

Ike Watches Hot Sox Pitcher Skin Home Town Senators in Three-Hitter

By UNITED PRESS

President Eisenhower picked a fine night to watch a ball game and he wound up joining in the praise of the "hottest" pitcher in the majors at the moment—Dick Donovan of the Chicago White Sox.

The President, making his first mid-season appearance at a baseball game Tuesday night since last Aug. 31, commented appreciatively to aides on Donovan's brilliant three-hit pitching as the White Sox righthander beat the Senators, 7-1. Donovan, who didn't walk a batter in breezing to his 11th victory, has given up a total of eight hits in his last three games.

Not only did the President witness some fine pitching, but also some long ball clouting as Larry Doby and Minnie Minoso each wallowed a pair of homers to keep the White Sox within three games of first place. Roy Sievers, who collected two of Washington's hits, also homered.

In other American league games, the Yankees helped Casey Stengel celebrate his birthday with a 10-4 victory over the Athletics; Boston blanked Detroit, 4-0, and Cleveland licked Baltimore, 6-0.

Braves Retain Lead
The Milwaukee Braves clung to their half game lead in the National league race with a 3-2 decision over the Pirates; the Cardinals topped the Giants, 7-3; Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati, 8-5, and the Cubs split a doubleheader with the Dodgers, Brooklyn winning the opener, 1-0, an Chicago the nightcap, 4-3.

Yogi Berra drove in four runs with four hits, including a home run, to pace a 16-hit attack that gave the Yankees their 14th victory in 15 meetings with Kansas City this season. Southpaw Whitey Ford wasn't nearly at his best, giving up 13 hits, including a homer by Billy Martin, but he hung in there for the distance to post his sixth triumph.

Yogi Berra's third inning homer against the Kansas City Athletics Tuesday was the New York Yankee's 100th of the season, and it marked the 34th year they have totaled at least 100 homers.

M & W Tops Maids in Exhibition

A booming home run off the bat of Lou Schell gave the M and W Chain Saw softball team a 4 and 3 victory over the Rogue Valley Dairy Maids last night.

The exhibition game was played with exchanged batteries on the Camp White field. Chuck Holcomb pitched and Charles Gardner caught for the Dairy Maids. The Maids' regular mound star, Pat Barron, hurtled for M and W and was relieved in the fifth by Sharon Day. Jean Main caught.

M and W slipped into a two run lead in the top of the first inning on three Dairy Maid errors. Owen Bristen and Dick Meister both scored.

The Chain Saw men picked up another in the third on a hunt by Meister which turned into a run with the aid of two fielders' choices.

The Maids went blank for two frames, then opened the third with a walk, a single and a double which sent Jean Bitterling, Ellen Callaghan and Charles Gordon across the plate. This tied it at 3-3.

All was quiet until three innings later when Schell, with one out, punched the ball over and between the center and right fielders. The Maids went scoreless in their last two frames the only hit collected in the sixth by Shirley Hansen.

Holcomb whiffed seven Chain Saw batters, walking only one. Pat Barron managed two strike outs against three walks.

In Thursday night games at the Camp White field, Parsons Motors meets National guard in the first, and M and W plays the Dairy Maids in he second.

Hollywood Stars Move Within Five Games of Leaders

By JIM HEALY

United Press Sports Writer
The Hollywood Stars, with a tenacity exceeded only by their boorish desire to win baseball contests, moved to within five games of Pacific Coast league leading San Francisco Tuesday night.

The scrappy, aggressive Hollywood squad took on Portland, defeating the Beavers in both ends of a doubleheader — 5-0 in the seven inning opener, and 6-5 in the nightcap.

In the first, George Witt got his 15th win this season against four losses while allowing the Beavers only three hits. Darrell Martin, the Portland starter who gave away four runs in the third frame, got the loss. He is now 0-4. Leo Rodriguez hit a welcome but unnecessary homer for Hollywood in the sixth frame.

Portland started fast in the second, collecting four runs in the first three innings. But the Stars went home run wild with round-trippers by Jim Baumer, Bill Causion and Joe Duhem to forge into the lead.

Other Games
In other games, San Francisco lost its first extra inning game of the season to Vancouver, 3-2, while Los Angeles smashed Sacramento, 8-3, and San Diego slipped by Seattle, 7-6.

The Seals suffered their loss as a result of a 10th inning homer by Kal Segrist that spelled the tie breaking tally.
San Francisco got one each in the first two frames and tried to coast on that. Then the Mounties came through with the tying runs in the eighth.

Jack Spring, 6-5, went the distance, and lost. Reliever Sandy Consuegra, 3-0, was credited with the win.

The story was similar in Sacramento. The Solons tied it up three-all in the bottom of the sixth and then the unpredictable Angels let go with five runs in the eighth.

Grand Slam Homer
Four of those came off the bat of Bob Jenkins who hit six ball somewhere out in space with the bases loaded. Vito Valentini got his fifth win against three losses. Loser Marshall Bridges is now 7-10.

The San Diego Padres showed that they also are not adverse to coming from behind if it means winning. The Rainiers had a 6-5 edge going into the ninth frame when reliever-loser Gene Hayden (3-5), permitted two singles and a walk — and the tying run. Then Larry Jansen stepped to the mound giving up one hit, a single to Phil Moran that brought in the game winner. Vic Lombardi collected his fourth win against one loss in relief.

The league leading Medford Studs meet Talent-Ashland in a non-counting semi-pro baseball game at the fairgrounds here tonight. Starting time is 8 p.m.

Medford is fresh from a 13 to 3 victory over Cave Junction last week end. Talent was idle, and saw its four win-four loss record enhanced enough to move to third place in league standings.

The game tonight does not count in standings. It is a re-billing of an earlier encounter in which Medford won 9 to 8.
Regular league games scheduled for this Sunday in the Rogue Valley league include Medford at Butte Falls, Glendale at Talent, and Grants Pass at Camp White.
