

D'AMATO SURPRISES

Boycotts TV, Refuses Money For Patterson

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer
New York — Manager Cus D'Amato's defiance of power and tradition in the fight game was attracting almost as much attention today as the fight of his heavyweight, Floyd Patterson.

D'Amato is in the midst of four moves that may make him top man in the world of boxing. They are:

—Thursday he sends young Patterson back to camp at Greenwood Lake, N.Y., to sharpen for the first "open championship" in ring history — a defense of his world professional title against the world amateur champion, Pete Rademacher, at Seattle, Wash., Aug. 22.

—He and Patterson have waived the $175,000 guarantee for Monday night's knockout defense against Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson in order to make certain that the D'Amato-appointed promoter, Emil Lence, suffers no loss from the Polo Grounds' disappointing gate and stays in business.

Boycotts Home TV
—He has withdrawn Patterson from home fight-television on any network until such time as one of the major TV corporations shall contract with an independent promoter, like Lence, for a weekly TV-fight series, in opposition to the International Boxing club's TV-fight supremacy.

—Looking beyond the Rademacher fight, D'Amato is planning another Patterson defense under Lence promotion at New York in October or November, which he will try to force into Madison Square Garden or, otherwise, stage at the big Kingsbridge armory in the Bronx.

"I want to break the fight game wide open," said the stocky gray-haired manager today. "I'll have no truck with monopolies or combines or cliques. I want to help independent promoters get back on their feet and make it possible for fighters, in all stages of development, to get what they're worth. And, luckily, I've got a world heavyweight champion who shares my ideals."

Floyd Loses $51,140
In waiving the $175,000 guarantee for last Monday's fight, D'Amato flabbergasted managers throughout fistiana. Patterson accepted 40 per cent of all net receipts and took a purse of $123,850—which was $51,140 less than the guarantee.

Meanwhile, Jackson, the badly battered challenger, remained in the Meadowbrook hospital in suburban East Meadow, recovering from a kidney bruise that caused blood in his bladder-kidney tract.

Five specialists made a series of tests, including X-rays, and recommended he remain in the hospital several days for observation. Their thorough examinations disclosed no other serious injuries.

Qualifying On Today

Chicago — Second and final qualifying rounds for men professionals in the All American Golf Tourney were slated for today at Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

The second wave of pros to tee off onto Tam's slopes represented some 275 entrants in the tourney fighting for one of the 72 qualifying spots.

Paul Harney of Bolton, Mass., led the first day qualifying round with a blazing six-under-par 66. Harney, a graduate of Holy Cross, had cut his six strokes under par by the end of the 10th hole in Tuesday's 18-hole competition and maintained a red-hot pace the rest of the way.

Harney was followed by Art Blessing of Grossinger, N.Y., a Kansas City Open champ who fired a 68. Bert Weaver of Beaumont, Tex., a first year pro, walked in third with a 69.

Central Point	2	8	.200
Eagle Point	2	8	.200
Ashland	0	8	.000

The Medford Tigers finished out their season undefeated in the Southern Oregon Junior Baseball pee wee league yesterday with an 8 to 2 win over the Medford Wildcats.

Central Point walloped Eagle Point in the same league, 20 to 8. These were the final games of the year for all pee wee teams.

In the Medford encounter, the only player to collect more than one hit was Gary Neese with a double and single for the Tigers.

Home Run
Gary Rosenberger swatted a home run and Louis Alvarez socked two triples for Central Point in the high scoring game played at Eagle Point.

The results left the Medford Tigers undisputed title holders, with the Wildcats and Central Point tied at second place. Eagle Point, with two wins and six losses, and Ashland, with eight losses and no wins, rounded out the ledger.

Intermediate Games
The S.O. Jr. Baseball intermediate league will wind up the season today when Talent comes to Medford and Ashland and Central Point play at the Camp White Memorial field under the lights.

Medford is assured of the championship with its unblemished five win, no loss record. It faces a Talent club that is winless after four games.

Second place Central Point, at three wins and two losses, goes to Ashland, with one win and three losses. The make up game between Talent and Ashland will not be played, according to league president, Warren LaBounty.

Golf Forms Now Ready

Entry forms are due at the Tualatin Country Club Aug. 17 for the Pacific Northwest Golf Association Junior Boys' Amateur championship to be held there Aug. 26 through 30.

Entry forms will be available for local boys at the Rogue Valley Country Club pro shop.

Those entering must be under 19 years of age and must have scored at least one full 18 hole round of golf during the past 12 months with a medal score of 80 or better.

The 18-hole qualifying round is scheduled for Monday, Aug. 26, with the field to be divided into a championship flight of 32 boys, and descending flights of 32 each.

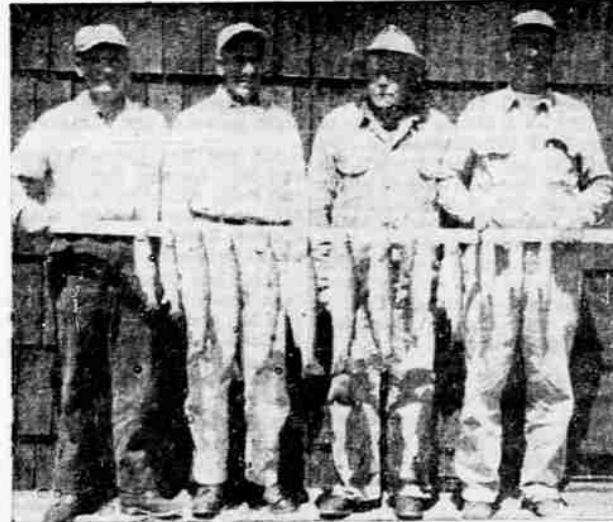

One round will be played Tuesday and one Wednesday, with semi-finals in all flights after a third round Thursday.

