Senate Passes Bill Transferring Townsite

Washington — The Senate Tuesday passed and sent to President Eisenhower a bill by Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) to authorize transfer of the McNary dam townsite property, including project buildings, to an Indian tribe for use in establishing new industry.

Neuberger said that under the law, title to the property would pass to the tribe after it has executed a contract with an industrial enterprise providing employment for a reasonable number of Indians. At the end of the contract period, industry would have option to buy the property at appraised value.

The Oregon senator said several industries have indicated interest in using some of the surplus buildings and that "it is my hope that a Senate approval will clear the way for additional job opportunities in Umatilla county and stimulate industrial growth."
