

Communism Must Die 'On Cross of Shame,' Former Yugoslav Official Declares

New York — Milovan Djilas, a former vice president of Yugoslavia, today described the Communist state as one that corrupts itself.

He said communism must die "on a cross of shame" because it is a monstrous delusion.

Djilas, a close friend of Marshal Josip Broz Tito until he demanded too much freedom from the Communist despotism he helped impose on his own countrymen, throws some of history's most crushing blows at Communism in his book, published today "The New Class — An Analysis of the Communist System."

Smuggled out of prison where he is serving a three-year term, Djilas' testament is a strong indictment of the system to which he devoted his life. Djilas was a hero of the movement whose brutal frauds he now dissects.

The Communist state is "one which corrupts itself... the true Communist is a mixture of a fanatic and an unrestrained powerholder... the thirst for power is insatiable and irresistible among Communists."

In such phases, Djilas reveals the inner working of communism and its creation of a "new class" of oligarchs, "wading in the blood of every adherent of the communist idea" and fattening on the slave labor of the betrayed masses who followed them.

Communist power, Djilas writes, brought "the most refined tyranny and the most brutal exploitation" wherever it emerged. It has become the "yoke from under which the blood and sweat of all members of society flow."

Communist tyranny is "the assurance of the deprivations and privileges of a new class," he says, for "the Communist revolution, conducted in the name of doing away with classes, has resulted in the most complete authority of any single new class. Everything else is sham and an illusion."

"History will pardon Communists for much," Djilas declares, "establishing that they were forced into many brutal acts because of circumstances and the need to defend their existence. But the stifling of every divergent thought, the exclusive monopoly over thinking for the purpose of defending their personal interests, will nail the Communists to a cross of shame in history."

Accident Reported to Ashland City Police

Ashland—Two cars collided on a downtown street here Saturday afternoon, according to city police.

According to the report, cars were being driven west on "C" st. by John Phillip Selby, 22, of 461 Walker ave., and Donna Vedell Willard, 29, of Portland.
