

Sox Shrink Yank Advantage, Milwaukee Increases Lead

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Only a few days ago, everyone was talking about another prospective Yankee runaway but now they're buzzing about how the never-say-die White Sox still have a chance and how those amazing Baltimore Orioles have bounced back to take over fourth place under Paul Richards' canny direction.

The Orioles, as a matter of fact, used the Yankees as a stepping stone to fourth place when they came from behind to beat them, 4-3, Friday night.

The White Sox, still determined to make a race of it, defeated the Tigers, 5-4, in 11 innings, and Washington, which has caught the winning spirit, too, blanked Boston, 8-0. Kansas City beat Cleveland, 3-2, in 13 innings.

Braves Boost Lead
Over in the National League, Milwaukee increased its lead to 3½ games with a 13-2 shellacking of St. Louis. Brooklyn licked Pittsburgh, 4-2; the Giants beat the Phillies, 6-2, and the Red Sox ended the Cubs' six-game winning streak by sweeping a twilight double-header, 9-7 and 6-4.

Bob Nieman drove in all four of Baltimore's runs against the Yankees. Nieman connected for his 11th homer in the fourth inning and then lined a three-run double off loser Whitey Ford in the sixth. Lefty Bill Wight was the winner with eighth-inning relief from George Zuverink.

Larry Doby's single in the 11th inning scored Nellie Fox from second base and capped a two-run rally for the White Sox.

after Detroit had gone ahead with a run in the top of the inning. Reliever Gerry Staley won his second game in as many days.

Pedro Ramos held the Red Sox to six hits as his Senator teammates collected 14 off three pitchers. Art Schult drove in four of Washington's runs with his fourth home run.

Billy Martin's single scored Bob Cerv in the 13th with the run that gave Kansas City reliever Virgil Trucks his eighth victory and dropped the Indians to fifth place.

Ralph Terry of the A's had a 2-1 lead with two out in the ninth when rookie Roger Maris tied the game with his 12th home run. Vic Wertz hit his 20th for the Tribe.

The Braves pounded out 18 hits, including homers by Hank Aaron, Bob Hazle, Eddie Mathews and Wes Covington, in sending Lindy McDaniel of the Cardinals down to his seventh defeat. Bob Buhl posted his sixth straight victory and his 15th of the campaign as the Cards suffered their fourth consecutive loss.

BOB FELLER HONORED
Cleveland — Bob Feller will be doubly honored here Sunday when he is formally admitted to the Cleveland Indians' Hall of Fame and also will be presented a plaque for his work with the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

Writing Asked From Bert Bell
Chicago — Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, revealed today that he has been asked to put in writing his verbal agreement to recognize the league's new player association.

"I don't know why I have to sign an agreement," Bell said. "I've testified before Congress that I recognize the association. I'll consult with lawyers before I sign."

Bell formally recognized the player group at Washington on Aug. 1 while the House subcommittee investigating the anti-trust status of professional sports was taking testimony from NFL officials and players.

Umpire Sold To Coast League
San Francisco — Robert St. Clair, second-year umpire with the California league, has been sold to the Pacific Coast League, Eddie Mulligan, Cal League president, announced today.

The 6-foot, one-inch, 180-pound St. Clair ended his career in the Cal league Friday night at the game at Stockton. He will be replaced by Ralph Cunningham, who started with the state loop this season but who has been out due to injuries suffered in an auto accident June 20.

Soviet Magazine Attacks American
London — A Soviet literary magazine suggested Saturday that an American attending the World Youth Festival here was a student of "spying" rather than theology and recommended that he go home.

The magazine "Literaturnaya Gazeta" published a scathing, sarcastic attack on Stanley Mumford, 21-year-old theology student from Spokane, Wash., who had been detained twice by Soviet factory officials for being caught in and near a "defense" facility.

Terming Mumford a "young priest on a fence," the magazine, quoted by Radio Moscow, suggested "perhaps Stanley was not a theological faculty but has come here for practice."

"It is not high time for him to go home, to his faculty where he has not yet been fully taught the art of espionage and diversion," the magazine asked.

Wreckage of Missing Plane is Reported
Luke AFB, Ariz. — The pilot of a military plane reported Saturday that he spotted the wreckage of a "sweep-wing aircraft" of the type missing for three weeks with a California airman aboard.

