

Rebuilt New Guinea Boasts Volcanoes, Modern Quarters

Rabaul—New Guinea has put out the "Tourists Welcome" sign, with volcanoes, tropical beauty and modern plumbing as featured attractions.

This last frontier of the South Pacific has rebuilt its war-devastated communities and now invites travelers to enjoy its weird scenery, fish its waters and relax amongst its hospitable peoples.

Modern hotels have been built at such historical spots as Lae, Guadalcanal, Rabaul, Madang and Port Moresby. Quantas links the area with regular scheduled air and flying boat service, and the beer is served ice cold everywhere in these Australian and British-governed islands.

The grandsons of cannibals deftly serve the lobster mornay, off white linen hotel cloths and Quanta stewards pour tea from a silver service while flying over the rusting, bombed out hulks of Japan's navy at Buin, Buks, Finschhafen, Bougainville and "The Slot."

Cotton-skirted "boys" drive shiny new taxis in bare feet and dial telephones have been installed in Rabaul, Lae and Port Moresby. Tipping is considered improper everywhere in this Utopia consider work an adventure.

Active Volcano
Horse racing, cricket and football are major sports, and the social activities center around the golf clubs whose greens are equal to those anywhere.

The scenery is Hawaiian-type with perpetual greenery, hibiscus, orchids and hot house flowers. The peaks on the major islands range between 6,000 and 8,000 feet, and Mt. Bagana on Bougainville is the world's most active volcano. Seldom a day passes that molten lava, boulders and steam are not seen erupting from its cone.

Sandy beaches, private pools and cocopalms are everywhere. Luggers move amongst the smaller islands bringing in copra from the plantations and returning with supplies. The latest model cars line the streets of the towns, but out in the bush the jeep is still king.

And perhaps, nowhere in the world it is possible to enjoy a vacation as cheaply as New Guinea. Accommodations with five meals a day included cost about five dollars, with other services in proportion. With the welcome mat on the door, New Guinea hopes to be the world's most exciting area for the off-the-beaten track tourist.

Teamster Link Said Threat To Country

Washington—The Senate labor racket committee charged Wednesday that the Teamsters Union has joined with plundering racketeers in New York and other major cities to pose a serious threat to the entire country.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy made the charge at the start of public hearings on alleged tie-ups between teamsters "crown prince" James R. Hoffa and New York hoodlums. He said no other union has such an effect on the nation's economy as the teamsters with their control of truck transportation.

NAVY HERO'S WIDOW DIES
Arlington, Mass.—Mrs. John Shea, widow of a World War II naval hero, died of cancer at her home Wednesday. She was 55.

Washington—Prices farmers received for crops and livestock rose 1 per cent in the month ended July 15, the Agriculture Department has reported.

EAGLE POINT Get Acquainted Party Held

By MRS. THOMASINE SMITH
Eagle Point—A get acquainted party was held at the home of Sandy Cheek Monday, July 22, for the purpose of introducing her cousin, Karen Gamma, visiting from San Francisco. Attending were Bonnie Goehring, Dorene Christian, Dana Smith, Mike Palm, Ronnie Weidman, Tommy Perdue, Gary Ayres and Richard Hertager.

A surprise birthday party was given Dana Smith Monday, July 29, with Dorene Christian, Joanne Collaghan, Robin Lewis, Jo-Deil Hasey, Connie Berryman, Diane Putman, Carol Adams, Sandy Smith, Gary, Billy and Dickie Ayres, Ronnie Weidman, Richard Hertager, Tommy Perdue, Dale Vaughn, Steven Gerren, Mike Palm, all of Eagle Point, and Mike Barnes of Medford attending.

A hamburger fry followed an afternoon of swimming with birthday cake and ice cream served around a camp fire in the evening. They were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Swooper, grandparents of the honored, from Medford, Mrs. Clinton Ayres and Mrs. Stan Smith.

A pot luck dinner was served in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Simmons and Mr. and Mrs. Art Thompson Saturday, July 27. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barrow, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Bonebrake, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Krambel, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Callaghan, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Don McGovern, Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Etzel, Mr. and Mrs. Niles Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Smith.

A going away gift was presented Mr. and Mrs. Art Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Smith. The group attended the Dairy Maids softball game at Camp White following the dinner and returned to an evening of cards.

Mr. and Mrs. John Redmond and son and Mrs. George Holmes were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle VanScoy, Mrs. Paul VanScoy, and Merritt Brown Thursday, July 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolfinger of Melbrae, Calif., and their daughter and son were Sunday dinner guests of their aunt, Mrs. Paul VanScoy, uncle, Merritt Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle VanScoy.

Harold Clarke of Lakewood, Calif., is visiting at the home of his brother, Jim Clarke, on the Alta Vista rd. this week.

A girl, Beverly Sue, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ottonen at Rogue Valley hospital Wednesday, July 24, weighing 8 pounds, 7 ounces. The baby has four brothers and two sisters and grandparents, Mrs. Elizabeth Ottonen of Berkeley, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rittenhouse of Buffalo, N.Y.

Vinson Vaughan is on a three weeks business trip in Honolulu, Oahu, Maui and Kawai.

Mrs. Lester McFall entered Sacred Heart hospital Monday, July 22, for surgery on her wrist and was released Wednesday.

The Home Economics club of Griffin Creek Grange met at the home of Mrs. J. D. Brown

ANCIENTS HELPED
Buffalo, New York—Medieval alchemists labored long and hard in a fruitless effort to make gold out of base metals. But their labors produced new ways of making fire-resistant retorts, crucibles and furnaces which eventually were worth more than gold to countless industries, according to Electro Refractories and Abrasives corp.

recently for an annual pot luck dinner. Mrs. Frank Chamberlain, Mrs. Paul Force, Mrs. T. E. Holmes and Mrs. Lester McFall of Eagle Point were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Brown and family of Springfield, and a friend, Margie, of Drain, were overnight guests recently at the J. D. Brown home. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lofland of Williams Creek were Sunday dinner guests July 21. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hisey of Redmond were overnight guests the same week end. Visiting the Brown family the following week end were their granddaughter, Mrs. Dean Garrett and great grandson, Scottie, of Glendale. On Sunday they went to Crater lake with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lofland of Williams creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester McFall and family and Clarence Webster went on a picnic dinner on Sunday, July 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Raymond of Medford. Raymond's are former residents of Eagle Point.

Mrs. W. G. Cox visited Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ireland at Crescent City this past week. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cox and family and Don Cox went to the coastal city for a visit and brought their mother home.

Miss Sheron Cartwright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Cartwright, 503 South B st., returned Sunday after spending a week in Klamath Falls. Miss Cartwright spent the week with her uncle, Labe Lucas, a former resident of Eagle Point.

Week end guests at the Lester McFall home were McFall's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Lee McFall, and aunt, Mrs. Ben Couch, all of Live Oak, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bubbs, former Eagle Point residents, now of Paramount, Calif., were recent visitors in Eagle Point. Previous to their visit in Eagle Point the Bubbs had vacationed in Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete DeYoung have spent the past three weeks in Albany. With the DeYongs is their grandson, Jackie Spain. The three will return next week.

Any person building or remodeling within the city of Eagle Point has been reminded that a building permit must be purchased at the city hall before construction or remodeling starts.

The volunteer firemen were called to the William L. Couch residence Monday, July 29, to extinguish a grass fire which started from trash burning in a barrel, they said.

A building permit was issued Jim Wallis on South B st. for remodeling and an addition to existing building.
