Charles Porter Tours Indiana Home Plant

Washington, D.C.—Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) spent a full day recently inspecting manufacturing facilities and products of the National Homes corporation plant in Lafayette, Ind. The plant manufactures prefabricated homes in all price ranges and in a variety of architectural styles.

According to George E. Price, executive vice president of the firm who was Congressman Porter's guide on the tour, the National Homes corporation purchases virtually all of the 100 million board feet of lumber it uses each year from the Pacific Northwest. About 20 per cent of the total, or 20 million board feet, is purchased from mills in the 4th Congressional District of Oregon.

The company uses mostly Douglas fir kiln-dried stock "No. 1 and better" grade. During conference

During a conference with officials of the firm Porter asked, "How can the mills in my district better serve your needs and meet your requirements for a larger share of your purchase orders?"

Price said: "Tell your people we would be happy to order more carloads from mills in southwestern Oregon if we could be assured of getting what we want. The mills are reluctant to provide carloads of specified length, kiln-dried, but appear satisfied to take their chances with the market on random length cars. We don't buy green lumber and we don't buy random lengths."

Price said his purchasing department has bought a large amount of lumber from Weyerhaeuser and has also purchased from a number of other mills in southwestern Oregon, including Roseburg Lumber company, Pope and Talbot, Booth-Kelly

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice; it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Mrs. M. B.—Our daughter tells family secrets.

Tina B.—Doris and I have to talk things out.

Mrs. M. B.—We have recently made the shocking discovery that our 15-year-old daughter has been telling her closest friend all kinds of things about our intimate family life.

I have tried to always impress on Tina that certain things should not be discussed outside the family circle. Imagine my horror when I overheard her telling the daughter of one of the neighborhood gossips all about an argument my husband and I had the night before.

The girls then went on to discuss how their fathers worked "angles" on their income tax, and criticized them for drinking too much and spending too much money on unimportant things.

When I interrupted the girls and scolded both of them, they brazenly stood up for their right to discuss these things. I am at a loss to show them how wrong it is.

Chrysler Building Sold To Syndicate

New York.—The biggest real estate deal in New York City history was announced Thursday when Webb & Knapp agreed to sell three skyscrapers—including the Chrysler Building—for $66 million.

The buildings include the 30-story Graybar Building and the 32-story Chrysler East Annex besides the main 77-story Chrysler Tower, the city's second tallest building.

The buyer is a syndicate headed by Lawrence A. Wien. He will assume the 75 per cent control Webb & Knapp bought from the Chrysler family interests for $52 million in 1935.

The deal involves $20 million in cash.

COLLEGE DEAN DIES
Ithaca, N.Y.—Laurence Hill, dean of the school of health and physical education at Ithaca college, died Thursday. He was 67.

It is they who are in the wrong and they can't escape their own guilt by pointing the accusing finger at the sharp adolescent eye that has seen them, and the mind that has judged them.
