The period starting Aug. 12, has been scheduled for girls 13-years-old and up, and Aug. 15th to 17th for girls 9 to 13 years of age, Jones said.

The special period has been made available to introduce girls to camping in a forested area, Jones explained. Mrs. Sarah Stickle, formerly of the regular YMCA staff will conduct the girls' period. She will be assisted by Herbert Partridge, YMCA camp director, and Mrs. Edith Baker, camp nurse. Names of counselors will be announced later.

The schedules include climbs of the two mountains near Diamond Lake — Bailey and Theillon. Activities will include also boating, canoeing, fishing, swimming, archery, and wild-life study.

Girls will live in army squad tents. Meals will be served in Elliott hall, the YMCA dining lodge. Ruth Lee, a Klamath Falls school district cook, will prepare the meals.

"Any girl in the Rogue valley is eligible for the short period camping which is provided at a nominal cost," Jones said. "The camp-out will accommodate 60 girls."

Federal Grand Jury Convenes in Tacoma

Tacoma — A federal grand jury was reconvened here today to look further into the income tax life of Dave Beck, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Subpoenas for about 30 witnesses were to be served by U.S. Marshal Budd Parsons' office. Among them is one for Frank Brewster, president of the Western Conference of Teamsters.

The grand jury already has indicted Beck for income tax evasion in 1950. The portly union boss, who is in Florida for a union meeting, pleaded innocent to the charges.

Last Friday, Beck pleaded innocent to a King county Grand Jury indictment charging him with grand larceny in selling a Teamsters' auto and pocketing the money.

Dave Beck Jr. is to be arraigned on a similar King county jury indictment Tuesday.
