

Mantle's 22nd Homer Gives Yanks Two Game Lead, Loss Cuts Milwaukee's Lead

By MILTON RICHMOND
United Press Sports Writer
One stroke of Mickey Mantle's bat—literally a lightning shot in the dark—was all the Yankees needed to put some daylight between them and the second-place White Sox.

That stroke by Mantle with one out in the 10th inning Monday night resulted in his 22nd homer of the season, a blow that produced a 3-2 victory over Baltimore and stretched the Yankees' lead to two games over Chicago.

The Yankee slugger had the satisfaction of winning the game before 405,276 fans, largest crowd ever to witness a major league night game in Baltimore. Southpaw Whitey Ford, making his first appearance since being sidelined with a sore shoulder, May 21, was credited with the victory in relief although Bob Grim had to bail him out when the Orioles threatened in the bottom of the 10th.

Detroit topped the White Sox, 5-2. Kansas City snapped an 11-game losing streak with a 10-3 decision over Cleveland, and Washington nipped Boston, 5-4.

Braves' Lead Cut
The St. Louis Cardinals cut Milwaukee's lead in the National League to a half-game with a 5-3 victory over the Braves; the Phillies defeated the Pirates, 4-4; Brooklyn licked the Giants, 2-0, and the Cubs blanked Cincinnati, 6-0.

Charlie Maxwell got the Tigers off winging against the White Sox with a two-run homer off Jim Wilson in the first inning and Al Kalne also homered in the sixth to start a three-run rally. Lanky Jim Bunning struck out seven and yielded eight hits, including a homer by Minnie Mi-noso, in recording his ninth victory.

The Athletics, who hadn't won a game since June 19, hopped on Early Wynn for five runs in the first inning to clinch their victory against Cleveland. Tim Thompson's three-run homer was the big blow in the first inning assault on Wynn. Even with that lead, Kansas City starter Arnie Portocarrero needed relief from Tom Gorman, who was the winner. Ike Delock's walk to Bob Usher with the bases full in the seventh inning enabled the Senators to score the tie-breaking run in their game with the Red Sox. Reliever Pedro Ramos held Boston hitless over the last four innings to gain his sixth victory and snap a five-game Red Sox winning streak.

Cards Unearned Victory
Two errors by Eddie Mathews and two by Johnny Logan helped the Cardinals to five unearned runs as they ended a six-game Milwaukee winning streak. The Cards staked their starter, Murray Dickson, to a 5-1 lead but the Braves knocked him out with a three-run rally in the fifth inning when Hank Aaron hit his 24th homer and Wes Covington homered with one on. Herm Wehmeier, who relieved Dickson, was the winner.

Granny Hamner and Rip Repulski each drove in two runs in a five-run eighth-inning rally that produced Philadelphia's victory over Pittsburgh. Pirate starter Ronnie Kline had a three-hit shutout until the Phillies knocked him out in the eighth. Jim Hearn was credited with the victory in relief of Jack Sanford.

Don Drysdale of the Dodgers cooled off the red-hot Giants on five hits as Junior Gilliam played a key role in Brooklyn's triumph with a first-inning homer and a brilliant performance afield. The loser was southpaw Johnny Antonelli, who gave up six hits before retiring for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Rookie pitcher Dick Drott of the Cubs celebrated his 21st birthday by striking out eight batters and holding Cincinnati to four scattered hits in registering his seventh victory. The Cubs collected 10 hits, including a homer by Walt Moryn, as Joe Nuxhall suffered his fifth setback.

LONGEST JUMP—Rod Sampson, of Seattle, Wash., demonstrated near-perfect form as he soared 104 feet in the men's jumping event at the Oregon State Water Ski tournament at Gardner lake east of Camp White Sunday. The jump was the best of the day and helped Sampson earn the men's overall crown, nosing out Lon Skinner of Medford, who took second place. In the men's jump, the tow boat travels at a maximum speed of 35 miles per hour and the skier gains an additional 10 miles an hour by cutting into the ramp at an angle. The event is judged on distance and form.

