

San Diego Nips Seals in 10; Angels Smash Solons, 8-3

San Diego, Calif.—Albie Pearson, who stands five feet six inches, Saturday banged out a bases-loaded 10th inning home run to give league-leading San Francisco a 6-2 win over San Diego in a Coast League game.

The game had been delayed for two hours and four minutes because of a heavy down-pour. The victory gave the Seals a 2-0 lead in the two clubs' current series.

San Francisco took a 1-0 lead in the first inning, but the Padres tied it up on Dave Pope's homer in the sixth. Each team added a run in the next inning, San Diego's coming on Allen Jones' home run.

Kiely Wins 20th
The win went to lefthanded Leo Kiely (20-4), who came in in the eighth to relieve 18-year-old Bill Prout. Prout started against 20-year-old Gary Bell, who went the distance and took his fourth loss against one win.

Bell could take comfort in the fact that until he walked Grady Hatton in the seventh, he had retired 17 Seals in a row. He began setting 'em down after the first inning score.

It's be R. W. Smith (11-10) and Tom Hurd (9-6) for San Francisco tomorrow and Jim (Mud Cat) Grant (16-6) and Bill Werle (8-7) for San Diego. The doubleheader will wind up the series.

Los Angeles—Tom Lasorda, backed up by home run hitting by Bob Jenkins, Jim Fridley and Steve Bilko, pitched an eight hitter today as the Los Angeles Angels dumped the Sacramento Solons, 8-3, in a Pacific Coast league contest at Wrigley Field.

Lasorda struck out five batters and walked only two in gaining the victory, his sixth of the season. He has lost 10. Loser Roger Bowman (5-11) started for the Solons but needed help from Carl Green in the third.

The victory gave the Angels a 2-0 edge over the Solons in the current series.

Bilko Hits 56th
Bilko's homer, his 56th of the year, came in the sixth inning and was a tremendous drive over the rightfield screen. It tied the Angel club record for homers, set in 1935 by Gene Lillard, and left Bilko only four roundtrippers behind the league record of 60.

Jenkins collected his homer in the second, bringing in the first Angel tally. It was his 10th homer of the year.

Fridley's round tripper was his 13th of the year and came in the fourth with Bilko aboard on a walk.

The other four Angel tallies came in the third inning on four singles and two walks.

Sacramento scored twice in the first inning when Jim Westlake hit his fifth homer of the year with Tom Agosta aboard by a single. The other tally came in the fifth when Agosta hit his fourth homer of the season.

The series winds up tomorrow with a doubleheader. Sacramento will start Bud Watkins (7-9) and Earl Harist (5-11) against the Angels' Connie Grob (5-3) and John Jance (8-11).

Yank Injury List Grows

Washington—Yogi Berra, with a thumb injury suffered Friday night against Washington, joined Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer on the New York Yankee list of out-of-action players.

Berra's right thumb was struck by a foul tip off the bat of Truman Cleveland in the first inning, but he remained in the game after the thumb was "frozen" by medicine painted on. However, the thumb was extremely sore today and he will miss at least the remainder of the series at Washington.

Mantle is at a New York hospital for a five day rest which it is hoped will cure his shin splints — painful leg troubles caused by a pulling-away of the muscles from the bone and Bauer is sidelined by a thumb injury suffered a week ago.

Rams Down Cleveland

Los Angeles — Coach Sid Gillman's Los Angeles Rams, true to pre-game predictions, today held their second straight pre-season victory in two years over the Cleveland Browns, after downing the Browns 20-14 in a professional football exhibition game.

It was the Rams' driving ground offensive and its stars Tank Younger and Tommy Wilson which undid Cleveland before 45,011 fans Friday night in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

But the seven-point favorites had to come from behind to claim the victory. They trailed 7-6 at halftime before unleashing a final two-touchdown attack.

Wenatchee — Chico Alvarez homered in the sixth inning Friday night as Wenatchee edged Eugene, 5-4, and evened the series at two games each in the Northwest League title play-offs.

Miceli Puts Saxton Into Retirement

Washington — Joe Miceli of Brooklyn claimed the right to a shot at the welterweight crown because he had beaten ex-champion Johnny Saxton into retirement.

Saxton, 27, announced his retirement Friday, after suffering a fourth-round technical knockout in the TV fight with Miceli before 1,600 at the New Capitol arena. The ex-champ from New York was attempting a comeback.

Saxton, apparently "washed up" was on the canvas five times although Referee Charley Reynolds designated only two trips as official knockdowns. They were in the first and third rounds.

"I sent him into retirement," said 26-year-old Miceli. "That was something champion Carmer Basilio couldn't do. I've earned a shot at Basilio, or if Basilio wins Ray Robinson's mid-dleweight crown, I should be high in the tourney for Basilio's vacant title."

