

Pierce First 15-Game Winner of Year As Sox Move Within Three of Yanks

By UNITED PRESS

Billy Pierce, the gritty little southpaw who is chiefly responsible for keeping the Chicago White Sox pennant hopes alive, is the majors' first 15-game winner of the season today and may wind up the American League's first 25-game winner since 1949.

Pierce, who is certain he won't let down in the latter stages of the campaign as he did last year, hurled his fourth shutout and advanced the White Sox to within three games of the idle New York Yankees Monday night with a 5-0 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles.

Pierce didn't walk any and struck out six batters as he faced only 30 batters over the nine-inning distance. The White Sox broke the scoreless duel with Hal Brown in the sixth inning with three runs—two on a single by Luis Aparicio—and added single runs in the seventh and ninth.

Braves Stay on Top
The victory was the hustling White Sox' seventh in 10 games since July 19. During the same period, the Yankees have managed to win only four of 10 games and now have fallen back to within striking range of a team that was being counted out of the race two weeks ago.

Tom Brewer notched his 13th victory of the season as the Boston Red Sox beat the Cleveland Indians, 6-2, in the only other American League game.

The Milwaukee Braves retained their half-game lead in the madcap National League scramble via a 10-inning, 9-8 verdict over the New York Giants, the St. Louis Cardinals downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-0, and the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the Chicago Cubs, 6-0, in other games.

Ted Williams collected a single and a double in three tries to raise his league-leading average to .379 and help the Red Sox win their ninth game in their last 12 starts. Brewer struck out nine behind a 12-hit attack that also included a home run by Ted Lepcio and a two-run single by Jackie Jensen. Mike Garcia suffered his seventh loss.

Winning Run Forced In
Relief pitcher Al Worthington walked Felix Mantilla with the bases filled in the 10th inning to present the Braves with the run that enabled them to hold first place. The Braves had rallied for four runs in the last of the ninth to tie the score at 8-8 and filled the bases in the 10th on two walks sandwiched around a single by Del Crandall. Wes Covington and Del Crandall homered for Milwaukee while Willie Mays, Daryl Spencer and Ray Jablonski hit homers for New York.

Vinegar Bend Mizell, the Cardinals' No. 1 disappointment most of the season, yielded only two hits—both in the fourth inning—in winning his fourth decision. Wally Moon, who stretched his hitting streak to 13 games, singled home the Redbirds' first run and scored their second against rookie Charlie Douglas, who yielded only five hits but walked seven in five innings.

Robin Roberts scored his second straight victory and eighth of the year compared to 13 defeats with a four-hitter that marked the Phillies' 13th win in 18 games with the Cubs. Harry Anderson drove in two runs with three singles and Joe Lonnett homered to spark the Phillies' attack.
