

Festival Has Art Exhibit

Ashland—Theatre-goers at the Oregon Shakespearean Festival in Ashland are enjoying another added feature this year. An art exhibit has been added to the list of attractions. The pictures are displayed against the outside wall near the backstage entrance to the Elizabethan theatre.

Showing works in oil, watercolor, and various other media are Michael Thorniley of Talent, Warren Wolf of Medford, and Steve Bayless of Ashland. The work of all three painters is in the contemporary manner. A new exhibiting facade has been constructed for the showing, placed just a few steps past the theatre's main gate.

Warren Wolf, head of the art department at Medford High school, has studied at the University of Oregon and the Kansas City Art Institute, and has had one-man shows at several galleries, including the Portland Art Museum and Lawrence Galleries in Kansas City.

Michael Thorniley, a former student at the University of California, Scripps college, and the California College of Arts and Crafts, has enjoyed a wide exhibition of his works, including showings at the Laguna Art Festival, Oregon Artists annual, and the National Orange show.

Steve Bayless, now art instructor at Southern Oregon college, has studied at the University of Oregon and Washington State college, and has exhibited his works at the Portland Art Museum, Southern Oregon college, and Eastern Oregon college.

Hoppes Entertain Shipmates Class

Thirty-six members of the Shipmates class of First Methodist church met in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoppe Friday evening for a potluck supper.

After the supper, Mrs. Claudia Gass, skipper of the class, presided at a short business meeting. Mrs. Clarence Jordan reported a shortage of dish towels and hot dish mats at the church camp on Dead Indian. It was voted to remedy this need by having each member of the class make one and have it ready for use next summer.

Mrs. R. E. Waldron of Vallejo, Calif., was welcomed as the only out of town guest. She is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. E. Brockaway, Stewart avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Basore were greeted on their return from a year in California.

Games were played as a finish to a pleasant evening.

Society

Service League Has Annual Party

Junior Service league held the annual summer party Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graff on Hillside drive. About 70 attended. The summer party is the only social function of the year which the league gives for members and their husbands.

Mrs. Floyd Baker was chairman, with Mrs. Philip Lowery assisting her.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Field, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mickelson, Allan Hunt and Miss Katherine Cass of Elizabeth, N.J. The Mickelsons recently came to Medford from Eugene, and Mrs. Mickelson, formerly a member of the Eugene Junior Service league, has been invited to transfer to the Medford league.

Veterans Awarded Auxiliary Prizes

Camp White — Prizes furnished by Medford unit of the American Legion auxiliary were awarded to high scoring veterans for the month of July at the last meeting of Camp White Veterans' Bridge club. They went to Tom Randall, first; Tom Munds, second; and William Hickey, third.

Mrs. George B. Dean and Mrs. Fred Purdin were hostesses for the evening, and served refreshments following cards.

North-south winners were Mrs. Frank Baker and Roy Pruitt, first, 125 points; Mr. Hickey and William Isaacs, second, 121½; Mrs. Davenport and Mrs. Walker, Grants Pass, third, 120½; the Howard Boyds, fourth, 119 points.

Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Purdin scored 142½ points to lead east-west winners. Other winners were the Jack Mitchells, second 130½; the Berg Martens, third, 127; and Mrs. Randall and Arthur Scarseth, fourth, 124 points.

Camp White club plays each Friday night.

Family Returns

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton McConnell and two children arrived in Medford last week from Elk City, Okla., and are at home at 211 West Jackson street. Mr. McConnell will be employed in the Morton Mill, where he formerly worked.

CALENDAR

6:30 p.m.—Medford Toastmistress, home of Mrs. Charles Thatcher, 210 Beatty st.

Eagle Point Group Sets Installation Saturday Evening

Eagle Point — Eagle Point Jayettes will hold installation of officers Saturday, August 17, at 8 p.m. at the Teenage club on B street in Eagle Point. Central Point Jayettes will conduct the ceremony.

Dancing, refreshments and games will follow the ceremonies. The entertainment will be in the carnival theme, and a clown will greet guests as they arrive at the hall.

All Junior Chamber of Commerce members and their friends are invited to attend.

New Players Win Honors at Bridge

Two new players won first place for the Riverside Bridge club's master play last Wednesday afternoon. Winners were Mrs. Sam Richardson and Mrs. William Knope, playing east-west positions.

Other high scores were: North-south, Dr. and Mrs. George B. Dean, first; Mrs. Frank R. Baker and Paul Hatton, second; Mrs. Howard Boyd and Roy Pruitt, third; Mrs. Hatton and Al Gihoussen, fourth.

East-west winners were Mrs. B. B. Hughes and Mrs. Walter Lee and Mrs. Mary Trout, third; Mrs. Oda Thomas and Mrs. J. J. Beaman, fourth.

Family Leaves After Stay Here

Mrs. Sam Maddux Jr., and her three children, Michael, Jimmie and Sara, left Friday after spending two weeks here with Mrs. Maddux parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Collins, 164 Black Oak drive. The family will be joined at Albuquerque, N.M., by Brigadier General Maddux of the United States Air Force and will then continue to San Antonio, Tex.

General Maddux has been transferred from a California field to Randolph field, Texas.

Salad

Dissolve lime gelatin in hot water and add 2 tablespoons fresh lime or lemon juice and some finely chopped fresh mint. When thickened, fold in well-drained canned fruit cocktail and a sliced banana. Chill in square pan, and slice to serve on crisp lettuce.