Squad Mix Ends Week For Crater

Central Point — An intrasquad engagement last night wrapped up the opening week of drill for the Crater High school grid aspirants.

The Comets enter the 1958 campaign, their second in Class A-1 with just a handful of lettermen and even fewer seasoned players. But Head Coach Leonard Warren is hopeful that his newest gridiron package will be a surprise one. He reported "a tremendous amount of improvement" in the past week.

Warren says that the Crater team is "going to be small." Top weight among linemen who showed best during the past week is 175 pounds. The starting line may average 170 pounds. In the backfield the Comets do have one experienced big man in Allen Barnes, 200-pound half-back who may be down to 190 or 195 pounds when the season is underway.

Kellow Does Well

Other returning players who saw considerable duty last year were Wayne Allen, quarterback and Jerry Kime, end. Lee Gossett was a regular defensive back. Randy Campbell, who has been switching between end and center, and Jim Goldenpenny, tackle, are linemen who lettered last year. Leslie Kellow, a senior, who gained a letter for three-year membership on the squad, has been shifted from back to guard and is doing well at his new spot.

Warren indicated that he is alternating Wayne Allen and Kerman Bennett between quarter and fullback posts to be utilized to the fullest abilities of each.

California Fair Sets Stock Race

Sacramento — Thirty late model stock cars were set to go to the post today for a 100 mile grind which will mark the final day of the 1957 California State Fair. Fair officials hoped the race, part of the NASCAR national championship series, would give the final day the necessary boost to assure a new attendance record.

Cincinnati Winner Over Portlanders

Billings, Mont. — Cincinnati, Ohio, weathered a ninth-inning desperation rally Friday night to down Portland, 8-6, and win a finals berth in the American Legion Little World Series.

Earlier Friday, Greer, S.C., eliminated Washington, D.C., 5-4, and went against Portland last night in a must-win contest for both clubs.

Portland was dormant for eight innings but jumped all over Cincinnati pitcher Gerald Drew and had a record crowd of 4,015 partisan fans cheering them on.

But Drew bore down and got Portland leftfielder John Simich on an infield grounder to end the game.

Vern Brazzle's triple was the big blow in the Oregonians' ninth.

Until the near-fatal ninth, Cincinnati was in command all the way. They jumped to a quick 2-0 lead in the first inning as they capitalized on the wildness of Portland starter Mickey Lolic.

Two more Ohio runs crossed in the third inning which featured a suicide-squeeze bunt by catcher Dick Kuehn, scoring Jack Horton from third and shortstop Ray Ruehl all the way from second.

PORTLAND OUSTED

Buena Vista, Calif. — Defending champion Orange, Calif., and Phoenix eliminated Portland, Ore. and Stratford, Conn., with identical scores of 1-0 in the Women's World softball tournament here Friday afternoon.

Don Carter Heads Pin All-America

Milwaukee — Don Carter, a member of the national match game champion Budweisers of St. Louis, Mo., was the leading vote-getter on the second annual All-America team announced today by Bowling Magazine, official publication of the American Bowling Congress.

With Carter on the first team are Dick Hoover, Akron, Ohio; Bill Lillard, Chicago; Dick Weber, a teammate of Carter, and Lou Campi, Dumont, N.J., the only one not on last year's first team.

On the second team are Buzz Fazio, Detroit; Jim Spaulding, Louisville, Ky.; Ray Bluth, St. Louis; Steve Nagy, Detroit and Tom Hennessey, St. Louis. Nagy was on the first team a year ago.

PHILS RECALL HURLER

Pittsburgh — The Philadelphia Phillies have recalled bonus pitcher Tom Qualters, McKeesport, Pa., from their Miami farm club in the International League to replace relief pitcher Bob Miller, who broke his wrist in a house-hold accident this week. Qualters, who signed for a reported $40,000 bonus more than two years ago, had an 11-12 won-loss record with the Marlins.

No Pro-Amateur Net Tests Rules Executive Group

Forest Hills, N. Y. — The U. S. Lawn Tennis association's executive committee Saturday ignored the recommendations of a special committee and voted against sanction of open tournaments which would allow amateurs and professionals to meet each other in regular play.

The five-man special committee, headed by Ed Turville of St. Petersburg, Fla., promptly resigned. It had studied the question for the past six months, and Turville said the committee had talked to players, tennis equipment manufacturers, sportswriters and fans, and had found overwhelming sentiment in favor of open tournaments.

However, the USLTA executive committee, by a reported vote of 20-12, decided against asking the International Tennis Federation to approve open play.
