

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a woman's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice; it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Mrs. D. E. — Dan's gotten just awful.

Dan F. — They're right... I'm a bad apple.

Mrs. D. F. — I am at my wit's end to know what to do about my 16-year-old boy, Dan. He was never a problem before but during the past year or two he's just awful.

He hasn't gotten into any serious trouble. It's just little things — teasing the younger children, back-talk to his dad, grumpiness and moodiness. He also dresses sloppily — insists on wearing a filthy T-shirt and jeans although he has fresh, clean shirts in his drawer.

My husband and I do our best to bring up all the children right, but it looks as though Dan is the bad apple who is spoiling the batch. They are all starting to imitate him. Perhaps we aren't strict enough. We try reasoning with him, but it doesn't help.

Dan F. — I guess my parents are right. They try to teach me to do the right thing, but I'm just a bad apple. In school I failed two courses last term. I can't seem to make out in any way. I'm not popular with girls either.

One of my teachers last term told me I'm just a dreamer and I guess it's true. You don't get anywhere by day-dreaming, but I seem to do it all the time. Somebody talks to me and all of a sudden I realize I don't hear a word that's being said.

I don't know what's going to become of me if things keep up like this. Other guys seem to know where they want to go in life, but I have no energy or ambition and I can't even decide what I want to do. I'm sorry for my parents, having me for a son.

The Council — Unhappy Dan is probably going through the worst period of his life. Perhaps it would help him and his parents to realize this. They should also understand that although he is suffering more than most his attitudes are shared to some extent by all teenagers.

Just now Dan feels life is a terrible challenge he'll never be able to meet. Every failure, every word of criticism he hears, further proves his suspicion that he is worthless, a hopeless case. He probably likes to wear dirty clothes because he feels he deserves no better. He daydreams because he cannot face the dreadful "truth" about himself. Of course, this truth he sees is hair shines when he brushes it in place. He should never be told he is "a bad apple."

These parents should also try to direct Dan to some area in which he can taste success. A part-time job is often helpful in giving a young man like Dan a feeling of importance and a sense of being able to cope with adult problems. Sports, Scout work, church and school activities offer a multitude of opportunities for Dan to prove he can do many things well.

GOLD HILL

McMahan Son Born at Home

By MRS. CLYDE KELL
Gold Hill — Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McMahan are parents of a son, Jeffery Howard, born in their home on Sardine creek Monday, July 29, while Mrs. McMahan was preparing to leave for a Medford hospital.

Mrs. Eliza McMahan of Willimington, Calif., grandmother of the boy, who was visiting in the McMahan home, assisted with the birth. The baby weighed 9 pounds, 4 ounces.

A physician arrived a short time later, and Mrs. McMahan and her son were taken to a Medford hospital, where they remained until Tuesday evening.

Visitors at the McMahan home later were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stimmel of Davenport, Iowa, who are guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor, in Medford. Mrs. Stimmel and Mrs. Leonard McMahan are sisters.

Roy Centers was honored at a birthday party in his home Tuesday, July 30. The occasion was also the first time he had all 12 of his grandchildren together at one time.

Refreshments of ice cream were served by Mrs. Centers to their twin grandsons, Ron and Rob Rivett, and granddaughter, Gayle Rivett, who are visiting at the Centers from Sacramento, Calif. Others present were the Centers' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Centers and children, Buddy and Jeanne, of Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Strauss and children, Jackie, Janice, Kimbra and Dickie; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hobson, their son, Kenneth, and daughter Barbara; Mrs. Ann Payne and son, Chipper, all of Gold Hill. Mrs. Strauss, Mrs. Hobson and Mrs. Payne are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Centers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cogswell were hosts to a steak dinner party at their home Thursday, Aug. 1, in observance of Mrs. Cogswell's birthday Aug. 1 and the Lester Parker and Harry Newnam birthdays Aug. 2.

Present for the party besides the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Newnam and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Parker, their son, David, and their daughter, Linda.

Major and Mrs. Linsley B. Dorman and sons, Linsley J. and Gregory G., arrived in Gold Hill Wednesday, July 31. They are house guests in the home of his mother, Mrs. George Dorman. While in this area they also will visit his sisters, Mrs. Maybelle Rains, and Mrs. Loyd Dusenberry and their families.