The wreckage was spotted about 42 miles east of Globe, near the San Carlos reservoir, according to the report by the Luke Air Force Base public information office, which said a helicopter and a nother light plane had been sent to the scene. There was no report whether the pilot had observed any sign of life.

An F100 jet plane, which is a sweep-wing aircraft, with Lt. Samuel H. Bacon, Victoriaville, Calif., as pilot, has been missing for three weeks on a flight from Big Springs, Tex., to George AFB, Calif.

The search was abandoned by the Air Force this week, but the pilot's father, Dr. Samuel Bacon, Sr., Hollywood, Calif., offered a $2500 reward for information leading to discovery of his son and was attempting to organize a private search.

FANGIO BEGINS TRAINING
Pescara, Italy — Juan Manuel Fangio, the world driving champion from Argentina, arrived here from Milan today to begin training for the Grand Prix of Pescara, Aug. 18. Fangio will be at the wheel of a Maserati.

Fishermen Protest Rogue Log Rafting

A petition from J. and S. Timber company, Gold Beach, to construct a log dump and a stiff boom 19 miles up the Rogue river from Gold Beach bridge has drawn opposition from state and national fish and wildlife interests.

The petition was made early this year to the Army Corps of Engineers district office in Portland.

A hearing on the application was held in Gold Beach, Feb. 27. Representatives of the Oregon State Game Commission, Isaac Walton League, and Oregon Wildlife Federation testified against towing and rafting logs on the river.

According to the "Sport Fishing Institute Bulletin," May issue, they were told that "Only the subject of possible interference with navigation was at issue, and that the biology of Rogue river salmon and steelhead had no bearing."

The petition was granted. When the "Bulletin" reached outdoor organizations, protests gathered from those interested in the sport fishing values of the river.

Public Hearing Called
Last month, the Corps of Engineers called a public hearing on a proposed navigation regulation governing dumping and rafting of logs.

The hearing was held July 30 in Coos Bay. Before the engineers now was the question of when log rafting and dumping should be allowed. The proposed navigation regulation that had been drawn up would limit it to a period from Oct. 15 of each year to April 15 of the following year.

Fishing interests were dissatisfied. Opposition from the state game commission came in a statement read at the hearing. In part, it said:

"The lower Rogue River is one of the most popular and best known salmon angling areas in the state. Approximately 31,500 angler days are spent on this stretch of river each year, and almost 11,000 fish are caught."

"The dumping, booming and rafting of logs in the lower Rogue would be detrimental to both the fishery resource and to the small boat navigation necessary to angling for them."

Particularly at median to low flows, logs and log rafts scour gravel bars and riffles in the stream bed. These bars produce fish foods necessary for rearing young fish and provide spawning areas for those fish utilizing the lower mainstem for spawning. This scouring reduces the food production and destroys eggs and young fish in the gravel and is thus detrimental to the fishery resource."

Marines Stage Big Invasion Maneuver
Barking Sands, Kauai, T.H. — The biggest Marine helicopter invasion maneuver staged by the U.S. Marine Corps got under way here Saturday.

A spokesman for the Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, reported 12,000 sailors and Marines were engaged in the training maneuver.

The exercise calls for an invading force utilizing the latest "atomic tactics."

Twenty-two Navy assault ships, including the USS Theis Bay, the Navy's only helicopter assault carrier, were to participate in the exercise.

Novelty Firm to Enter Plea on Charge
Panorama City, Calif. — The president of a novelty packaging firm has been ordered to enter a plea in federal court Monday on charges of paying children employees wages in hamburgers and trinkets.

The U.S. department of labor Friday charged the firm, which the department said employed 50 children between 9 and 15 years old, with failure to pay $1 an hour minimum wages, falsifying payroll records and shipping goods produced by oppressive child labor across state lines.

The federal department said the company set a limit of one hamburger for each child when young employees began to order three or four at a meal.

Other similar statements of protest came before those present at Coos Bay. Included were those from the Oregon Wildlife Federation, the National Wildlife Management Institute, and the Wedderburn Resort Owners association.

The hearing over, the district office of the Army Engineers sent results and recommendations to the Washington, D.C. headquarters. A decision from there is forthcoming.

