Legend May Take Race

Honolulu — The 50-foot sloop Legend out of Newport, Calif., appeared likely today to win the 1957 Transpacific yacht race from Los Angeles to Honolulu.

The Legend crossed the finish line Tuesday with a corrected time of 11 days, 41 minutes and 41 seconds to become the overall handicap leader in the race.

For a while, race officials thought the Nalu II might better this mark, but its expected arrival time of 5 a.m. meant that it would fall far behind the Legend.

The Legend was the fourth boat in the race to cross the Diamond Head finish line. The Barlovento was first, the Nam Sang was second and the Orient was third.

Rain Delays Net Tourney

River Forest, Ill. — Officials of the national clay court tennis championship today hoped to make up for time lost by rain.

Showers cut short the matches Tuesday, delaying play for about two hours in the afternoon and then interrupting later matches early in the evening.

Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., top-seeded and defending men's singles champ, lost no time Tuesday in trouncing two opponents.

Flam eliminated Bill Cullen, Southport, Conn., 6-3, 6-4, and then defeated Gary Duble, Hamtramck, Mich., 6-4, 6-2 in a second round match.

Defenders Lose In Portland Golf

Portland — Defending champions had it rough Tuesday in the Portland City golf championships.

Benny Hughes, the defending men's champ, was beaten by Ed Beck, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Harold Weiss, last year's women's king, was defeated by Mrs. Les Kangas, also by a 2 and 1 score.

Tebbits Maintains Robinson Target Because He's Colored

New York — Birdie Tebbits, fiery manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, today charged that "the only reason" National league pitchers are throwing at his No. 1 slugger, Frank Robinson, "is because he is a Negro."

Robinson suffered a concussion Tuesday night when struck by a pitch thrown by Ruben Gomez of the New York Giants in the eighth inning of a game at the Polo Grounds.

"I hate to say this," Tebbits said after learning that Robinson would be out of action for several days, "but I'm the boss of our club and, if I don't fight for my guys, who will? The pitchers are throwing at Robinson because he is a Negro."

The Redlegs' manager did not specifically charge Gomez with throwing a bean ball at Robinson, who was hit by pitchers 19 times last season and has been nipped several other times this year.

Eisenhower Keeps Newsmen Out When Visiting Farm

Washington — What do reporters do when they follow President Eisenhower to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm for the week end?

They usually follow him as far as the white gate to the handsome country estate and don't see him again until he flashes by in his limousine three days later heading for Washington.

From the questions put to newsmen about the farm—questions on everything from the color of the living room drapes to the size of the President's den—there seems to be a popular belief that reporters come and go there freely. The opposite is true.

No newsmen has been inside the farmhouse since the Eisenhower's completed their renovation of the house. And only rarely do newsmen even get inside the grounds — to watch the President accept a new farm animal, or Mrs. Eisenhower pose with a local beauty queen.

The hands-off policy stems from the Eisenhower's feeling that their week ends and their farm are their own private business. No press secretary ever goes along on the usual quiet week ends.

But because newsmen are compelled to accompany the President wherever he goes, in event of an emergency, a system has been devised whereby Secret Service agents are put into the unaccustomed role of news sources.

Under those operating procedures, reporters spend most such week ends sitting in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg — waiting for calls from the agents on any presidential activity.

Church and Golf
It is from the agents that reporters learn when and if the President will go to church on Sunday, and when and if he will play golf at the local country club. The agents also furnish after-the-fact reports, with no frills, on excursions the President may have made around his farm property or to the nearby farm of his friend, George E. Allen.

The only times newsmen are likely to see the President during the week end are on the golf course. When Eisenhower goes to church, newsmen watch him arrive, listen to the service from a back pew, and watch him depart.

When he plays golf, they see him tee off on the first green and finish up on the last green of the nine-hole course.

Between those two predictable activities—the golf usually on Saturday morning; the church at 10:45 Sunday morning — is when all the newsmen's sitting around comes in. Since a call from the Secret Service could come at any time, reporters seldom stray far from the hotel.

Diphtheria Found At Mental Hospital

Sedro Woolley, Wash. — Ten cases of diphtheria have been found at Northern State hospital and the institution has been quarantined, Supt. Charles H. Jones said Tuesday.

All visits were suspended for at least two weeks and no patients were being admitted or discharged, Jones said none of the victims so far was in critical condition.

Dr. Lucien Coquet, Skagit county health officer, said no cases had been discovered in the county outside the mental hospital.

Coquet said there was no reason to fear a general epidemic but he warned that persons with sore throats should immediately consult a physician.

Jones said both inmates and personnel had contracted the disease. The hospital employs 480 persons to care for 1,819 patients.

Paul Revere was born Jan. 1, 1735.

Hoad, Segura Tennis Foes

New York — Lew Hoad, the Wimbledon champion who got $125,000 to turn professional, tried his powerful game against Pancho Segura, the pigeon-toed South American with the two-handed forehand, today in the fourth round of the $10,000 Tournament of Champions at Forest Hills.

Hoad, who beat fellow Aussie Frank Sedgman in his pro debut last Sunday, needed a victory today to insure meeting Pancho Gonzales, the world's best tennis player, in the singles windup on Sunday.

Gonzales scored his second win in as many starts in the current tourney by beating Ken Rosewell, 6-2, 8-6, 6-4, Tuesday while Hoad was limiting his play to a doubles match. Gonzales played in doubles today.

Segura notched a mild upset when he beat Tony Trabert of Los Angeles, 6-4, 7-5, 9-11, 4-6, 7-5, in the other singles test. Sedgman played Trabert in today's other singles match.

In the doubles action, boss Jack Kramer and Hoad teamed up to defeat Segura and Dinny Pails, 9-7, 11-9, while Sedgman and Trabert turned back Gonzales and Rosewell, 6-4, 12-14, 6-4.

Camp White—First pitch and putt instruction on the Veterans Administration domiciliary golfing greens is set for Thursday at 6:15 p.m.

It will be given by Al Williams, pro at Rogue Valley Country club, Medford.

VAD officials have announced that a shuttle bus will be run from members quarters to baseball games at Memorial field. The activity at the stadium has proved popular but a number of members have been reluctant to go over to the games by wheel chair means.

A band from California is to stop at the stadium on July 29.
