DON'T WASTE A DROP

New York—When preparing a chicken for chicken salad, boil the fowl whole in water with celery, tops, an onion, parsley and a dash of nutmeg. Cool in the same broth. Later, for a tasty soup, mix the broth with tomato juice.

Your dressing table is easier to keep clean if you keep your face powder in a decorative salt shaker. The shaker dusts out the right amount of powder on the puff without spillage.

Screams and Spike Heels Said Girls Best Defense

By GAY PAULEY

New York—A woman's best defense against a mugging is her scream. Speedy use of spike heels also helps.

"Yell at the top of your lungs," said Edna Fitzgerald, on New York City's force of 249 policewomen for six years. "This usually frightens the assailant and brings help. But so many women don't even think of it."

"As for the use of the heel," she continued, "most muggings are from behind. Often a girl can push her foot backward and scrape a spike down her assailant's shin. That's real agony for him, believe me. It may give the girl a chance to break free."

Miss Fitzgerald, Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm and I were talking about safety of a woman in a big city. Particularly in New York, crowded with women who have moved here from other parts of the country.

The city in recent weeks has had a wave of teen-age crimes, from murder to purse-snatchings, giving many of us a case of nerves. In one instance, this week, two young television actresses were attacked by a teen-aged youth who brandished a homemade weapon called a zip-gun. One of the girls screamed, the other kicked and clawed, and when the youth ran, both trailed him until they located a patrolman.

Commissioner Arm insisted that such incidents are "sporadic and isolated" in this city of eight million people. "It is any comfort to the folks back home, their daughters are as safe here, as in any other town. Probably safer," he said.

But he added that crime is on the increase nationally; that felonious assaults, which include muggings, are up everywhere.

Would training in judo help protect the weaker sex?

"I doubt it," said policewoman Fitzgerald, who is sitting in while the boss, Mrs. Teresa Melichone, is on vacation. "Unless a woman has had extensive training, that is. A little judo knowledge can be a dangerous thing."

Carry A Police Whistle

She suggested the best protective measures, applicable in any town:

—Don't get friendly with strangers; be careful in choice of new friends.

—Carry a police whistle in your purse. Or make one of those small buzzer alarms part of your purse equipment. When set off, the alarm can be heard for blocks.

—Never hesitate even in a large city to stop at a house or apartment building and ask to use a telephone to call police, if you sense that someone is following you.

—Don't carry large sums of money. And don't let shoulder strap bags dangle. Keep hand on handbag, "else you're an open invitation to a purse snatcher," said the policewoman.

—Don't travel alone at night. Pair up with a friend even for a short walk home from the bridge club or PTA meeting.

—At home, don't open the front door unless you're sure who is ringing. Miss Fitzgerald said a door equipped with safety "peep hole" and inter lock and

Plaque Awarding System Explained

A system for awarding bronze plaques to companies which contribute to the United Medford Crusade was explained at a recent meeting of city and county businessmen.

Representing the UMC were Robert Johnson, general chairman; James Rowan and Elliott Becken.

Plaques will be available to companies which have 20 or more permanent employees, with at least 80 per cent of the employees contributors and at least 50 per cent fair share contributors. A "fair share" is not less than one hour's pay per month for 12 months.

Many organizations have agreed to incorporate the payroll deduction plan which will set aside a portion of employees' paychecks each month for their UMC contributions.

Each company has been asked to select a committee of employees to visit UMC board members and hear the crusade's procedures and purposes. A colored training film has been prepared by the crusade speakers' bureau and will be shown at company meetings.

chain should be a routine precaution. "It used to be," she said, "that no woman would be caught out alone without a big hatpin. Maybe we should revive it."

Superglow fluid make-up

containing Lumium

No words can tell the radiance that shines through this revolutionary new make-up, thanks to Lumium.

A fluorescent quality in Lumium makes the skin reflect rather than absorb light rays, giving the skin a brilliant and luminous candlelight look and a warm loveliness that is practically incandescent. Superglow fluid make-up combines also other beautifying ingredients—G62, a self-sterilizing factor, and Vitamin A to combat dryness. Use in connection with Superglow face powder.
