Back Stairs: A Week End With Grandma

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
United Press Correspondent
Washington—Back stairs at the White House:

For three of the Eisenhower grandchildren, the President's participation in Operation Alert provided a nice week end and with grandpa and grandma.

David, 9, Barbara, Anne, 8, and Susan, 5, had fun tromping around in the woods at the secret White House hideaway, swimming in a nearby pool and even being entertained with a movie before bedtime.

The youngsters drove to the emergency White House with Mrs. Eisenhower, while the President made the trip by helicopter. The kids strolled by reporters who were busy at their typewriters recording the issuance of mock national emergency declarations.

Who got to see the best movie at the hideaway Friday night? One film was run off in the main dining room for newsmen, White House staff and military personnel involved in the "evacuation."

There were early reports that this would be a new Fred Astaire-Audrey Hepburn film. But after a projection screen was toted over to the Eisenhower quarters, that report de-

James Cox, Former Democrat Candidate For President, Dies

Dayton, Ohio. —James M. Cox, who rose from a country school teacher to be newspaper publisher, governor and Democratic candidate for president in 1920, died in his home here Monday night. He was 87.

On the 1920 ticket with Cox was vice presidential candidate Franklin D. Roosevelt, at that time assistant secretary of the Navy and who later was elected president four times.

Cox, Ohio's first three-time Democratic governor, won his party's nomination for the presidency on the 44th ballot in the 1920 San Francisco convention after a heated contest against U. S. Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer and Sen. William G. McAdoo.

Cox's nomination for president made certain an Ohio newspaperman would be elected the country's chief executive.

Democrats Move To Take Over Play On Tax Reductions

Washington.—House Democrats moved to grab the ball from the Eisenhower administration on economizing and tax-cutting.

Rejecting a fresh pronouncement by the President that this is no time to cut taxes, the Democrats planned to start hearings promptly on when and how to hand the public a tax reduction.

But the Democrats view Eisenhower's recently disclosed slash-back spending order to government agencies as a prelude to a tax-cut recommendation, probably next January.

The Democrats also sought to rob the administration of credit for economizing sufficiently to justify a tax cut.

The House Appropriations Committee called Budget Director Percival F. Brundage to testify today on the President's order to government agencies to hold current spending wherever possible to last year's level.

Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) said the committee wanted to know what was behind the order, how much Brundage expected to save and what is to be done with the surplus.

Cannon said the President's aim plainly was to pave the way for a claim next year that big savings had been made and taxes could be cut.

Graham Committee Ponders Extension

New York.—The Executive Committee that runs Billy Graham's New York Crusade will meet late today to determine whether to extend the crusade an additional two or three weeks.

A spokesman for Graham said the evangelist and the committee are "praying over the matter to decide whether the Lord is leading them to extend the meetings."

If the crusade is extended, it would be the second time the Executive Committee has so acted. The crusade opened May 15 and was to have closed June 30, but was extended to July 20.

Graham has called his crusade in New York "highly successful" and has outlasted and outdrawn every other attraction in the 30-year history of Madison Square Garden. Nearly 1,038,000 persons have attended his meetings, which are held daily except Monday.

Dances of Far East Scheduled at Assembly

Ashland.—Native dances of the Far East will be staged by Karoun Tookikian, soloist, and her ethnic dance theater group at Southern Oregon college tomorrow morning. The public has been invited.

The group will appear at 9 a.m. in Churchill hall on the campus. Miss Tookikian will do a series of dances in native costume. The group has been on tours through Europe and the United States.
