ROGUE VALLEY LEAGUE STANDINGS	W.	L.	Pct.

Glendale	4	4	.500
Butte Falls	3	5	.375

Grants Pass	1	7	.125

With another sharp chugging charge by Jerry Bartow, who also wielded the most potent bludgeon of the day, the Medford Cheney Studs cleared a big hurdle Sunday in their quest for the Rogue Valley league baseball championship.

Bartow tossed a three-hitter as the Studs clipped Glendale 8 to 3 and extended their unbeaten streak to eight games in the RVL.

Glendale stayed in third place in the loop despite the loss but had company at that position when Ashland-Talent joined the Loggers by thumping Butte Falls 10 to 3. Cave Junction was more secure in second spot with an 8 to 4 victory over Grants Pass in the other Sunday game.

Homer Spits Shout

Ray Munyon ruined Bartow's opportunity for a shutout. The Medford thrower held the Loggers to one safe swat over the first eight innings. Pitch-hitter Buddy Smart led off the ninth with single but was forced out by Bob Stolz. Then Wayne Berg received the only walk Bartow gave up during the afternoon. Munyon followed with a three-run homer blast over the right field wall to account for all the Glendale scoring.

Collecting a three-bagger and two doubles in four times at bat, Bartow drove in three runs. Jerry Droscher put over two of the Stud markers with a single and Ed Reinking's sacrifice fly-out produced the other batted-in run. The two other Medford runs crossed the plate on errors.

John Kovenz was another heavy slugger for the Studs with two doubles in four trips and Larry Perkins hit two for five.

Bunt Misfires

Bartow struck out Loggers 12 times. Eleven of the putouts by the Studs were recorded on ground fielding chances. Four of the outs came from three fly balls, one of which was turned into a double play when Jack Snelling popped to Bartow on a misfired bunt attempt.

Medford clouted Glendale's starting hurler, Dwayne Miller, for eight of its nine hits. Miller walked only one man and fanned four but he hit four Stud batters with pitches, which could have had more serious consequences. One hit Eldon Francis on the top of the head but the reserve Medford catcher got up almost immediately to trot out to first base and continue in the game. Another toss was a painful one on Frank Rector's arm.

Francis replaced Manager Frank Roelandt when he suffered a finger injury in the seventh inning.

The Studs scored first in the second inning on a double by Kovenz, Roelandt's groundout and an error. With Kovenz on third, Miller unleashed a wild pitch. Munyon retrieved the ball quickly enough to discourage Kovenz from a try to come home but Munyon's throw to Miller, who had come into the plate, got away from the pitcher and Kovenz took advantage of the chance.

Droscher was hit by a pitch in the fifth inning and went to second base on Rector's sacrifice. Bartow cracked the ball to right field and was able to get to second base but Droscher, who had held up on the fly ball, stopped after reaching third. An error on a ball hit by Reinking got Droscher home.

Kovenz two-based again in the sixth inning. Ron Owens and Roelandt were hit by pitches and Droscher singled for two runs. A base on balls, two hit batters, fielder's choice, Bartow's double and Reinking's fly-out compiled four runs in the eighth inning.

Cotton Homers

Talent clubbed out 13 hits while pitcher Mark Fitch was limiting Butte Falls to four. Pete Cotton sparked the hitting with four safeties in five times up, including a homer with one man on in the second inning. Ron Weinholt hit two for two and Clyde Smith two for four including a double.

Big inning for Talent was the fifth with three runs, on singles

Crocker, Smith Take Homestead

Hot Springs, Va. — Fay Crocker and Marilyn Smith saved their lowest bid for the fourth round and shot an eight-under women's par 66 Sunday to win the Homestead Women's Four-Ball golf championship.

They went into the final round trailing the 34-hole leaders, Louise Suggs, Sea Island, Ga., and Mickey Wright, San Diego, Calif., by five strokes. Miss Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, and Smith of Wichita, Kans., brought their 72-hole total to a 15-under women's par 281 with their sensational performance Sunday. They finished four strokes ahead of the second-place Suggs-Wright combination.

