MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—FIFTEEN

Three Counties Tell Secession Desires

Sandy, Ore. — Some residents of a mountainous, timber-rich area of Clackamas, Wasco and Hood River counties want to secede to form Oregon's 37th county.

John Mills of the Sandy Chamber of Commerce said the secession movement seemed to be gaining popularity.

Two tentative boundaries of the proposed county would be the Deschutes and Clackamas rivers. Other lines would have to be drawn after conferences between representatives of the secessionists in the three counties. A petition campaign would be required to make the movement official.

The area has vast resources of timber, hydro-electric potential and recreation facilities.

Portland Promoter Charged With Fraud

Portland — E. R. Erron, 56, Portland and Seattle promoter, Thursday was ordered to stand trial on 10 counts of fraud, despite the fact that he had already pleaded guilty to two additional counts.

Federal District Judge Gus Solomon said he would set trial dates Monday.

Erron, still jailed for lack of $30,000 bail, was accused along with several others for fraud in the sale of memberships in the Mount Hood Hareboard and Plywood Cooperative of Estacada, Ore., and the Beaver Plywood Cooperative of Salem.

Five co-defendants are awaiting sentencing on fraud convictions.

Truck Driver Given Dunsuir Jail Term

Dunsuir, Calif. — William K. Hobaugh, 27, Portland truck driver, was sentenced to serve three days in Dunsuir jail Thursday for exceeding the speed limit by 5 m.p.h.

Hobaugh was the first trucker arrested since city officials resolved to crack down on violators of truck speed limits. A week ago two persons were killed and six injured when brakes on a plywood truck failed and it careened through the city at speeds up to 75 m.p.h.

Dunsuir is located on a steep grade on Highway 99 and has had previous experiences with runaway trucks.

Sheppard Murder Case Reopened

DeLand, Fla. — The celebrated 1954 Sheppard murder case was reopened today on the basis of a "confession" by a Florida convict that he slugged a Cleveland, Ohio, woman the night Marilyn Sheppard was slain.

Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill announced in Columbus that Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, now serving a life term in prison for his wife's murder, will undergo a lie detector test.

Sheppard would not consent to a lie test in early stages of the murder case but later asked for one. He was denied the test at that time.
