Paul Reinhardt On Program For National Session

Paul D. Reinhardt, instructor in the drama department of the school of speech at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., and former costumer and actor at the Oregon Shakespearean Festival, will attend the national convention of the American Educational Theatre association in Boston, Mass., August 25 through 29. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Reinhardt and daughter, Anne.

Mr. Reinhardt will be one of the speakers on a panel discussion, "Color in Theatrical Design: Organization for Expressive and Aesthetic Values." His particular topic is "A Costume Designer's Approach." Mrs. Reinhardt, the former Miss Clara Daniels, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Daniels, 407 Park street, Medford. She was a leading actress with the Festival for several years in Ashland.

BPWC Members To Return Today

Three members of the Medford Business and Professional Women's club will return today from The Dalles where they attended an executive board meeting of the organization.

Members who drove to The Dalles yesterday for the meeting were Miss Voda Brower, president of the local group, Miss Laura York, past state president, and Mrs. Harriet Watson, district president.

Meeting Announced By Rebekah Lodge

Olive Rebekah lodge will meet Monday, August 19, at 8 p.m. at the Odd Fellows hall. Hostesses will be Mrs. Donald Ivie, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Lola Wilson, Mrs. Eva True, and Mrs. Riley Applegate.

Cash vs. Credit Discussed by Speakers' Club

Mrs. Arnold Bohnert was moderator for a panel discussion on "Cash versus Credit Buying" at the last meeting of the Medford Toastmistress club. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thatcher Monday evening following a picnic supper. Husband of club members were guests.

Other panel members were Mrs. Roy Rolls and Mrs. Thatcher, who spoke for cash buying, while Mrs. Ethel McIntyre told what credit buying had done for the average person.

Mrs. Wallace Haskins gave the educational talk which was the history of the Medford club. The club was started in 1950 to promote interest in correct speech and parliamentary procedure.

Mrs. Clarence Redmond was topicmistress and used articles chosen at random from a sale catalog as subjects for the topics. Others participating in the program were Mrs. Clarence Wilson who gave the invocation; Mrs. Don Bergman, speech evaluator; Mrs. Harry Marshall, timer; Miss Irene Barclay, lexicologist, and Mrs. John Marler, program evaluator.

The next meeting will be held Monday, September 9, at the new Girls Community club. Guests at the last Monday meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chandler.

Two New Members Announced by Lodge

Mrs. J. C. Langston was initiated at the last meeting of the Women of the Moose and Mrs. Dee Stradford had her membership transferred from the Roseburg Moose Lodge to the local group.

A film was shown for the Mooseheart Alumni chapter night program. The Moose picnic was held at TouVelle park last Sunday with many families and friends of lodge members attending.

Visitors Leave After Brief Stay

Mrs. C. C. Leonard, Portland, her daughter, Mrs. Marvin Rosette and son, Stephen Douglas, Salem, left for their homes Saturday morning after a brief stay in Medford. They motored north with Mr. Rosette who arrived Friday.

While here Mrs. Leonard was a guest of Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Van Valzah, 15 Geneva street. The Leonards and their daughter formerly lived in Medford.

Group to Attend Oregon Festival; Events Planned

Four women, all members of the Portland Altrusa club, will arrive in the valley today accompanied by Mrs. Freda Cowling, club editor for the Portland Oregonian, to spend a week in the area. They plan to attend the five Shakespearean plays, Festival lectures, and take tours.

This will be the third trip the Festival enthusiasts have made to the valley. They include Miss Adeline Kendall, owner of the Adeline Kendall Handicrafts shop; Miss Pearl Base, assistant vice president of the First National Bank of Portland; Mrs. Ruth Kennedy, director of arts and skills for the Red Cross in Portland; and Mrs. Marguerite Spicker, radiological technician.

The Medford Altrusa club members plan to attend as many plays with the visitors as possible and have scheduled three social events so members will have an opportunity to meet them.

A no host dinner will be held at Mon Desir Inn, Central Point, Tuesday evening. Reservations may be made through Mrs. Julie Tummers at the Inn. Thursday, August 22, a no host luncheon will be given by the club at 12:15 p.m. at the Rogue Valley Country club. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Adriene Dippel who is hostess for the event. Friday evening the group will dine at the Ashland Elks club prior to the play "Pericles." Mrs. Maisie Daly or Mrs. Maude Coddington are making the arrangement for the evening.

Mrs. Enid Rankin, president of the Medford Altrusans, recently entertained the membership at a dessert in her garden in honor of Miss Grace Smith, former president, who recently returned from a trip east where she attended the International Convention of Altrusa as a delegate.

During the evening Miss Smith reported on the convention held in New Orleans. One of the international officers elected at the meet was Dr. Loretta Miller of Ellenburg, Wash., twelfth district past governor, who was named second vice president.

Miss Smith has accepted a position as a county home extension agent in the extension service of Washington state. Miss Smith was given a past service status and a leave of absence by the local group because of the years she served on the executive board and positions she held within the club. She is a charter member of the Medford club.

Crochet Contest Is Part of Fair

Salem — The Oregon State Fair is participating in a nationwide crochet contest open to all Oregon women for crochet work completed since January 1, 1957. Judges at the fair will award blue ribbons to the best piece in each of 16 classifications. These awards qualify the entries for the national judging in New York City.

First prize in the national contest is an all-expense trip to New York City with a four day stay at the world-famous Waldorf-Astoria, then to enchanted Bermuda on the S.S. Queen of Bermuda. This vacation trip is for two people, plus a thousand dollar cash prize.

In addition, cash awards will be made to the first three national prize winners in each classification, and 320 additional prizes will be awarded honorable mention winners.
