

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

With the passing of Fireman Sims there is not a man alive who was present at the wreck of the Cannonball Express in which the great engineer, Casey Jones was killed. So I note it said. That's wrong. Thomas J. O'Farrell of De Ridder, La., now 82, was there. In fact, he informed the Illinois Central Railroad of the death of Casey Jones. Incidentally, Mr. O'Farrell says the original version of the immortal ballad titled "Casey Jones" was composed by two Negro railroad workers named Andy Cal and Spay Dickson. He knows because, attracted by the song, he typed the first copy. It was not copyrighted by the original authors. Laurence Seibert and Eddie Newton copyrighted it in 1909 and made plenty from it in royalties. Sidelights Pat Meagher of New York City has been a member of the Typographical Union known as "Big Six" for 68 years. If that isn't the record for long membership in the same union, what is? ... What's your nomination for the most beneficial and outstanding invention of the past 80 years? How about the telephone being rated that honor?

Passing By Allyn Whalen, Red-haired industrial designer. In originating the color scheme for the Roosevelt Raceway "Dream Track" interiors, Allyn is said to have used 203 different colors. That certainly is a lot of different colors. I can only think of 162 different colors. Anyway, my favorite color is still blue. And the color I like least is that curious shade called "shocking pink."

Curious Food Demand for curious food seems countrywide. Nino's Restaurant, Westbury, L. I., features and reports a consistent demand for French Fried Grasshoppers, Alligator Soup and Sherry Kangaroo Tail soup and Fried Agave Worms on toast. Did you hear about the Londoner who sought to baffle a restaurant which boasted of the variety of its menu items. "Elephant Steak, well done," he said to the waiter. "African or Indian elephant, sir," said the waiter without batting an eyelash. "Indian elephant," said the man. Shortly after the waiter returned saying: "Am sorry, sir, but I am afraid you will have to take African elephant. It is near closing time and the chef is reluctant to start cutting up another Indian elephant for just one order."

Vocalists Why do male vocalists dominate the best selling phonograph record lists? At times not one feminine singer appears in the top 10 record sellers. The answer seems to be that the great majority of record buyers are young women. They are not particularly attracted by the vocalizing of females. They want male singers who can give them that "thrilling" feeling.

Fiery Redhead Reference to Amelia Bloomer speaks of her "native Boston." Amelia was born in Haverhill, N. Y. Her maiden name was Jenks. She married one Dexter C. Bloomer. She was a fiery redhead and campaigned, as you know, for dress reform for women which included wearing that curious style of trousers known as "bloomers." This brings to mind there was once a semi-professional, all-female baseball club known as "The Bloomer Girls." It was often claimed this club used ringers, that is, men players, especially pitchers, who impersonated women. But that is another story.

Globe Trotter Queen Elizabeth of England has become quite a globe trotter. She hasn't broken Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's record yet but she is still a young woman. In comparison, Queen Victoria who enjoyed a very long life rarely left home. Farthest she ever traveled was to Florence, Italy. She was fond of the Irish and so went to Cork once and Dublin once.

TOWN HOLDS FETE Guilford, Vt.—The population of Guilford, 1,600 strong, turned out Sunday for a mammoth "all-day" barbecue arranged by farmer Warren Franklin to honor the return of his 21-year-old identical twin sons, Alfred and Wilfred, from the Army. Franklin's neighbors bought tickets to the barbecue at $3 each when Franklin was unable to finance by himself a 2,600-pound Holstein steer, 3,000 pounds, 3,000 ears of corn 500 pounds of potato salad 200 bottles of beer and soda pop and "lots of ice cream for the children."

FREE SAMPLE Benton Harbor, Mich.—Police Saturday waited for an artistic prankster to claim his macabre handiwork left outside a local mortuary. A man's head, sculptured from clay, was found outside the mortuary with a 12-inch knife plunged into the top of the skull.

Youngster Rescues Girl From Drowning

Portland — A 14-year-old boy from Long Beach, Calif., David Stanton, Sunday saved a three-year-old girl from drowning during a family picnic at Laurelhurst park.

Mrs. A. D. Hinman, Portland, said her daughter Jill had been playing near the pond in the park when the child toddled too near the edge, fell in and disappeared beneath the water.

The Stanton youth, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Keyes of Fosfil, saw the girl go under and leaped into rescue her.

40 Persons Poisoned At Company Picnic

Sandusky, Ohio — The last of some 40 persons stricken with ptomaine poisoning during a company picnic were to be released from the hospital today.

All the victims were employees of the American Electrical Corp., Mansfield, Ohio, sponsors of the outing at nearby Clear Grove.

Authorities said the poisoning was believed to have been caused from deviled eggs prepared by families in Mansfield Friday night and not eaten until Saturday afternoon.

A SWITCH AT SLEEP Owosso, Mich. — A man who nonchalantly stripped off his clothes and went to sleep in front of a bus station had other sleeping quarters Saturday. A municipal judge sentenced William Monroe, 39, to 20 days in jail, for indecent exposure.
