Continuity of Government Goal In Operation Alert

Salem—(AP)—The first phase of Oregon's participation in the nationwide "Operation Alert 1957" got under way this week with continuity of government as the goal of the civil defense exercise.

Col. Arthur Sheets, state CD director, said the first phase of the exercise was a hypothetical period of world tension when nuclear attack was imminent.

Second phase will be a simulated attack sometime July 12 by nuclear bombs and missiles on more than 100 United States cities.

Portland and Salem are both critical target areas.

Relocation Surveys

State agencies in both cities were engaged in relocation surveys this week. The State Welfare Commission plans to use Linfield college at McMinnville for the test while the State Unemployment Compensation Commission will set up its manpower pool at Toledo.

State Board of Health personnel will locate an emergency medical service at Pacific university at Forest Grove.

Token evacuations from Portland will be arranged by the Department of Interior, Department of Agriculture, regional post office agency, the FBI and others.

Civil defense leaders will learn the extent of their local problems when they open sealed envelopes July 12 which will indicate which cities have been "attacked."