Eight Yanks on AL All-Star Team, Loes May Be Starter
Chicago—Baltimore's Billy Loes or Detroit's Jim Bunning, both rookie right handers in All-Star competition, appeared today as the most logical choices for starting pitcher for the American League in next week's 24th renewal of the annual inter-league battle.

Other right handers from whom New York manager Casey Stengel can pick his workmen will be his own Bob Grim and Early Wynn of Cleveland with a 10-8 record.

The southpaws were Don Mossi of Cleveland, Chicago's Gene Andrews of Pacific Palisades, Calif. (72); Frank Keck of Champaign, Ill. (73); and Roger Peacock of Silver Springs, Mw. (74).

In grave danger were Middle-coff, Al Jamison of Leesburg, Va., and Al Zimmerman of Phoenix, Ariz., each of whom had an opening-round 75. Two years ago on this course was 148—and that means these Yanks probably will have to improve to at least 73 today to qualify.

In desperate straits were Larry Carpenter of Springfield, N.J. (79); Jimmy E. Thompson of Bakersfield, Calif. (80); Tom Draper of Detroit (80), and Johnny Musser of Baltimore, Md. (81).

MEDFORD TRIBUNE SPORTS

PRESIDIO BASEBALLERS OPPOSE STUDS TONIGHT

Medford Cheney Studs face what may be their toughest opposition in a string of six non-league games tonight when they host the Army's Presidio club from San Francisco.

The game has an 8 p.m. starting time. It will be third in a series of combats outside the Rogue Valley league for Medford. The Studs, who beat Drain twice last week end, will meet the Black Sox again Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Drain. Medford entertains a Washington counterpart, the Seattle Cheney Studs on Saturday and Sunday.

The Presidio club, which will come here from a Monday night engagement at Klamath Falls, had an impressive record of 25 victories in 32 games at last report. A good number of players with minor league professional experience and others who have played college ball make up the squad.

Major Look Farmhands
On the team are baseballers who are farmhands of the Pittsburgh Pirates, New York Giants, Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago White Sox and the Boston Red Sox. Three or four, at least, have played Class A pro ball. A number of the players have starred in other sports.

Pitcher for tonight for the San Francisco stationed team may be picked from among Dick Shinnick, Roger Collins, Fred Crissey, Danny Cook and Bob Clark.

Studs Manager Frank Roelandt has indicated that his hill choice will be Jerry Bartow.

Seixas, Flam Ousted At Wimbledon
Wimbledon, England—It was up to the girls to salvage some prestige for the United States today in the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., the last American survivor of an 18-man squad, were bounced out of the men's singles Monday. It marked the first time in 32 years at Wimbledon the United States failed to place a man in the semifinals of that division.

However, it was a different story in the women's singles, where five Yanks sought berths today in the semifinals.

In an all-American quarter-final match, four-time singles champion Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., played Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif. Top-seeded Althea Gibson of New York, striving to become Wimbledon's first Negro champion, faced Sandra Reynolds of South Africa. The other matches pitted Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, N.Y., against Rosa Maria Reyes of Mexico and Betty Rosenquest Pratt of Jamaica and South Orange, N.J., against Christine Truman of Britain.

Seixas was stymied in his bid to regain the men's singles title he won in 1953 when he bowed to Sven Davidson of Sweden, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4. Flam dropped a 6-3, 7-5, 6-1 decision to Cooper in another quarter-final match.

Head, seemingly unperturbed by reports he will turn professional after this tournament, continued his bid for his second straight title by eliminating his countryman, Mervyn Rose, 6-4, 4-8, 10-8, 6-3, while Fraser rallied to beat Ulf Schmidt of Sweden, 1-6, 6-4, 6-8, 6-4, 6-4.

In Wednesday's semifinals, Hoad plays Davidson and Cooper tackles Fraser.

