

New Members Invited To Chamber Meeting

Newly-joined members of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce are being invited to attend a "new members indoctrination meeting" at noon Oct. 7, it was reported Thursday.

M. M. Huggins, president of the chamber, told a meeting of board members this morning the session will be in conjunction with the regular weekly chamber "Roundtable" meeting at the Jackson hotel that day.

The more than 80 new members will be invited to attend, and will be given explanations of the work being done by the chamber, invited to join in committee activity, and generally be given an idea of how the chamber serves the community.

The directors this morning also discussed the possibility of setting up a class of associate memberships, and heard Bill Williams, of the chamber's industrial committee, report on the meeting with the governor and his industrial development group here last week.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Reese Creek Renegades
The Reese Creek Renegades held a meeting Sept. 5 at the home of Kay Stevenson. We paid for the straw that we used at the fair. We saw the pictures that Mrs. Stevenson took of us at the fair.

The next meeting will be at Cliff Moore's Sept. 18. We decided to give a farewell picnic at Walchs lake for Sandra, a British girl who was in our club. Mrs. Stevenson, our host, served root beer floats.

Grange Notes

Shady Cove Grange
Shady Cove Grange met Saturday evening, Sept. 7, for the first time on their new meeting date with a good attendance.

Ed Houston and Mrs. C. Kee gave reports on the 4-H Fair. They are 4-H leaders.

John Miner reported that the coffee urn had arrived and was given to the fire department.

Ray Deister was elected to fill the vacancy on the executive board.

Mrs. Ola Houston reported for the HEC and appointed her committees for the coming "Fall Fiest of the Farm" turkey dinner which will be Sept. 22.

A personality-guessing game was part of the lecturer's program. Betty Dusenberry served the refreshments at this meeting.

The HEC met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Cross. At this meeting Mrs. Ola Houston gave the duties of each of the committees she had appointed at the Grange meeting.

The advertising chairman reported that notices had been sent to each Grange in the county and that posters would be placed in stores and other places by the end of the week.

Reed McKay took pictures of the Grange ladies attending this meeting. Mrs. Della Littlefield won the attendance prize.

Della A. Littlefield,
Publicity Chairman.

Patio Candles
For making patio candles, use straight-sided mayonnaise or peanut butter jars, weight the wick and tie to stick over mouth of jar. Melt paraffin or candle stubs at 175 degrees. Pour melted paraffin into jar, around the wick, keeping it in center as much as possible. Fill jar $\frac{3}{4}$ full and you'll have no trouble with flickering light on breezy nights.

The Family Council

Editors note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice; it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Pauline F.—My husband won't take responsibility.

Peter F.—There's nothing I can do to please her.

Pauline F.—What can I do with a husband who refuses to take responsibility?

I am 27, two years older than Pete, so perhaps he looks on me as the stronger, more mature one. Still, I don't think that's any excuse for his refusal to do such things as decisions on what to buy, dicker with workmen and hundreds of things that call for a little spunk. In the four years of our marriage, I have never known him to take on himself a responsibility that really affects our lives.

We have a two-year-old baby and we hope to raise a large family, so I am going to have enough to do taking care of them and the home. I'm tired of having the full burden for everything on my shoulders.

Peter F.—Pauline is constantly harping on what a real man would do in my place, but I sometimes think what a real man would do is shut her up somehow. Don't get me wrong, I love my wife, but she sure is hard to take at times.

Whatever I do, Pauline seems to think she has to do over. If I talk quietly to the landlord, she thinks he's taking advantage of me. So the next day, she'll talk to him in her own way—loud. Then she'll complain she has to do the dirty work.

The worst of it is there is nothing I can do to please Pauline. If I "take responsibility," I do the wrong thing. If I don't, I'm no man. What does my wife want?

The Council—A gentleman named Shakespeare may have given the answer to Peter's question "What does my wife want?" in a play called "The Taming of the Shrew."

The hero, Petruchio, having made up his mind to marry Kate, decided he was the man to tame her. "And bring you from a wild Kate, to a Kate comfortable as other household Kates."

