Seaside Man Killed By Donkey Engine

Seaside — Donold Zum-euhl, 28, Seaside, was killed Saturday morning in a logging accident just south of here.

He was killed when a guy wire on a loading and yarding donkey engine broke and wrapped the man in cable between the drums causing the fatal injuries.

Zumeuhl was fastened so securely in the cable he had to be cut away.

He is survived by a wife and two children in Seaside.

Before the California gold rush of 1849, more gold was mined in North Carolina state than in any other state.

Ten-Year-Old Killed By Runaway Tractor

Eugene — Dennis Molenda, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Molenda, Bloomberg rd., rural rt., Eugene, died on his grandfather's farm 22 miles north of here Friday afternoon of injuries when a runaway tractor he had been driving overturned, pinning him beneath it.

Dennis and his grandfather, J. W. Nichols, had taken sacks of trash to the top of a hill where it was to be dumped. The boy had been driving the tractor, hauling a four-wheel trailer loaded with the sacks.

The grandfather told Lane county Coroner Fred Buell that he was unloading the sacks as the boy jockeyed the tractor around when the youngster apparently hit the clutch pedal instead of the brake. The tractor started down the hill, the boy still in the driver's seat.

It sped down the slope, Nichols said, and overturned on a 60-degree bank, pinning Dennis by one arm. Nichols said he was unable to lift the tractor, left the boy to find help and returned with two neighbors who raised it off the boy.

Buell said the boy died about the time the tractor was removed. He said the immediate cause of death was not known, but that there may have been internal injuries. An autopsy was to be held.

Hydro Potential High For Columbia Basin

Reno, Nev. — Dr. William Pearl, administrator for the Bonneville Power Administration in Portland told members of the Columbia Interstate Compact Commission Friday that Columbia river hydroelectric development and potential was the greatest of any similar area in the world.

Pearl said there were 19 hydroelectric projects under construction or scheduled for early construction in the Columbia River Basin. He said these would nearly double the already installed capacity of 6,500,000 kilowatts.

There are presently 105 Federal and non-Federal projects in the basin, which includes a portion of Northwestern Nevada, Pearl said. Nevada is considered an upstream state.

An explanation of the Power Pool was given by Marshall L. Blair of the Washington Power Co. He described the Pool as operating on an informal basis under sponsorship of the utilities and operated by their engineers. The Pool is used to provide power from many sources at locations where demands are the greatest at a given time.

The conference concludes today with reports of a special action study committee and a general discussion.

Teenagers Killed Enroute From Picnic

Mitchell, Ore. — Two teenage boys on their way home from a weiner roast about 10 p.m. Friday night were struck and fatally injured by a car driven by Wyatt Warrick, John Day, Day.

Killed were Jackie Osborne, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Osborne, Mitchell, and Robert Brantley, 15, son of the Rev. Brantley who moved to Mitchell only recently.

Authorities here said the Warrick car was travelling toward Mitchell from John Day. As it came around a sharp curve it struck the Osborne and Brantley boys and narrowly missed Bobbie Hale and Newt Harvin who had been on the same picnic. Warrick said the boys came into view too fast for him to avoid them after he saw them in the glare of his headlights.

He said the water was extremely rough at the time.
