

Motorists Reminded Of School Bus Law

Salem—A stopped school bus along a highway means the same thing as a stop sign or a red light now that schools have resumed, the department of motor vehicle's traffic safety division has pointed out.

Every fall, the department said, it receives complaints from school bus drivers because motorists fail to obey the school bus stop law which has been in effect for about eight years.

The law, intended to protect school-age youngsters who must cross highways before boarding or after leaving a bus, requires drivers to stop when meeting or overtaking a school bus loading or unloading children on a two-lane highway.

"On roads with three or more lanes, drivers must stop only when going the same direction as the bus.

In either case, drivers must remain stopped as long as any children are leaving the bus or crossing the highway.

Sig Unander to Speak At Cave Junction Event

Taxes and the special session of the state legislature will be Unander's main topics. Members of the club and others interested in tax problems are asked to formulate questions which Unander will consider at the meeting.

McAndrews Road Is Resurfaced

The city has placed a two-inch cover of new topping on the section of McAndrews rd. between Court st. and Central ave., according to Public Works Director Vernon Thorpe.

He said the repair was routine and took about half a day to complete. The Jackson county paving machine was used and the city furnished trucks, oil, gravel and men to complete the project.

Thorpe said the county recently resurfaced the section of McAndrews rd. between Riverside ave. and Barnett rd.

Berry Growers Hold Woodburn Meeting

Woodburn — The first organizational meeting of the newly incorporated Northwest Berry Growers association was held here Thursday night as growers sought remedies to low 1957 harvest buying prices.

Some 400 Oregon and Washington growers attended.

Herb Steiner, Beavercreek grower, said he believed there was inequity between what growers received for their berries and what consumers paid on the retail level. "Somebody's making money and it sure isn't the farmer," he said.