He did it simply by insisting on being boss. If the sun was out and Petruchio said it was raining, Kate had to agree. If Petruchio decided that an old man was a beautiful young girl, Kate complimented the whiskered one on his delicate, girlish skin.

In the end, Kate wound up lecturing other women on their duty toward their husbands and expressing amazement that women should "seek for rule, supremacy and sway, when they are bound to serve, love and obey."

Japanese Strike To Retain Yankees

Tokyo — More than 3,000 Japanese, waving red flags, picketed the huge U. S. Air Force Base at Tachikawa Thursday in what amounted to a "don't go home, Yankee" demonstration.

The pickets, members of the Zenchuro National Garrison Workers union, staged the demonstration in protest against the feared unemployment which would follow the evacuation of U. S. troops from Japan.

The demonstration at Tachikawa was sparked by the issuance of dismissal orders to 575 Japanese employees.

The strike is schedule to end today.

Syrian Military Clique Conferring in Cairo

Leaders of the pro-Soviet Syrian military clique conferred in Cairo Thursday on what semi-official reports described as the "coordination of military plans" in the event of any attack on Syria.

The semi-official Mideast news agency said the Egyptian and Syrian military leaders discussed "coordination of Egypt's and Syria's military plans." They also made an "examination of the general military situation," it added.

Doris Duke Pays Back State Income Taxes

Sacramento, Calif. — Tobacco heiress Doris Duke has paid California $224,283 in back state income taxes for 1952 and 1953.

State Finance Director John M. Pierce, who described the settlement as a windfall for the state treasury, said Miss Duke will also pay interest of $50,000 on the sum.

The tax was based on an income of $3,735,000 received while Miss Duke was living in Los Angeles. Miss Duke claimed she was actually a resident of New Jersey.

Gross of State Fair Over Half Million

Salem — The 92nd Oregon State Fair grossed more than a half million dollars, Fair Manager Howard Maple has reported.

Actual cash received by the fair so far is $490,710, but an additional $70,000 is expected from concessions.

Included in the figure was the fair's $130,987 share of the total pari-mutuel take of $836,295.

Expenditures of the fair will not be computed until the annual State Fair Board meeting Oct. 21, Maple said. The fair staff is now working on their payroll.

Kiddieland receipts were down this year from $20,525 to $18,475. The pari-mutuel gross of $130,987 compared with $126,854 last year.

Admissions to the races, horse show-rodéo and night revue totaled $74,629, compared to $82,678 last year with the horse show accounting for most of the drop.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—FIVE

VA Reminds Vets to Use 'C' Number

Veterans writing to the Veterans administration about benefit claims or GI insurance policies should be sure to give benefit claim "C" numbers, S. T. Brannock, head of the Medford VA office, has announced.

Many names in the VA files are duplicated. About 30 million names are carried in the central file. Often the "C" number or insurance policy number is the main distinguishing factor between claims.

"Mystery mail" with no number listed comprises 10 per cent of letters received at the agency, Brannock said. These require additional correspondence or considerable checking to find the correct claims or policies. This is costly to the administration and prevents the veteran from receiving a prompt reply, Brannock stated.

Salem — A record wage total of $349,528,540 for privately employed workers was set during the first three months of this year, the State Unemployment Compensation Commission reported.

Georgia-Pacific Schedules Layoffs

Bellingham — About 270 men and women employed by the Georgia-Pacific Plywood Company plant here will be laid off around Sept. 20 "until further notice."

Plant manager Arthur Olson says the curtailment stems from plywood market conditions. He added that curtailment of the Bellingham plant operation will enable Georgia-Pacific to keep its Oregon mills on an operating basis.

Most of the firm's timber is situated in western Oregon. It has been the practice to tow peeler logs from various Oregon points to the Bellingham plant for milling.

Olson says negotiations are still underway to sell the Bellingham plant to an employee's cooperative headed by Ray Robbins of Robbins Plywood Co., Seattle.