French Middleweight Wins in Debut
New York—Middleweight Germain Ballarin of France made an impressive American debut while outpointing Bob Provizzi Monday night, but Provizzi admits, "I found him tougher than Sugar Ray Robinson."

Ballarin's unanimous decision over Provizzi of Freehold, Pa., in their TV 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena clinched for him another TV fight at Syracuse, N. Y., July 19, with fifth-ranked Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y.

Judgment To Be Filed Against IBC
New York—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan planned to file his final judgment against the Jim Norris boxing monopoly today.

The decision was expected to contain exact measures for breaking up the monopoly and the dates for their enforcement. Those measures were outlined in the judge's "decision on remedies" on June 24.

He had found the Norris combine guilty of monopoly last March.

Putting Exhibition Slated at Camp White

Camp White—Pro Al Williams and members of the Rogue Valley Country club will put on a putting exhibition at the dedication of the "pitch and putt" golf course at the Veterans Administration Domiciliary at Camp White this evening.

The dedication begins at 6:30 p.m. Domiciliary manager E. K. Ricker will make the dedication remarks, and Williams will give some pointers on the game. The Camp White orchestra will provide music.

New Singles Leaders in Pin Tourney

Bruce Williams, Coos Bay, and Ann Price, Brookings, have taken over leaderships in singles of the Southern Oregon Handicap tourney at Medford Bowling lanes.

Williams compiled a 721 over last week end to go on top in men's competition. He went into sixth in all-events with 1931 and he and Buck Gibson, Coos Bay, are 15th in doubles with 1245.

The Brookings woman had a 635 singles score. She stands third in all-events with 1738 and shares second in women's doubles with Cleo Rogers, Brookings, at 1144.

Frank Knox, Medford, and Bob Hosley, Brookings, are tied for fifth in men's singles at 678. Azalea Lanes No. 2, Brookings, assumed 11th in team play with 2968. Louis Dodd, Eureka, Calif., is 11th in all-events.

Ends July 13-14
Mann's Department store women's team, Medford, hopped into a tie for second with 2711. No competition in the tourney is set for this week end but the Southern Oregon will wind-up July 13 and 14 with the anticipated heaviest weekend of action in the event.

Business Men's Assurance, Roseburg, leads men's teams with 3039 Harry Ewe, Medford, and 2062 heads all-events and he and Marshal Brown, Medford, pace doubles with 1363. Wooden Shoe, Medford, tops women's teams with 2726. Sally Moreno, Roseburg, is all events leader with 1793 and she and Anita Nichols, Roseburg, have 1215 for top score in doubles.

Tim Travis Sets Record on Track

Tim Travis, Mike Myers and Gale Ann Richmond qualified in first three positions with Tim Travis setting a new track record of 10.78 at the quarter midget races held at Jackson Hote Springs Sunday.

The three vied in the trophy dash with Travis coming in first place. Dana Carder won the first and final heat of the day and took the main event trophy. Gale Richmond won the second heat and Janice Lemly won the semi-main event.

The drivers are competing for a six weeks trophy, donated by Darrell Miller company, to be given to the driver with the highest total points earned in six weeks of racing meets.

The quarter midget races are held each Sunday at Jackson Hot Springs beginning at 4 p.m.

Junior Loop Will Carry Bigger Stick

New York—The National league All-Stars, who have clobbered their American league rivals six times in the last seven years, once again will carry "a big stick" into next Tuesday's mid-season classic at St. Louis.

The aggregate batting average of the eight NL starters was .308 following week end games, while the men who will play at least the first three innings for the AL are hitting at a .293 clip.

In addition the National league squad is leading its rivals in total hits 663-550, home runs 91-80 and runs-batted-in 334-269.

Here are the individual batting averages of the All-Star game starters, exclusive of the pitchers who will be selected by managers Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Walt Alston of the Dodgers this week.

National league: Catcher Ed Bailey, Redlegs, .295; first baseman Stan Musial, Cardinals, .349; second baseman Johnny Temple, Redlegs,
