longevity experts, by walking, gardening, cycling, swimming, and indulging in a lot of tennis and golf. One expert makes an interesting suggestion: "Get a dog." The idea is that the dog will make you do much walking. A military posture, head up, stomach in, can add years to life. The waist measurement is important. It should be the same as it was when you were 20 years of age.