Beets

Blend 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ½ teaspoon paprika, and ½ teaspoon salt together and heat. Pour this mixture over 1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) small whole beets, drained, and cook until the beets are hot.

Oregon Legionnaires Select Salem Man

Eugene — Some 1000 delegates to the annual Oregon American Legion convention here wound up their four-day convalesce Saturday with the election of officers.

Charles "Chuck" Huggins, Salem, succeeds Portland attorney Don Eva as department commander, and George Nelson, of Portland, was elected vice commander.

Karl Wagner, Eugene, was re-elected national executive committee member for Oregon.

The American Legion ladies auxiliary voted Mrs. Anson Ingle, Salem, president, and Mrs. Muriel Acton, Portland, vice president. Mrs. Grover Francis, Portland, was elected secretary and Mrs. McKinley Kane, Dundee, treasurer.

Division Which Helped Shape American History Dying in Korea; Rest Earned

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Correspondent

New York — An old friend is dying in Korea. This friend is not a person—although to some it seemed, through two wars, to have an individuality of its own and to act on its own like a matter of fact, just a number.

But it helped shape American history from the day the bombs fell at Pearl Harbor to the end of the fighting in Korea.

The 24th Infantry Division is heading for a rendezvous with oblivion. The body of men and equipment serving under that name in Korea will be redesignated as the 1st Cavalry Division, and army personnel of the 1st Cavalry in Japan will be removed from that country and reassigned elsewhere.

Shoved on Shelf

Then the name "24th Division" will be quietly shoved onto the shelf. The U. S. Army will remove the name from its active list.

When the little enemy planes came in from the sea at first light of Dec. 7, 1941, the 24th was near Pearl Harbor and suffered minor casualties.

The rain was torrential on the marshes when the 24th seized the Hollandia airdrome in New Guinea and the jungle was crawling with biting, stinging bugs. The rainy season was on, too, for the landing at Red Beach on Leyte, and the 24th drove up Leyte Valley and took Breakneck Ridge in agonizing fighting.

Elements of the 24th fought all over the Philippines, and in February, 1945, one of its battalions landed against heavy opposition on the rock of Corregidor and helped paratroops deliver that tiny fortress into more into American hands.

The division fought across tropical Mindanao in the Philippines, stormed Davao, cleared Libby airdrome in May, and continued patrol action even after Japan's surrender officially ended the war.

Remember the start of the Korean war, and the early, desperate days when American ground troops were first sent there? That was the 24th U. S. Division. Outnumbered by the Communist attackers, the 24th attempted to withdraw at Taegon, broke into scattered elements, and its commander, Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, was captured.

Then came the holding action, then the long drive north, and when the Chinese Communists entered the Korean war late in 1950, the 24th Division was within seven miles of the Yalu river.

In multiple advances and retreats the road signs bearing the code name of the division were familiar sights up and down the shattered length of Korea. In all, the division attacked north across the 38th Parallel three separate times.

Just a name... a number... under which many thousands of young men have served, sweated, ached, bled, died. It was a restless, moving, fighting name. It earned retirement. Let it rest.

Around Hollywood

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Correspondent

Hollywood — Anthony Perkins hitchhiked to Hollywood from Broadway two years ago. In two months Tony, now a top cinema heart-throb, will return to the stage—and will live in the same $50-a-month apartment.

While many young stars talk in vain of going back to the true-blue art of the theater, Tony is one who actually is giving up movies for a year to act on the stage in "Look Homeward, Angel," at one-fourth his usual salary.

He lived in a $50-a-month apartment during his days on the stage — in "Tea and Sympathy" his first play that brought him to Hollywood stardom in "Friendly Persuasion." "Unchanged by Success"

"And in October I'll be back in that same $50-a-month apartment—I've always kept it," grinned Tony showing that fan magazine layouts and autograph hounds haven't changed him.

Instead of hitch-hiking, however, Tony will drive cross-country in his sports car, top down, guaranteeing a crowd of eager girls at gas stations in a dozen states.

Tony's Broadway return is unique. For the first time an actor who has been signed for a picture is going to New York to star in the stage version first.

Paramount bought the film rights to the book "Look Homeward, Angel" seven years ago, but the script gathered dust because no young actor could be found to play the central character in the Thomas Wolfe classic.

Fireplace-Furnace Invented by Local Man

Philip L. Burns, Home Owners' specialties, Medford and Ashland, has invented a fireplace-furnace that gives 24-hour automatic floor level heat from wood.

Burns, who is owner of the "floor flo fireplace unit," reports that the open front fireplace will warm up to four large rooms for 24 hours on one fueling during cold weather.

The steel unit, Burns said, may be included in the favorite masonry and brick mason of the home owner. He said that the fireplace-furnace will perform as a modern wood furnace.

GOODBYE WITH THE CHIPS

St. Joseph, Ind. — A pair of bandits played an ace-in-the-hole at a card game Saturday. The surprised card players surrendered $850 when the two robbers entered and flashed a pistol, which took the pot.

APPEARS WEDNESDAY—The "Be-Bop-a-Lulu" singer, Gene Vincent, will appear at the new Medford Armory Wednesday, Aug. 14, for a show and dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets are on sale at Swem's.