According to Col. Weiland, sport fishing interests do not expect a complete ban on log rafting, although such would not be undesirable as far as fishermen are concerned.

But it is hoped that the Army Engineers will impose "stringent regulations"—strict enough to allow minimum interference, one with the other, between fishing and logging interests.

Two Personalities Added to List Subpoenaed in Magazine Trial

Hollywood — Orchestra Leader Charlie Barney and Singer Herb Jeffries Saturday were added to the list of Hollywood personalities subpoenaed in the criminal libel trial of two scandal magazines.

Private Detective Fred Otash said he handed the two entertainers subpoenas on behalf of the defense Friday night in separate nightclubs. The defense seeks to prove the "truth" of scandal stories carried in Confidential and Whisper magazines.

Otash said he still had subpoenas for about 18 other film-and-figures, some of them the "biggest names" in the industry. Meanwhile, the prosecution prepared to hammer home its contention of malice in the trial.

The former editor, Howard Rushmore, New York, yesterday admitted that he was "proud" he wrote some of the stories on Hollywood stars and declared "I certainly did," when asked if he had ever written any story to injure anyone.

In an attempted counter-attack Defense Attorney Arthur J. Crowley said he had asked Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker to rule Monday on statements about stories other than those mentioned in the suit would be admissible as evidence in the case.

Crowley has indicated that his defense would center on proving

Man Served Order When Leaving Home

Alamogordo, N.M. — Crusty John Prather, the 82-year-old man who is battling the U. S. Army over his land, left his ranch home for the first time in weeks Friday, and was promptly served with a court order.

The order, served by deputy marshals on an Alamogordo street, deprives the Oro Grande, N.M., rancher of all but 15 acres of 27,000-acre ranch.

Earlier Friday, deputy marshals herded Prather's cattle off his ranch.

The Army wants the land for a guided missile range, but Prather has refused to leave.

JEWEL THEFT REPORTED
Atlantic City, N.J. — One of the singing McGuire sisters, Phyllis, reported Friday night that $10,000 in jewels had been stolen from her hotel room. Miss McGuire said the 10 items missing included a five carat diamond necklace and earring set valued at $6,000. She said the theft occurred between Thursday and Friday nights. Police said there was no sign of forced entry in her room.

Seals, Mounties End Series With Wins

By JIM HEALY
United Press Sports Writer

San Francisco and Vancouver, playing a game of "Me and My Shadow" for the one and two spot in the Pacific Coast League, sailed smoothly ahead Friday night while San Diego scrambled over Hollywood to cop third place.

The Seals handed Los Angeles a frightful 12-6 pounding while the Mounties cleaned Sacramento, 3-2, for a five game shutout in the series which just ended.

Meanwhile, San Diego dumped Portland, 3-1, while Seattle moved to within range of fourth place by whipping the Stars, 2-1.

Seven Run Inning
San Francisco won its series with the Angels, six games to one, climaxing the victory with a seven run first inning against Los Angeles. The first pitch starter John Jancec threw was whacked into the stands for a homer by Marty Keough. But the big man was Bill Renna, who slugged his fourth and fifth homers in three games and, all within six times at bat. Earl Battey, new catcher for Los Angeles starting his first game, gave the Seals a dose of their own medicine with a three-run homer in the ninth. But it was too late and too little for the win.

The Mounties, no slouches at this business of winning, took their seventh straight—five of them from a helpless Sacramento.

Another newcomer to the PCL, Tom Agosta late of Louisville, homered for Sacramento's second and final run in the third. Winner George Bamberg went the distance giving up eight hits. Sacramento led 2-0 going into the fourth, but a two run homer by Jim Marshall tied it up, and Marshall scored again in the sixth to win the game.

The Rainiers took their win on a wild pitch in the first and a walk with the bases loaded in the fourth to score the winning run. Seattle collected eight hits—three by Ed Basinski—to take the series, 3-2. A trio of singles by Leo Rodriguez, Bill Causion and Bill Hall gave the Stars their only tally.

All four runs in the game at Portland were made on three homers. Luis Marquez started the scoring for the Beavers, slamming one out of the park in the fourth. But Bob DiPietro came along to blast one in the seventh with one on, and another in the ninth with the bags empty. And that was the game.
