

Nine Police Officers To Start Three-Week Training Session

Nine Medford police officers tomorrow will begin a three-week training session, the most complete course of its kind ever offered by the department, according to Charles P. Champlin, chief of police.

Attending the classes, to be held four hours each day, Monday through Friday, will be five new officers, whose hiring was authorized by the city council Friday night, and four officers who have joined the department in recent weeks.

Various Speakers

The recruits will hear speakers from the city of Medford, police department, sheriff's office, state police, county juvenile department, district attorney's office, Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, Camp White domiciliary, fire department Oregon Liquor Control commission and the Medford Mail Tribune.

Classes will be conducted from 1 to 5 p.m., and the trainees will spend the hours from 5 to 9 p.m., observing departmental activities on the job.

Monday's session will open with Chief Champlin administering the oath of office to the new men. Mayor John Snider will make the opening remarks. City Manager Robert A. Duff will speak on city government and Chief Champlin will speak on departmental policies, "Law Enforcement as a Profession."

Others Are Listed
Other speakers during the course will include Lt. Rollie P. Pean, Medford police; Eugene K. Ricker, Camp White manager; Capt. Paul Parsons, state police; Sheriff Howard Gault; Mrs. Kay Crowell, County juvenile officer; Lt. Jack E. McMillan, Medford police; Lt. Lyle C. Perkins, Medford police; Sgt. Keith M. Gildesgard, Medford police; Miss Noreen A. Kelly, municipal judge; Roy E. Bashaw, city attorney; Thomas J. Reeder, district attorney; Sgt. Raymond V. Seely, Medford police; Sgt. Leo A. Mitchell, Medford police; Don P. McNeil, chamber of commerce secretary; Mrs. Bert Pree, chamber of commerce tourist chairman; Eric W. Allen Jr., managing editor, Medford Mail Tribune; Fire Chief Gordon R. Barker; Capt. Clyde C. Fichtner, Medford police; Lt. Orlo W. McGee, Medford police; and Inspector Alvin E. Hartley, Oregon Liquor Control commission.

Chief Champlin said the department has long wanted to present a program of this scope for trainees but this is the first time in which there have been enough recruits at the same time to warrant such a session.

Hugh Coleman Named Edsel Dealer Here

The Edsel-Ford Motor company's new medium-priced car to be introduced early this fall—will be sold and serviced in Medford through Coleman Edsel Sales, Inc., which has been announced as an authorized Edsel dealership by R. J. Siewers, Seattle district sales manager for Edsel division.

Long established in the Ford products automobile business and widely known throughout this area since 1950 when he took over the Ford Dealership in Medford, Hugh Coleman will head the new organization and also continue as head of Crater Lake Motors, Ford dealership. His automobile experience dates back to 1925 when he sold Model "T" Fords and has been connected with the Ford organization ever since.

Plans will shortly be announced by Coleman for plans in connection with the opening and the personnel to handle the new Edsel outlet.

Neuberger Won't Oppose Jameson Reappointment

Washington — Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) said Saturday he had notified the chairman of the Senate Finance committee that he had no objections to the reappointment of George F. Jameson as collector of customs in Portland.

Neuberger said he would not oppose such an administration appointment despite Jameson's active support of Neuberger's opponent in the last election.

FBI Has No Interest In Missing Teacher

Mineral, Wash.—The FBI has no special interest in the case of a missing Mineral Sunday school teacher, Richard Auerbach, agent in charge of the Seattle office, said here Friday.

However, Auerbach said the FBI would "act in liaison" with Lewis County authorities.

Eleanor Bolinger, 31, disappeared July 7 and only her bicycle, berry buckets and a pool of blood so far have been found.

Senator Green Making Excellent Recovery

Washington — Sen. Theodore Francis Green, 89, was reported making an "excellent" recovery Saturday at Bethesda (Md.) naval hospital after collapsing at a diplomatic party Friday night.

The hospital said Green, oldest man ever to serve in congress, suffered from a "very mild" case of heat exhaustion. The Rhode Island Democrat will remain in the hospital for two or three days to have his annual physical checkup.

Green, an habitual party-goer, collapsed at a reception at the Pakistan embassy. An aide said Washington's sticky 90-degree temperatures apparently got the better of the veteran senator.

Governor Knight Signs Omnibus Park Bill

Sacramento — Gov. Goodwin J. Knight said Friday he has signed an omnibus park bill appropriating $7,569,281 for expanded recreational facilities throughout the state.

The measure was one of a record 2,168 bills the governor has already signed to date. He has until midnight next Wednesday to work on some 478 remaining bills.