The Dorman arrived last month in New York by plane from Munich, Germany, where they had lived the past several years, while the Major was on duty with the Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hartley of Hartwick, Calif., spent several days last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hayland, of the Truck Cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Parker and daughter, Linda, returned to their home on Lampan rd. following a trip to California. They were guests in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Peters, at Castor Valley, Calif.

En route home they visited in

Atomic Radiation Treatment Developed

Memphis, Tenn. — Medical students at the University of Tennessee are developing a treatment for victims of atomic radiation that involves transplanting bone marrow — the source of blood cells in adults — to monkeys exposed to fatal doses of radiation.

So far, investigations are too preliminary for a final conclusion, but Dr. R. R. Overman said results to date are encouraging.

Tests show that radiation-exposed monkeys treated with transplanted bone marrow generally live at least 30 days, although the normal span of an animal so exposed is two weeks. One monkey lived after 160 days.

Dr. Overman said it appeared that the blood pattern of the monkeys treated with bone marrow returned to normal, even though their blood cells had been torn down by radiation exposure.

The physiologist and his staff are conducting the experiments on a grant from the Atomic Energy Commission — the only civilian group doing research to try to prevent radiation death in primates.

One possible outgrowth of Dr. Overman's experiments was completely overlooked when the laboratory was set up. He said the coarse, straight hair on the exposed monkeys was curly when it grew back after treatment.

Youths Arrested For July Burglary

Five Medford juvenile boys have been arrested by city police in connection with the burglary July 29 of the Medford Bowling lanes, 821 North Riverside ave.

Robert Gale Corbett, 18, of 516 Liberty st., and four others, aged 17, 16, 14 and 13, were taken into custody after $288 in checks and currency was discovered missing from a bowling lanes safe, police reported.

The 13-year-old was moved from the county jail to a shelter home. Charges against the five are pending, police said.

Jones home was Miss Beverley Carlson of Lebanon, Ore. She is a teacher at Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Morrison and children, Charlotte, Donna and Jay, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Woodrow Nealy and daughter, Betty Joe of Grants Pass were visitors July 30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones. Morrison is a pilot for the United Airlines, and is a former student of Mr. and Mrs. Jones when they taught at Kerby. Mrs. Nealy is a daughter of the Jones.

Jimmy McCoy is spending the summer vacation with his mother, Mrs. Ruth McCoy, of Sixth ave. He attends school in Corvallis at the Children's Farm Home.

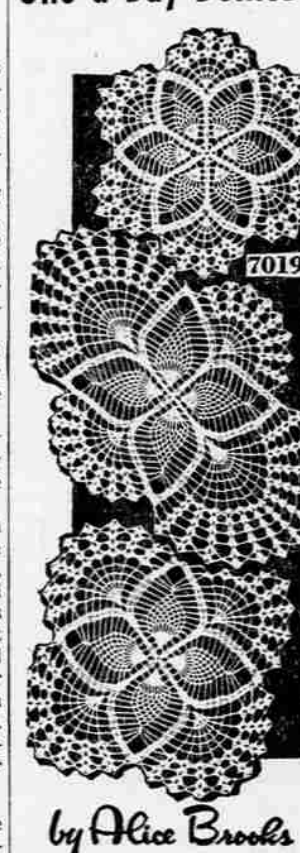

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Force and Bill Kell have returned to their homes here following a four day camping trip to Brookings. Also making the trip were the Forces son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arty Laws, and son, Ronnie, and their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Laws, of Rogue River.

Mrs. Ernie Cooper and son, Terry, returned recently from a four-day vacation with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rossi, and family at Coos Bay. They were accompanied by Gold Hill by Mrs. Rossi and son, Gary. He remained for a visit in the Cooper home and Miss Delores Cooper returned to Coos Bay for a visit with the Rossi family.

Mrs. Delos Walker and daughter, Linda, and Mrs. Clyde Kell and Shirley spent the afternoon of Aug. 1 visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arty Laws at Rogue River.

Mrs. Daniel Stewart spent two weeks visiting in Paso Robles, Calif., with Mr. and Mrs. Al Christensen and other friends.
