Soldier Escapes When Train Makes Stop

Portland — A soldier escaped from military police on a northbound train at Troutdale early Tuesday, but two Multnomah county deputy sheriffs recaptured him within the hour. Wayne A. Ellison, 19, stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash., was being returned to the post on a desertion charge.

Ellison escaped when the train stopped at a signal at Troutdale.

SIX PERSONS KILLED

Buenos Aires — The Transport Ministry said today that six persons were killed and 23 others injured in the crack-up of an express train in a desolate region north of the town of Carmen de Patagones Tuesday.

APPLAGATE-JACKSONVILLE Jess to Speak at Grange

By HELGA MITCHELL
Applegate-Jacksonville — Bill Jess of Eagle Point, president of the Rogue Basin Water Resources and Flood Control association, will speak at a meeting of Upper Applegate Grange Friday, Aug. 23, according to Jim Corson, agriculture chairman for the Grange.

Jess will speak on the Rogue Basin development program, explaining its purposes, how it is organized, and will invite opinions from those attending the meeting. Grange members have urged attendance by all interested persons in the Applegate valley, where one of the proposed dams may be built. The meeting will open at 8 p.m.

LOVING'S EXPENSIVE

Washington — Rep. John F. Baldwin Jr. (R-Calif.) says he is awaiting with "real interest" response from his constituents to union plea that they write him in support of a proposed bill. Baldwin said a union newsletter in his district urged voters to send letters to Washington protesting "rising loving costs."

Hearse Transportation Found Quite Practical

Hightstown, N.J. — Most people who ride in hearses have their money worries behind them, but for John Shortridge the vehicle offers a custom ride at a popular price. Shortridge recently returned to his former home in Indiana in a 1941 (Cadillac) hearse which he purchased for $100. He does not feel any sense of uneasiness about riding in the hearse. "Old hearses are cheap, there is lots of room in them and they are in good shape because they have not been handled roughly," Shortridge said. Shortridge and his wife think so much of the hearse that their current one is their second. The first they used as their honeymoon vehicle. The couple also has a Volkswagen that they use for short trips when around home, but they insist you can't beat a hearse for high class travel.
