

Seals Nip Bevos to Sweep 7-Game Series

By JIM HEALY
United Press Sports Writer
Maybe all pitchers should strain a muscle, then come back into action after a two week layoff.
Look what happened to Jack Spring. He pulled a groin muscle 15 days ago and returned Monday night to allow Portland a scant three hits while leading San Francisco to a 2-1 lead over the Beavers.
The win also gave the Seals a rare seven game shutout during the series which was completed with Spring's game. In the only other game played, Sacramento dumped Seattle 4-3, taking that series four games to three. Los Angeles at Vancouver was rained out.

A Heartbreaker
The win over Portland was a heartbreaker for Bevo hurler Bob Alexander. He had a no-hitter going into the sixth when Bob Borkowski threw wild to first allowing Harry Malmberg on second. After much soul searching, the officials called it a hit and an error against Borkowski.

Malmberg scored on a single by Tom Umphlett, and the Seals did not get rattled and he forced the next man up to fly out.
Frank Kellert, first base power hitter for the league leading San Francisco squad, came through with a game winning single in the eighth that brought home Umphlett.

The only tally made by Portland came in the first frame on an unearned run. Second sacker Jack Phillips missed a heave by Kellert, allowing Bobby Adams on. Adams went to third and scored on a sacrifice by Ed Winecniak.

Portland returns home tonight to open a series against San Diego.

Al Williams Out in OPGA, Hogan Leads

The Dalles—Eddie Hogan, an ex-champion from Portland, took medal honors and then went on to win his first-round match Monday in the Oregon PGA golf championships here.
Hogan's 69 was one stroke better than the score posted by Al Williams of Medford in medal play. Hogan then went on to defeat Bobby Little of Vancouver, Wash., 3 and 2.

Williams, after his hot qualifying round, dropped a 3 and 1 decision to Ron Caperna of Astoria in match play.

Ed Oldfield of Roseburg rallied to defeat Clark Good of Klamath Falls 2 and 1; Larry Lamberger of Portland also staged a rally to defeat Horace Norman of Baker 3 and 1; Bunny Mason of Salem defeated Ray Whiteside of Coos Bay on the 19th hole; Bill Spivey of Portland took Bill Eggers of Portland one-up; host pro Jim Chenoweth defeated Howard Bonar of Portland, 2 and 1, and Eugene's Harold West defeated Ted Longworth of Portland 3 and 2.

Four men will qualify for Wednesday's 36-hole semi-finals in double matches today.

Van Brocklin Eyes Ninth Pro Season

Portland—Norm Van Brocklin, University of Oregon All-American, is getting ready to load his wife and three daughters into the family station wagon to depart for Redlands, Calif., where he soon will go into training camp with the Los Angeles Rams.

This will be Van's ninth season in the National Football league and he is hoping it will prove his best.

The "Dutchman" became a Portland resident last winter and plans to become a permanent member of the community when his playing days are over.

However, he figures he still has several more good years ahead of him with the Rams and is determined to make 1957 a memorable one.

Van Brocklin, who always keeps in good physical condition, has been working out regularly, playing handball, squash and golf in addition to getting in a few of his favorite fishing trips. He has also been throwing the football around a vacant lot, with his three young daughters employed to retrieve them.

Van will report to the Rams training camp at his regular playing weight of 200 pounds.

Frame of Mind
More important than his physical condition, however, is the fact that Van believes he is in the best frame of mind mentally in his illustrious career with the Rams.

"I have never looked forward to a season with more anticipation than this one," he says. "Usually, I dread the thought of all the heat and work at Redlands, but this year I can hardly wait to get there."

Van thinks the Rams could bounce right back and win the Western division championship in the NFL, a title they captured two years ago.

"If some of the rookies prove half as good as their notices we'll be a lot stronger and a real contender for the title," he said. "Jon Arnett and Del Shofner might be two of the best we've ever had."

Van is also looking forward to his annual appearance before the "home folks" when the Rams meet the Chicago Cardinals at Multnomah stadium Saturday night, Aug. 31. He has turned in six glittering performances in as many games there.

Oregon Sports attractions reports a heavy demand for tickets for the game, with reserved seats available by mail at its headquarters, 711 Executive building, Portland.

Glove Champ Offered Fight

New York—Promoter Teddy Brenner offered Olympic heavyweight champion Pete Rademacher $10,000 today for a Madison Square Garden fight next month with Alex Miteff, who registered his 10th straight victory Monday night.
Young Miteff of Argentina won a technical knockout over Fernando Fala of Philadelphia at the end of the second round of their TV bout in St. Nicholas arena.

Brenner of St. Nick's wired the $10,000 offer to Rademacher, who is training at Huston Lake, Ga., for a tentatively scheduled title fight with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson at Seattle, Aug. 22.

Monday night, Miteff's left hooks ripped a 15-stitch gash in young Fala's right brow. It bled so badly and Fala was so groggy when he went to his corner that Dr. Samuel Swetnick stopped the bout before the bell could ring for the third round. In New York state it was a second-round TKO.

State Tennis Tourney Gets Underway Monday

Portland—The 59th annual Oregon State Tennis tournament got under way Monday with most of the seeded players on the sidelines. Fifteen champions will be crowned by the time the event ends on Sunday. Longest match Monday saw Jim Burton of Tacoma defeat Scotty Powe of Seattle 2-6, 8-6, 8-6 in the boys' division. It lasted three hours and 50 minutes.
