CHANCES ARE your kitchen can be a multiple-purpose room, even if it is small! For some ideas, take a look at this modern layout. Only 12x14 feet, it has facilities for working, dining, and laundering.

With the emphasis on easy maintenance, cabinets are white steel, counters wood-grained Micarta, and the double sink stainless steel. On the walls is a stainless-steel splashback. The Micarta counter doubles as a breakfast bar and also provides extra space for loading and unloading the combination washer-dryer. Separating the counter from the doorway is a divider-cabinet. Other features include a wall telephone, built-in radio, and over the range a copper hood with concealed exhaust fan. The entire area can be illuminated by ceiling spotlights.

This kitchen consolidates the homemaker's work, saving her steps as well as valuable space.

Double casement windows are set into wooden wall above Micarta counter. Note the built-in wall radio, telephone, and stainless-steel splashback.

On the other side of the kitchen is the work area, with the dishwasher, stainless-steel double sink, and electric range all within easy reach.
