

JACKSONVILLE School Reunion Held

By BETTE HOSKINS
Jacksonville — Mrs. Nettie Lewis Thompson, who taught Forest Creek school, just out of Jacksonville, in 1897, '98 and '99 gave a reunion picnic last Sunday, July 21, honoring former students of the school.

The picnic was given at the Jacksonville Museum grounds.

There were 23 guests present. They included Mr. and Mrs. John McKee of Central Point; Mr. and Mrs. John Higinbotham (formerly Mary McKee) of Central Point, John Atterbury, of Happy Camp, Calif., Ella Russell of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bostwick of Klamath Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burnelle, Central Point, (the former Mattie Dawson), Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bostwick, Medford, Mrs. Josie Brown, Klamath Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pearce of Jacksonville, Nancy Horn Coffman, of Forest Creek, Eva Horn McVay, Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wittingham of Ruch, Nate Russell of Central Point, who reported his wife too ill to attend.

Also present were Mrs. Pearl Whitney and Earnest Boyd of Jacksonville.

The reunion marked the passing of 60 years and as one guest aptly described it "a lot of water has run down Forest creek in the 60 years since the beginning of our friendship."

Another reunion taking place recently was the gathering together of the six children of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lawrence. Present at a reunion dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lawrence were four daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith of San Jose, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Jack of Grants Pass, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lemmon of Ashland and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pyeatt of Jacksonville. The couple's two sons and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lawrence both of Jacksonville, were also present as well as seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Out of town visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thurl Moore for a two weeks' visit are Moore's sister, Mrs. Mildred Potter and her three children, Marilyn, Jean and Freddie, all of West Virginia. This is the first time Moore has seen his sister in 25 years. The Potters have the added distinction of being the first guests from West Virginia to ever register at the Jacksonville Museum when they visited there this week.

Mrs. Nina Fryer who recently broke her arm is now at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welch, their son, Charles, and daughter, Edna, have returned this week from a five week's vacation tour of 14 states and a visit to Mexico and Canada.

Driving over 8,700 miles the family made the main object of the trip to visit all the National parks. Some of their adventures included just missing the disastrous storm at Lake Charles, La., by two days. Charles, Jacksonville's lone mountain climber, joined an organized group of Mountain climbers and made a two day climb up the Grand Teton mountain in Teton National park. They also visited the Shasta, Hoover and Grand Coulee dams and the Carlsbad caverns. In Texas and Kansas they visited relatives and enroute home at Pullman, Ore., they visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Westerberg and also visited Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith at Canby, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weter and family, also returning from a trip this week, visited relatives and friends in Seattle and from there took a boat to Victoria, Canada, where they went on several sight-seeing tours.

Children returning from vacation after a week's trip were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Noble, who were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Griffith of Auburn, Calif. They drove inland as far as Astoria, visiting Portland, the Capitol building at Salem and the cheese factory at Tillamook. They also stopped at Depoe Bay and visited the Archie Rocks, Jacksonville residents, who are there for the summer. Enroute home they came down the coast route and through Crescent City.

The H. E. Griffiths spent several days visiting in Jacksonville and at the home of Mrs. Griffith's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hulbert, in Medford, before returning home to Auburn, Calif., this week.

As Potpourri stated in her column last week at the end of her recent adventuresome travels (which we avidly followed) "the best part of a vacation trip is getting home safe and sound," to which our travelers agree, although not everybody gets accompanied home, as was Potpourri, by an apple pie souvenir.

Several members of the Odd Fellows lodge 83 in Medford, including Carl Hoskins, of Jacksonville, Orville Higginbotham and Melvin Frick of Central Point, Lawrence Horton, Homer Vinzant, Elbert McNew, Frank Earhart, Jack Adams, Ray Stickle and Earl Scripser, all of Medford, last Sunday drove to Crescent City and took an all day deep-sea fishing trip aboard the Undine.

Some of the catches included a 37-inch Chinook salmon that weighed 17½ pounds, hooked by Homer Vinzant. Hoskins brought in a 39-inch 21½-pound Chinook, thereby winning the jackpot for the largest fish caught on the trip.

Several of the others reported catches of silver salmon and black snappers. It was also reported by reliable source that several members of the fishing party were more than relieved to reach shore after the day's outing.

Mrs. Irwin Boyd returned home this week after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Jackson, at Burbank, Calif. While there Mrs. Boyd also attended the wedding of her brother, John Jackson. In Pasadena she visited other relatives, and in Sacramento she visited a cousin and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Beagle and saw the Capitol building and Sutter's fort.

A recent guest at the Irwin Boyd home was Boyd's mother Mrs. Clara Morris, of Modesto, Calif.

Albert Poths, of Jacksonville, celebrated his 82nd birthday last Saturday, July 19, at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Louise and John Caird, with whom he resides.

Mr. Poths was born in Germany and after visiting Chicago during the World's Fair of 1893 he returned to Germany and completed his apprenticeship as a meat cutter and returned to Chicago about 1900 where he got a job. Two years later he opened a neighborhood grocery and meat market which prospered from the start. About four years ago he visited his daughter and her family and fell in love with our valley, the mild climate and friendly people. Poths stated that he intends to spend the rest of his life here.

Also celebrating her birthday was Mrs. Ida Wright, who on July 25 became 84 years of age.

Harold T. Purcell was recently selected to represent The National Press, Inc., of North Chicago, Ill., in this area. In his line is included business printing, calendars, register forms, advertising specialties, sales-books and other items. His home is at 132 First st. in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Olive Blackford and Riley Potter, of Central Point, were callers one day this week

Teamsters Union Ejection Chances Said To Increase

Washington — Chances of the Teamsters Union will be thrown out or will pull out of the AFL-CIO before the year is over increased Saturday.

The split between the parent organization and the big truck drivers' union widened with these developments:

—AFL-CIO sources indicated that Teamster Vice President James F. Hoffa, who appeared to have the inside track for the union presidency soon to be vacated by Dave Beck, would be unacceptable as head of an AFL-CIO union.

—A Teamsters spokesman said his union's executive board won't be able to attend a hearing before the AFL-CIO ethical practices committee this week on corruption charges against the union.

—President Disappointed — Hoffa and supporters from three of the Teamsters' four divisions started a campaign to seek repudiation of the AFL-CIO's policy against use of the Fifth Amendment by union officials to avoid testifying in congressional investigations of labor corruption.

—AFL-CIO President George Meany and the AFL-CIO ethical practices committee were said to be disappointed at the failure of so-called reform forces among the Teamsters to force a house-cleaning.

Nearly three months ago the committee made it clear that the Teamsters would have to get rid of Beck and Vice Presidents Frank Brewster of Seattle and Sidney Brennan of Minneapolis to remain in the good graces of the AFL-CIO. All three still hold office although Beck has announced he will not seek reelection at the union's Sept. 30 convention.

A scheduled meeting of the Teamsters executive board to weigh charges against the three has been postponed time and again and now is set for Aug. 5 in Los Angeles.
