Congregational Starts Two Services

Sunday marks the beginning of the fall schedule at the Congregational church with two separate worship services and church school sessions. These are scheduled at 9:45 and 11 a.m.

The growth of the church made it necessary to hold two services last year. During the year the church school then grew so much that the facilities became overcrowded. This year there are to be two sessions of it as well.

Last Sunday the superintendent of the Sunday school, Mrs. Richard Travis, conducted promotion exercises, Sunday the classes will meet in regular sessions starting the new quarter's material.

The sermon by the Rev. Thomas McCamant will be on "Saving Money," second in a series on "Aspects of Salvation."

Adventists Schedule Week's Meetings

"The Master's Touch" will be the subject of the Missionary Volunteer meeting scheduled at 5:30 p.m. Saturday in the Medford Seventh-day Adventist church.

Regular meeting time for the Medford Pathfinders has been changed from Tuesday nights to Monday nights at 7:30. The group will meet at Rogue River Academy as usual. Members are preparing for the annual Pathfinder Fair to be held Oct. 6 at the Eugene Fairgrounds.

O. V. Fellows will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. worship service Saturday.

Adventists Explain Stand on Sunday Labor

"The Seventh-day Adventist church," Elder C. A. Scriven, president of the Seventh-day Adventist North Pacific Union conference, said recently, "stands for a complete separation of church and state."

"In several areas in the Northwest during recent months public statements of the Roman Catholic church have been followed by attempts to pass city and state laws forbidding business and secular labor."

He added that the Adventists do not challenge the right of the Roman Catholic church to advocate no work on Sunday as heretics of Catholicism. He explained that Adventists were opposed to any future attempt at legislation whose purpose is to enforce by law the closing of business on Sunday or any other day of the week.
