

Variety of Ideas Shown in Fall Silhouette

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Correspondent
New York—Pay your money and take your choice of silhouette, fabric and color in the new evening clothes. Designers show skirts straight as a column, skirts with harem hemlines, skirts with short trains at the back but raised to mid-calf in front, skirts shaped like bells, lanterns or domes. Necklines show just as much variety, although the accent for fall is on bareness rather than cover. That old-time favorite, black crepe, is revived for both short and long evening wear in designer collections being shown this week to visiting fashion reporters. The shows are sponsored by the couture group of the New York Dress Institute. Flowers in Fall

The flowers that usually bloom in the spring are blossoming throughout Seventh Avenue's fall lines. These include flower-printed brocades and taffetas, some of them in neon-bright colors, others in muted combinations. Evening wear usually features glitter, but this fall there will be more than usual. It is a rare designer without at least one beaded, sequined or embroidered cocktail or evening dress in the collection.

Favorite fabrics for evening, beside the crepes, are chiffon lame, jacquard with its elaborate pattern woven in, the cut and panne velvets, satin chiffon, silk georgette, brocades and chantilly and re-embroidered laces.

Black and white, and the vivid blues, greens and reds shows through all lines. Fur trimming is a widely used for evening as for daytime. The firm of the late Hattie Carnegie collared a brocade dinner suit in white mink. Oleg Cassini showed a pale blue satin ball gown with a cerulean mink cuff around the strapless bodice. Tine Leser stressed the knit or sweater look in her clothes shown yesterday. One of her tricks for the college set is a wide striped knit jersey "union suit," covered by a black knit skirt. She combined extra long cashmere sweater tops with skinny-cut cashmere wool or tweed skirts.

Peach Pie
Peach pie is easy to make with canned cling peach slices. Thicken and sweeten the peaches, accenting with grated lime or lemon rind and juice. Chill in baked pastry shell, then cover with this superb crunchy topping. Boil together 2 minutes 1/2 cup each butter and brown sugar and lightly stir in 1/4 cup chopped roasted almonds and 1 cup cornflakes.

How's Your Memory?

Can memory be improved? What can you do to straighten it? Or how can you test and compare your ability with say, an elephant's memory, which rates higher than the average quiz kid's or college professor's—at least according to legend?

Do you suspect that you go wool-gathering more than Joe, next door, who can rattle off the Red Sox's scores for the past five years? Or that you cannot remember as well as Betty, who never forgets your birthday—or hers? Do you have a strong suspicion that if you were suddenly left to solo, you could not recite the LORD'S PRAYER or the PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE alone? And the STAR SPANGLED BANNER—can you remember any verse besides the first?

Well, how is your memory? Elephantine? Try it, for voltage on the following questions.

1. Do you remember your telephone number, and if you have a car, your license number?
2. What did you have for each meal yesterday? And what were you doing at this hour yesterday?
3. Complete the blanks:
 - a. Dwight Eisenhower
 - b. "..... unum" (Latin inscription)
 - c. "Don't pay too much for the" Benjamin Franklin
 - d. "..... Leagues Under the Sea" Ghandi
 - e. "Tis better to have and lost, than never to have at all."
 - f. Samuel Clemens was also known as

Loren Kerr of Canby, Ore., will judge the horse show this year. Mrs. Iris Dodge is chairman of the show.

The show is accredited with the Oregon Horseman's association and the points won here will count on championships for the state of Oregon. Riders from other parts of the state are expected to participate.

There is an entry fee for all horse show classes and a first place trophy will be awarded in each class with ribbons to fifth place.

Tickets are now on sale at the gate for the horse show. For further information telephone phone Mrs. Dodge at KEystone 5-2518.

Square Dance Sessions Told For Weekend

Three square dance groups will hold sessions this evening or Saturday night.

The Pioneer's dance club will be held at Kershaw Square tonight with Gordon Kershaw and Kenny Howe calling the squares.

The round dance review will begin at 8 p.m. with square dancing at 8:30 p.m. New officers will be installed at the session.

Guests are welcome and potluck refreshments will be served.

The Waggin Wheelers Square dance club will meet Saturday, July 13, in their new location at the Camp Corral at Camp White.

The public is invited and potluck refreshments will be served.

Fran Cronin will call the squares for the group meeting Saturday, July 13, in the Moose hall, at 8:30 p.m. The dance is open to the public and potluck refreshments will be served.

Picnic Sunday

A picnic will be held Sunday, July 14, at 1 p.m. in YouVelle State park by the RNA and Mistletoe club. Those attending are asked to take a lunch and their own service as hot and cold drinks will be furnished.

Swim Classes, Family Night Programs Planned at YMCA

The YMCA is now holding a swim class for mothers and children of pre-school age, ages 3 to 5, at 3 p.m. every Friday afternoon.

All mothers who are interested in learning to swim and for their children to learn to swim should register now.

The purpose of the class is that of teaching the mother the skills and techniques of swimming, and then the mother in turn teaches the children.

Instructor for the class is Jan Stevens.

The YMCA Family Night Committee announces that on Friday, July 19, there will be a family night program, from 7 p.m. until 10 a.m.

The program that evening will consist of various activities including swimming, family games in the gym, Bingo, refreshments, and a short get-together of all families at the end of the program. All families in Medford and the Rogue Valley area are invited to attend.

There are still some vacancies open for the July-August Tiny Tot swim session, according to YMCA officials. This session will begin on Monday, July 22. There will be sections, with classes for members on Monday and Thursday afternoons at 1 p.m. The classes for non-members are scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday mornings and Wednesdays and Saturdays at 9 and 9:45 a.m.

A service fee will be charged. For further details call the YMCA at SP 2-6295.

Fan-tan Rolls

Here's a way to heat baked fan-tan rolls and give them a fancy topping at the same time. Melt 3 tablespoons butter in a heavy skillet or electric fry pan and stir in 3 tablespoons each brown sugar and chopped walnuts. Place fan-tan rolls upside down in mixture. Cover tightly and cook over low heat about 5 minutes.

Children Get Proteins, Lack Some Vitamins

Washington — A three-state study of school children's eating habits shows they're eating well. But there's plenty of room for improvement.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture said the experiment stations in Iowa, Kansas and Ohio took a thorough look at diets of nine- to 11-year-olds. They found that most school children need more calcium, ascorbic acid and vitamin A in their daily fare.

In general, the youngsters ate plenty of protein-rich and cereal foods, but needed more vitamin-rich fruits and vegetables. The studies showed differences of eating habits in different areas. The diets of Iowa children, for instance, were highest in food energy value, vitamin A and ascorbic acid. Girls in Kansas received more protein than those in the other two states.

Advice on how the woman investor can handle her own money — and increase it — is offered in Ralph Epstein's new book, "How to Invest your Money," which is now available at the Medford public library.
