MOTHER AND DAUGHTERS
Mt. Pleasant, Mich. — When Sue and Sally Smith of Central Michigan College for the summer term didn't want to leave their mother behind. So Mrs. Lucille Smith, who teaches in Charlotte, joined her daughters on the campus and did advanced work on her teaching degree.

Rapid City, S. D. — Burglars who stole a display of silver dollars here will have to use elbow grease if they want to spend any of the money. The thieves broke open a rear door of the Silver Dollar Cafe and made off with 47 silver dollars mounted on a 16-foot board. Officials said the coins were polished on one side and tarnished on the other.

Parkinson's Disease

Perhaps 1,500,000 people are affected by Parkinson's disease which produces a mask-like face, perhaps a shaking hand or hands, or a curious stance with the body bent over and the hands near groin. The man may walk with short steps, and he may have a feeling as if there were glue in his muscles because they move so stiffly. Usually, these persons live on for a good many years, but many are unable any longer to do much work. Fortunately, in almost all cases, their minds remain clear and their judgment good. These persons will be interested to hear that there is now a National Parkinson's Foundation, with offices at 295 Central Park West, New York City. Mr. and Mrs. S. Jay Levy have dedicated themselves to helping forward research in the treatment of this trying disease.

In the cases of younger men, the trouble appears usually to be due to an attack of encephalitis (brain fever), while in older men the trouble often follows some "little strokes." There are a number of drugs that will sometimes help the tremor. In recent years, Dr. Irving S. Cooper, of New York City, has been trying to perfect a way of helping some of these patients by destroying, with a drop of alcohol, a tiny part of the brain. The use of this operation is limited largely to the type of Parkinson's disease which comes to young persons.

A New Drug Simulates The Effect of Electroshock

Recently, Dr. John C. Krantz, Jr., eminent professor of pharmacology (study of drugs) at the University of Maryland, announced the discovery of a new drug, Trifluorethyl ether, which when inhaled by a man or woman, produces a brief spell of anesthesia and a slight convulsion. The effect of this on depressed persons promises to be much the same as that of electroshock. The drug has been used in more than 275 treatments, given to more than 30 patients under the direction of Dr. Albert Kurland. The stuff is inhaled in tiny amounts. In about 20 seconds the patient becomes unconscious and in the next two minutes is slightly convulsed. After five or six minutes he regains consciousness, and in 15 or 20 minutes is able to walk back to his room. The drug is easy to administer, and the patients are not so afraid of breathing it as they are of taking the electroshock treatments.