Hoad Beaten By Gonzales

Forest Hills, N.Y. — Pancho Gonzales proved again that he is king of the pro tennis world and now promoter Jack Kramer can only hope that big Pancho doesn't turn out to be a financial prophet, too.

Gonzales completed a 5-0 clean sweep in Kramer's "Tournament of Champions" Sunday by whipping Jack's new rookie gate attraction, Lew Hoad of Australia, 9-7, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

That was the third beating in five matches in the tourney for fair-haired Hoad. And Kramer must remember painfully that Gonzales warned him this might happen. Pancho didn't want to play in the tournament because he thought losses suffered by Hoad might hurt the gate for the Gonzales-Hoad world tour starting next winter.

Medford Legion Nine Winner in Walkathon

Medford American Legion junior baseball aggregation won a walkathon victory over a United States forestry service team from the Union Creek district Saturday night.

The Medfordites did practically all the hiking on the base-paths and chalked up a 26 to 7 margin. Only eight hits were whammed out by the Legionnaires but they were recipients of 29 free passes to the bases off the three chuckers for the Rogue River forest men.

Short on practice and with a squad of only nine players, the Union Creek club just organized, was making its debut in competition.

Medford ran up 11 of its runs in the sixth and final turn at bat on a total of 11 bases on balls and four hits including a triple by Ron Peery, a double by Bob Pond and singles by Wayne Allen and Ray Konopasek. Seventeen would be Medford hitters faced Union Creek pitchers in the frame.

Six Runs Without Hit

In the third inning Medford got six runs without a hit. There were three bases on balls and four errors. Two runs crossed the plate on Dick Monroe's sacrifice bunt. Five Medford runs were recorded in the fifth inning on six walks, a hit batter, two errors and singles by Jerry Fields and George Lee.

Biggest Union Creek inning was the fourth when Mike O'Brien, Bill Tarr and Bob Brynning singled and there were two miscues in accounting for three runs.

Tarr was the game's leading swatter with a double and four singles in five trips to bat. O'Brien hit two for three. Peery was the only Medford batter with more than one hit with two for three.

Union Creek collected a total of nine safeties off Medford pitchers but the locals were no so liberal with bases on balls.

Tom Laurence pitched three innings for the Legion, yielding four hits, walking one and striking out eight. Wayne Allen went two innings on the hill, giving up four hits and three walks and fanning three. Dennis Barr was charged with one hit and one run and walked two and struck out five in two innings.

The Union Creek club is made up of young men, most of them from out of state, who have summer jobs with the forest service. It was reported that none of the nine is on a fire suppression crew. Kansas, Minnesota, California and Hawaii are represented on the team.

The Medford Legion is awaiting the outcome of district playoff games today and Tuesday. It will play the winner of the Roseburg-North Bend series.

McCarthy, Crawford Enter Baseball's Hall of Fame

Cooperstown, N.Y. — Ex-Yankee manager Joe McCarthy and former Tiger outfielder Sam Crawford today receive the highest honor baseball can bestow—induction into the Hall of Fame.

Shortly after McCarthy and Crawford made their acceptance speeches and plaques of them are placed in the shrine, the Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Cardinals were listed for a ball game before a sellout crowd on picturesque Doubleday field.

The 70-year-old McCarthy, who quit baseball in 1950 to retire to his farm in Amherst, N.Y., not far from Buffalo, gained most of his fame while managing the Yankees from 1931 to 1946, winning eight pennants and seven world series during that span.

A mediocre minor league infielder who never played in the majors, McCarthy made his major league managerial debut with the Chicago Cubs, whom he piloted from 1926 to 1930. After leaving the Yankees, he also managed the Boston Red Sox from 1948 to 1950.

Crawford, who was dubbed "Wahoo" because he came from Wahoo, Neb., played in the majors 19 years, four years with Cincinnati and 15 with Detroit.

Now 77 years old, the former outfielder had a lifetime batting average of .309 with a total of 2,964 hits.

One of Crawford's former Detroit teammates, Ty Cobb, will be among the Hall of Famers on hand for today's ceremonies.

Others scheduled to attend are Carl Hubbell, Ray Schalk, Home Run Baker and Frankie Frisch. McCarthy and Crawford will receive special plaques from Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick.