The 36-hole championship finals will be played Friday, Aug. 30. All flights below the championship will be 18 holes.

Entry fee is $3. Lodging arrangements can be made by notifying Henry Cohen, 504 Portland Trust Building, Portland 4, Ore., not later than Aug. 12.

ARGENTINE WRITER DIES

Buenos Aires — Dr. Richard Rojas, prominent Argentine writer and educator, died Tuesday. He was 75 years old.

Top Seeded Boys Proceed In Junior Tennis Tourney

Kalamazoo, Mich. — Top seeded players in the Boys and Junior National Tennis tournament proceeded into third action today as they breezed through matches during the first two days of heavy activity.

Chris Crawford, the rangy, blond top-seeded star from Piedmont, Calif., was scheduled to take on one of Michigan's strongest contenders as he tangled with 16-year-old Ray Senkowski, Hamtramck.

The spell case by Rudy Hernandez, Modesto, Calif., was winning spectators as the little stylist belted his way into heavier competition. Hernandez, ranked second in the tourney, beat Crawford last week in Western Tournament play at Champaign, Ill., and fans here were wondering if a replay of that match might be coming for the windup Hernandez is ranked sixth.

Siska Wins
In boys action, Bobby Siska, San Francisco, ranked tops, breezed toward the finish as he did all other boys players rated near the top.

Crawford blasted Bill McClung, Canton, Mass., 6-3, 10-8 in Tuesday's play and Siska ousted little Butch Newman, of San Antonio, 6-3, 6-1.

All 12 of the seeded players in the boys division copped their second round matches and the 15 seeded netters in the junior division advanced to the third day of action. Earl Buchholz, St. Louis, Mo., was seeded second in the junior division but did not enter the tourney because he injured an ankle at Champaign last week.

Thursday Action
Siska was scheduled to meet Cuthbert Train, Washington, in play today. The seeded players, most of them playing in brackets with seven non-seeded netmen, cannot meet each other until Thursday so the tempo was expected to pick up as the tourney progressed.

The top six players in the boys division were Siska, William Bond, La Jolla, Calif.; Paul Palmer, Phoenix, Ariz.; Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif.; Francisco Castillo, Hamtramck, Mich. and Frank Froehling, Coral Gables, Fla.

The top six netters in the junior division, not including Buchholz, were Crawford, Edward Sledge, Dallas, Tex.; Robert Delgado, Los Angeles, Calif.; Hernandez and Charles McKinley, St. Ann, Mo.

DAVIS MAY BE LOST
Olean, N. Y. — Halfback Art Davis, the Pittsburgh Steelers' No. 1 National Football league draft last year, may be lost to the team for the entire 1957 season. Davis wrote Steelers officials telling them his doctor has advised a year of rest to strengthen an injured knee.

Wenatchee, Eugene Take Setbacks

By UNITED PRESS
Both front-running Wenatchee and runner-up Eugene took Northwest league setbacks Tuesday. Yakima made the unexpected singles pay off over Wenatchee's explosive homers, 7-6.

Third-place Salem put together 10 hits, including a three-run triple by Cal Bauer, to whack Eugene, 10-2, while Lewiston dropped last-place Tri-City, 7-5.

Yakima saw a two-run lead melt in the fourth as Chico Alvarez boomed the first of Wenatchee's three round-trippers. Doug Kassay accounted for two more, one a two-run effort in the seventh and the second in the ninth with none on.

The Bears kept chipping away on singles by Chuck Elson, Ernie Wilcox, Herm Lewis, Ken Meyer and Ed Zander. They wrapped it up in the last of the ninth when Herb Anderson singled, Zander scored him with a triple and came home with the winning run on an error.

Cabler, DeMoss Playoff Sunday

Portland — Carole Joe Kabler of Sutherlin and Gracie DeMoss of Corvallis will meet Sunday in a playoff for the Oregon state women's golf championship.

Eugene's runs were the first off Salem pitcher Chuck Lybeck in 32 consecutive innings. The Emeralds held a narrow 2-1 lead into the fourth when Bauer hit his big blow. They turned it into a rout in the fifth with back-to-back homers by Bob Duretto and Bob Campbell, which touched off a five-run final scoring spree.

Manager Hillis Lane sparked the Broncs with a three-run homer in the first, his 11th four-bagger of the season. Lane and Ed Kelly led Lewiston with three hits each.

Gavilan Gets Chance Tonight

Miami Beach — Flashy Kid Gavilan, who still has visions of regaining the welterweight title despite his 31 years and a depressing losing streak, gets a big chance to boost his stock tonight against Gaspar Ortega at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

Because the Cuban "keed" is unpredictable and explosive, Ortega was only an 86 favorite for the 10-round nationally televised ABC bout, although he is second ranked among the wel-ters. Fight time is 10 p.m. (e.d.t.) A victory over Mexico's Ortega, who gave up bullfighting for the prize ring, would boost Gavilan's chances of getting a title shot eventually at welter champion Carmen Basilio.
